

PINEDALE -

ON THE MIDLAND ROAD, ADJOINING PINEHURST

Building sites at Pinedale, nearly three-quarters of an acre in size, are selling at $400 each, and they afford the most attractive opportunity to secure a desirable home site for low cost that is offered in the Sandhills.

Pinedale is the nearest suburb of Pinehurst village, with the Midland road in front, the Seals road soon to be improved to the Carthage road, with water on every lot as soon as building begins, with all the Pinehurst facilities close at hand, and on one of the choicest ridges of this neighborhood.

Nothing like it for the price, and mighty little like it for any price.

And see them quick, for the lots are not many, and the price is a mover.

CAMERON

"Bachelors Hall, I believe its the best, For when they go home, they go home to rest, No wife to scold, no children to bawl, I believe it's the best to keep bachelors hall."

A. B. McDonald, who keeps bachelors hall in a cozy home hard by the beautiful water of old Crane's Creek, was in town one of those recently cold days. He walked the distance from his home. Walking with a military step, and looking tall and straight as a cedar of Lebanon, and looked as though he enjoyed the hike. He puts to shame some of the younger generation who can not go the shortest distance without a car.

John C. Muse came down from Durham for the week end. So did Jess Howard.

Miss Thurla Cole was hostess at a lovely bridge party at her home during the Christmas festivities.

Miss Kate Harrington returned to Charlotte last week in response to a call.

J. McN. John, of Aberdeen, called to see the Correspondent an evening of last week.

R. L. Poindexter, of Sanford, was in town Friday.

Rev. M. D. McNeill conducted the funeral services of George Morrison at Bethesda last week.

Mrs. J. R. Loving spent Sunday with Mrs. Laura Rogers.

Mr. Rogers, of Siler City, spent a few days of last week with his little son, Carl, at the home of Mrs. Laura Rogers.

Miss Kate Arnold spent Saturday in Fayetteville.

Mrs. Alec Blue and grand son, Marcellus Cameron, of Raeford, were visitors Friday of Mrs. E. M. Borst and Miss Annie Borst.

Laudrick Swett, of Richmond, Va., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sweet, on Rt. 2, for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Smith, of Vass, were callers in town Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Janie Muse and daughter, Miss Mamie Neal, visited Mrs. Martha Muse Wicker Sunday afternoon at her home on Rt. 1. Mrs. Wicker is slowly improving from a paralytic stroke.

Sorry to report J. E. Phillips on the sick list.

Pleased to report W. P. Womack home from the hospital much improved.

Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church Rev. M. D. McNeill preached from the subject, "Vocational Training."

Miss Myrtle Muse, of Carthage, visited the families of Miss Janie Muse and Mrs. Lula Muse last week.

Guy Matthews and Miss Myrtle Douglas, of Sanford, were callers of Miss Frances Matthews Sunday night.

Mesdames J. E. Snow, J. D. McLean, L. B. McKeithen, Jewel Hemphill attended the Moore County Health and Welfare meeting at Pinehurst Tuesday.

The Cameron Woman's Club held its regular meeting January 5 at 3 o'clock in the high school building with 30 members present. Mrs. H. P. McPherson, president, called the meeting to order, and after routine business the club decided to employ F. M. Dwight, of Lakeview Nursery, to plant shrubs around the school building. The planting to be done at once. The discussion of play ground equipment and any action was postponed until the February meeting. The meeting was then turned over to Circle No. 3, who had charge of the program. Miss Annie McFadyen, chairman of Circle 3, presented a "New Contest" that was original and clever. Mrs. Alec McPherson was the winner, and was presented a lovely handkerchief. The next contest was a picture representing events and famous people of the past.

Mrs. J. L. McGraw was the winner in this contest, and was awarded a beautiful floral calendar as a prize.

The members of Circle No. 3 then served delicious chicken salad on lettuce with sandwiches, pickles, sal-tines, followed by coffee, whipped cream and stuffed dates. The February meeting will be in charge of Mrs. J. L. McGraw, chairman of Circle 4, and promises to be an interesting meeting. All members and visitors are urged and cordially invited to be present.

Specials for This Week

Drastic Reduction in Price of Woolens

The warm fall and winter so far has made the movement of woolens slow. Therefore the cut in prices. Our season is about over. Yours is just starting.

These fabrics include tweeds, flannels, Jerseys, wool georgette, plaids, serges and crepes.

Our reduction in price will interest the thrifty buyer.

Another Special

Five dozen ladies' and misses' house dresses at $1 each.

You will marvel at the value. These dresses will not last long at this price. Come in and look them over.

More Remnants this week.

Don't forget the value we are offering in men's clothes.
