Miss Annie McKeithen Hostess to Book Reviewers.

One of the most interesting meetings that the Book Reviewers have had this year was held at the home of Miss Annie McKeithen on Saturday evening, September 17. After a short business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. O. B. Welch, the following program on music was presented by members of the club:

The Negro and his Songs, Miss Maida Jenkins.

Negro Spiritual, Miss Johnnie Redding.

Selections in Costumes—

"Old Oaken Bucket" (duet) popular 160 years ago, Miss Mary Currie and August McKeithen.

"Silver Threads Among the Gold," (solo), popular 75 years ago, Miss Zora Lee Frye.

"Dear Old Pal of Mine," (solo), popular 10 years ago, Miss Johnnie Redding.

The Modern Flapper (High, High in the Hills, Tonight You Belong to Me, Me, Too), Miss Augusta McKeithen.

After the program the hostess, assisted by Miss Augusta McKeithen, Mrs. O. B. Welch and Miss Johnnie Redding served a delicious salad course.

This meeting was held especially in honor of one of the members, Miss Meade Seawell, who is leaving soon to study at Emerson University this winter.

Special guests were Mesdames Frank Blue, U. L. Spence, W. R. Clegg, Jack Lane, B. C. Wallace and N. A. McKeithen and Miss Ethel Hooks.

It's difficult for a man to lose his bad reputation or a Christmas necktie.

THE PINEHURST LUMBER YARDS

The old saying is that the proof of the pudding is chewing the bag string.

Here are some of the particular folks whose building needs of the summer have been supplied by the Pinehurst Lumber Yards:

- C. M. Rudell
- Geo. T. Dunlop
- Geo. Statzell
- Mr. Cunningham
- Eldredge T. Johnson
- Pine Needle Inn
- Samarcand School.

What satisfies these folks is good enough to satisfy anybody, because those named know what they want and they get it. They make no mistake.
