DEVELOPMENT ON DROWNING CREEK.

sylvania where game laws are enforced and the wild life multiplies amazingly. If necessary game reserves will be established where shooting will be prohibited absolutely at all times. Noxious animals and birds will be driven out by trapping and shooting in order that the desirable birds and animals may be made safe. Already traps are set for foxes, hawks and other marauders, with considerable success. The foxes caught will be sold to the hunt clubs.

Francis Deaton has been down and made a survey for a 30-foot road from the clay road into the heart of the property where the buildings are, and where more will be built. It is the plan to put up a dozen or more tenant houses of an excellent type of four rooms, and two of them are already built. They are of hollow tile, warm, roomy and comfortable, wholly different from the ordinary farm tenant house. J. W. Pickler is doing the building, and he is making a good job of it. He has also built two brick and stone houses for Mr. Cook and Mr. O'Quinn, who will live permanently on the property. These two houses are models of design and construction, with modern equipment and plans, and would be creditable types for any town house in the county. Stone from Colin Spencer's quarries are used in the work, with excellent skill in planning and placing them. Open fires, running water, tub and shower baths, stone porches, and largely fire-proof construction characterize the work and tell of the charm of living in such a house.

It is Mr. Johnson's intention to build on the place a little later a comfortable lodge for his own use, and he will make of the property a highly attractive North Carolina rural retreat. Lying close to Pinehurst it is destined to stimulate others to secure and improve rural Sandhills lands, probably meaning that a new attitude is to be taken in the furtherance of country life culture in the whole neighborhood. The coming of Eldredge Johnson to Drowning Creek is an important event in Sandhills development.

VETS URGED TO CONVERT POLICIES

them. As a matter of fact, lapsed policies mean loss to both policyholders and companies. WORST OF ALL THEY OFTEN SPELL DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

Life insurance policies are not merely SOUND INVESTMENTS; in the majority of cases they provide the SUREST form of PROTECTION for American families. Once a man has taken a life insurance policy every possible precaution should be used to keep it in force at its full value.

The 3,500,000 eligibles for this BARGAIN insurance are in a fortunate position. We hope they will take advantage of their EXTRAORDINARY OPPORTUNITY.

HELEY FISKE, President.

Resolution adopted by the executive committee of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, on March 5, 1926:

Whereas the time within which WAR Risk Yearly Renewable Term Insurance may be reinstated and converted expires July 2, 1926, and efforts are being made to urge service men of the World War to reinstate lapsed insurance and convert it to some permanent plan, the Executive Committee of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents reaffirms the resolution adopted at the 12th annual convention of the Association, on December 6, 1923, as follows:

Resolved, That the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, in annual convention assembled, hereby express its opinion that it is to the advantage of every soldier and sailor to continue to keep in force such insurance as he may have effected under the Federal War Risk Insurance Act, and hereby requests all life insurance companies to impress upon all members of their home office and agency organizations to do everything in their power to urge such soldiers and sailors to continue their government life insurance and to recommend to them that they convert such temporary government insurance at the earliest possible opportunity into one of the permanent plans provided for by the War Risk Insurance Act.

Veterans of the World War who have allowed their War Risk insurance to lapse, or who have not, but are continuing same upon the original term plan, should communicate, without delay, with the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, third floor, Johnston Building, Charlotte, N. C., for particulars as to reinstatement and conversion.

Six standard forms of old line legal reserve (converted) policies are offered by the GOVERNMENT as follows: Ordinary life, 20-payment life, 30-payment life, 20-year endowment, 30-year endowment and endowment maturing at age 62, upon the lowest possible net cost basis; rates are subject to annual dividends, and are much lower than those offered by commercial companies.

"INSURE TODAY—TOMORROW MAY BE TOO LATE."

FT. BRAGG TO HAVE PROTESTANT CHAPEL.

Raleigh, June 23.—Hearty endorsement of the movement to raise funds for the erection of a Protestant chapel at Fort Bragg has been given by Gov. A. W. McLean, in a letter to J. M. Lilly, of Fayetteville, president of the Fort Bragg Memorial Chapel Association. A chapel built by the Catholic church is now the only chapel at Ft. Bragg, though there is a Protestant chaplain assigned there.

In his letter, the Governor says: "It is with a sense of deep satisfaction that I am given the opportunity to endorse the movement for the erection of a Protestant memorial chapel on the military reservation at Fort Bragg."

"I do not hesitate to express the confident conviction that the people of the entire State will respond generously to the call for funds to be nade during the week beginning June 20. However, I desire to express the earnest desire that they will do so. No person can do better than have a part in the erection of a house dedicated to the glory of God. The opportunity which your association will present to our people is one that all may accept, especially in view of the fact that the chapel which you propose to erect will be non-sectarian. Forms and ceremonies have differed, to suit the tastes and religious beliefs of various groups of believers, yet the practice of paying homage to a higher power has been almost universal. In this Christian land of ours, where every man is free to worship God as his conscience directs, religion has taken on a new meaning. No community is complete without its shrine, where private faith may be publicly expressed."

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Clayton and family wish to express their appreciation and gratitude to the good people of Vass for their kindness, sympathy and help to us in time of need. Although we can not find words sufficient to express our thanks, but we certainly feel that we are living amidst the very best of people. The shower given us and other things too are deeply appreciated and we feel that God will reward each one as we know all good things come through Him. And He is not slack concerning His promise; that even a cup of cold water given in His name doesn't lose its reward. Again we say we are glad to be living among the people of Vass.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Clayton.
