The printer man owes an apology to the Correspondent for using the letter "h" instead of "e" in last week's letter. The word may mean the same thing, but it doesn't look that way in print.

Miss Mabel Muse, who is teaching at Cerro Gordo, came home for the week end.

A member of the Woman's Club was asked why did not the club do something for the town of Cameron? A merchant who was present said the best thing the club could do for the town was to spend their money in Cameron instead of going to Sanford, Southern Pines and Vass. If the merchants will put in as good stock as the other towns, put up attractive show windows, advertise extensively, then Cameron will get their patronage.

Miss Elizabeth Ray underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Hamlet Hospital last week and in hospital parlance "is doing nicely."

Mrs. D. W. McNeill returned Sunday from a visit to Clio, S. C.

for many food elements," says Miss Mary Thomas, nutrition specialist of the home demonstration division at State College. "The food contains proteins of unusual value and also an abundance of minerals and vitamins. We know of the splendid results obtained when cod liver oil is used for babies and grown people. Just lately much more interest has been aroused by certain investigations which show that liver is rich in iron and has other substances favoring the utilization of this iron by the body for blood building."

In other words, liver will help cure anemia. Medical authorities are recommending liver, especially beef liver, with an abundance of fresh fruits and vegetables as a cure for this disease. Even in pernicious anemia, this diet has been found very beneficial in bringing about an increase in the red cells and hemoglobin. Not only is liver valuable for the blood, states Miss Thomas, but it also contains many food elements which give tone to the entire body.

Miss Thomas states that there are many ways in which this liver may be prepared for the table. She also states that there are other and more attractive dishes than the regular fried or boiled dish so often served. To prepare the liver for cooking, it should be cut into slices about one-half inch thick, covered with boiling water and allowed to stand for five minutes. Then drain off this water and remove the outside skin and the veins.

Braised liver, baked tomatoes stuffed with liver and Russian baked liver are three new dishes advocated by Miss Thomas. She states that these make excellent dishes and those who wish to have recipes may get them by writing to her.
