A very tempting display of cakes was ready when "the man" sent by the Snowdrift company arrived last Saturday afternoon, and the judges, Miss Florence Leslie, Mrs. D. A. McLaughlin and Mrs. A. D. McLaughlin found it a very difficult task to decide just which were the best cakes. The final decision awarded the prizes as follows: First, Mrs. T. Frank Cameron; second, Mrs. Bertie L. Matthews; third, Mrs. J. R. Thomas. The prizes were five dollars, three dollars, and one dollar, but the money went to the Missionary Society instead of to the individuals. Three other prizes, mayonnaise sets, were given to Mrs. W. D. Matthews, Miss Bessie Cameron and Miss Noble Thompson for the next best cakes. All of the cakes were sold for the benefit of the society.

The many friends of Stacy Thompson will rejoice to hear of his good fortune, as made known by the following announcements sent out this week:

"Randolph, Parker and Fortson announce that Mr. Stacy C. Thompson has been admitted as an associate member of their firm with offices as formerly 422-430 Healy Building, Atlanta, Georgia."

Evans were cutting barn poles in a swamp they saw, not far away, a keg screened by bushes. Wishing to find if it contained anything of doubtful nature, they went to investigate. When they reached the place they were surprised to find that it contained a whole distillery. A colony of bees had made themselves at home and were hard at work distilling honey for future use.

RAILROAD GOLF MEET IN SOUTHERN PINES.

On Saturday, Sunday and Monday of next week the railroad men of the Seaboard system will hold a golf tournament at the Country Club at Southern Pines. A sleeper will arrive from Norfolk on the trains from Norfolk and Jacksonville, each loaded with railroad men, and the cars will remain until the evening of July 4, when the bunch will be returned to their homes. Fifty or sixty players are expected to take part in the tournament. They will put up at the Southern Pines House, at Frank Welch's, and at Jacks. For the three days the town will be pretty much given over to the Seaboard fellows, who will know more about the capital of golf than they could learn in any other way.

RAISING STEEL AT PINE NEEDLES INN.

On Monday the construction crew commenced to raise the steel frame at the Pine Needles Inn. As material is coming in right freely now it is likely the work can go forward rapidly from this time until the finish. Enough is up now to show the character of the structure, which begins to look like a big house. Brick laying will start after the next floor has been poured, and after that the job will be busy until the keys are delivered in December.
