

Is a Paper Devoted to the Upbuilding of the Sandhill Territory of North Carolina

Address all communications to THE PILOT PRINTING COMPANY, VASS, N. C.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1924

SUBSCRIPTION $2.00

NIAGARA FOLKS SEE ALUMINUM WORKS

Beautiful Scenery on Way to Badin; Big Dam is Point of Interest

(MAUDE STEWART)

Last Sunday C. W. Marston, W. R. Wilson and Misses Warren and Stewart motored to Badin, N. C. An ideal day, good roads and interesting sights made the trip a pleasant and instructive one. A part of the way one found a winding, wooded road which added much to the beauty of the landscape and made one think of the Mohawk trail in Massachusetts. Owing to these many curves and carelessness on part of drivers, accidents are a

(Continued from page 3)

WAR VETERANS LOAN ACT TO BE VOTED ON

Will Be Great Aid to Ex-Service Men in Building Homes

(SHIELDS CAMERON)

The 1923 Session of the North Carolina General Assembly by passing the World War Veterans Loan Act made the first step of North Carolina Legislators in the direction of state aid to veterans of the World War. Other States have made adjusted compensation to their returned soldiers, many have given over public lands to the men who served in order that they might be in some measure rewarded for the sacrifices they had

(Continued on page 8)

NEW CANTATA FOR SANDILLS FAIR

Big Chorus Working on Selections From Gaul's "Holy City"

The most remarkable musical event Moore county has ever known was the singing by a big chorus from Southern Pines, Aberdeen, Carthage and elsewhere last fall of selections from the oratorios of Mozart, Handel and Haydn in the theatre at Pinehurst during the fair. This fall some of these choruses will be repeated, and along with them Mr. Picquet has had the big group working on Alfred R. Gaul's "Holy City," one of the most popular of the modern cantatas. While

(Continued on page 8)

A MONDAY RAMBLE IN MOORE COUNTY

Roads, Taxes, Welfare, the Court House and the Fair

(BION H. BUTLER)

When Brewer and I set out together for an adventure in the gas buggy we do not have to ramble far before we begin to encounter all the romantic adventure that mankind needs for the fullest diversification and entertainment. We concluded to go from Vass up by the highway toward Cameron and then cut across above Cranes Creek and hit the Carthage road at the McPherson farm. We deliberated a bit at the cut off as to whether it

(Continued on page 7.)

GEN. GLENN TALKS ABOUT PORT BILL

Thinks it Will Reduce Freight Rates by Increasing Competition

At the Kiwanis dinner Wednesday, General Glenn spoke to the club on the proposed port bill that is before the people for a vote at the coming election. He started out by showing that the railroads are not keeping up with the demand for facilities to move

(Continued on page 6)

PLAN OF COURTHOUSE SQUARE CARTHAGE, N. C.

One of the most interesting things the present board of county commissioners has done is award to J. W. Stroud & Co., of Sanford, the contract to pave and curb the court house square at Carthage. Francis Deaton has prepared for this work a detailed drawing, with a design that includes the court house and the vacant ground on all sides as well as the street on the entire distance around the building. This design has been carefully worked out, and is one of Deaton's best contributions to Moore county improvement. Walks, driveways, and spaces for planting, are laid down with careful mathematical precision, and the entire square, with the court house and the adjoining property treated as a single unit. When work is completed Moore county will have one of the most attractive court house locations to be found in the entire South. The cut tells the story better than any description can.