Work of Great Writers At Southern Pines.

Two famous writers, one a professor of literature at Columbia University, the other a former newspaper woman who has become one of the famous writers of the screen, are responsible for Lillian Gish's latest starring vehicle, "The Wind," a dramatic romance of the desert country, coming to the Carolina Theatres, Friday and Saturday. The author is Dorothy Scarborough, professor of short story writing at Columbia University. The book was one of the literary sensations of a few seasons ago. Miss Gish plays a delicately nurtured Southern girl suddenly thrust into the windstorms, the rigors, the hardships and the elemental passions of the pioneer life. She is supported by Lars Hanson, the famous Swedish actor as well as a sterling cast including Montague Love, Dorothy Cummings, Edward Earle, William Orlamond, Carmencita Johnson and others.

"The Orchid of the Screen" Corinne Griffith, the "orchid of the screen," will appear on Wednesday and Thursday in a role that is entirely different from those in which she has been seen hitherto, when "Outcast," in which she stars, comes to the Carolina Theatres. It is the same powerful characterization that, in the same plot on the stage, made Elsie Ferguson famous behind the footlights. Prominent in the supporting roles are Edmund Lowe, Huntley Gordon, Louise Fazenda, James Ford, Kathryn Carver, Lee Moran and Sam Hardy.

A Big College Picture. At last a college picture with a new, a different approach, has been produced. At last the intriguing round of college life in the United States has been divorced from all the fanfare and slapstick of former, so-called college pictures which sickened collegiates and non-collegiates alike. At last Paramount has produced "Varsity," with Charles (Buddy) Rogers ably handling a difficult role and Mary Brian and Chester Conklin furnishing support. "Varsity," which will be seen at the Carolina Theatres Monday and Tuesday nights, pictures college life as it is.

The scenes of "Varsity" were actually taken on the campus of Princeton University and were supervised in the making by a committee from the faculty of the University. The picture is splendidly conceived, ably directed and competently acted, a true and living portrait of contemporary American college life.

Fox News Advanced Two Days. By special arrangement with the New York Laboratory by which the mid-week Fox News will be shipped via air mail, the Fox News will be shown in Southern Pines no Thursday nights instead of Saturday nights as heretofore, the same news being shown in Pinehurst on Friday night. This advances the news in Southern Pines by two days over the previous schedule and will be a welcome change to those who like to keep up to the minute on the news of the day in pictures.

Matinees at Southern Pines. Beginning Saturday, November 16, with Adolphe Menjou in "His Private Life," the regular matinees for the winter season will be inaugurated. The matinee prices will be 40 cents for adults and 20 cents for children. The hour is 3 p. m. and matinee days will be Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

CHEATHAM SAYS LIVING NOW IN AN AMAZING PERIOD

Moving So Fast We Can Scarcely Comprehend the Changing Situation.

HOW KIWANIS CAN HELP.

The Kiwanis Club held its Wednesday meeting at the Carolina in Pinehurst, which has opened for business in its remodeled form. The attendance was large, as many members who have been away during the summer are drifting back. At the close of an excellent feed Dr. T. A. Cheatham talked to the club on modern progress, and he interested his hearers to the finish. He has been North much of the summer and he compared the climate and surroundings of the North Carolina Sandhills with the more robust country in the snow belt, and said he was glad he lived in this region where it is good to be. He also welcomed himself back to the crowd of good fellows he found in the club and commended the good the bunch is doing in many ways. And then he proceeded to set them a further job by talking of the progress the world is making and its need of men to help that progress in the right lines. Mr. Cheatham says we are living in an amazing day, with progress going so swiftly we can scarcely comprehend its meaning. The automobile, the flying machine, the radio, the many new things that revolutionize our customs are sweeping us off of our feet, and changing our habits and ways. The radio is substituting for the preacher, and without the contribution box at the end of the sermon. The constant reconstruction and change are moving so fast that we have not sufficient time to enjoy the old peace and comfort of the past, and it is necessary that this progress be controlled and directed in the right direction by men of public interest who will give of their time to it. We must have citizenship with thought for all these modern problems. Three things are to be held in mind—the immense capacity of this country now for skillful work and intelligence, the high quality that make men willing to serve in the moral capacity to use the intelligence, and the improvement in organizing power. These rightly used will keep us up with the modern progress no matter how swift its gait, and make us a wonderful people.

Frank Buchan, of the committee on airports, reported that so far Pinehurst had carried the chief burden of what has been done, and he urged that every section get into this game and not leave one place to assume the big costs, while sharing the advantages with the others. He felt that the other communities would be in line, but he thought they should come quickly as a demand exists for a use of the field now so far along that it can quickly be made ready for operation, and he voiced the belief that the money will be forthcoming soon.

Herbert Seawell, Republican candidate for Governor, who has been absent for several weeks by sickness and campaign work, was back at the meeting and warmly welcomed by his fellows.

AIRPLANE BEGINS TO MAKE PLACE IN MOORE.

Southern Pines airdrome picked up this week with the arrival of J. Carlton Wicker's Eagle Rock biplane and its Curtiss Ox-5 motor.

The two passenger and pilot plane moored at Suggs property on the Southern Pines-Aberdeen highway where passengers are being taken up. Pilot Howard Crawford brought Elvin Smith of Cleveland, Ohio, on a special trip from Cleveland and Smith joins the Southern Pines colony for the winter.

Crawford as transport pilot has been flying two years. He is government licensed. His home is St. Louis, Mo.

A parachute jump was the program last Sunday and other stunts comprised the plane's courtesy to the Mid-South resort territory.

Pilot Crawford declared the new Mid-South airport to be the best laid out area he has seen in two years of aerial barnstorming of the nation. He congratulated Southern Pines and Pinehurst on the early possibilities of the port and predicted a big future for aircraft hereabouts.

Mr. Wicker's plane is being viewed by many of the sporty air colony and the Ox-5 motor is being kept busy humming.

Vass and Community

The Woman's Club of Vass requests the honor of your presence at the marriage of the Widow Zander and Benjamin Gump on Friday evening, November 16 at 8 o'clock in the High School Auditorium.

Rev. B. M. Larson, of Athens, Tennessee, will preach at the Presbyterian church in Vass Monday night, November 12th, at 7:30. His subject will be "Home Missions." The public is cordially invited to be present.

The Woman's Club of Vass will meet at 7:15 Friday evening, November 9th, the meeting having been postponed from last week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Gunter visited relatives in Moncure Sunday afternoon.

Barney Jessup returned Saturday from Scott's Hospital in Sanford, where he spent five weeks for treatment, and is now at his father's home near town. Mr. Jessup has been ill since May, and his condition shows little improvement.

A number of distinguished guests will arrive next week for the Zander-Gump wedding.

Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Rosser and baby Janet visited relatives in Broadway Tuesday afternoon.

Friends of Miss Rosa Belle Giles, formerly of Charlotte, will be delighted to learn that she arrived Tuesday to spend the winter in town. Miss Giles has taken an apartment in the home of Mrs. G. W. Brooks.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Thompson on last Sunday included H. L. Thompson and family, of Hamlet, and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hunter and Miss Maude Hunter, of Sanford. Mr. Hunter was extremely ill during the summer, and his relatives rejoiced that he was able to take the ride down once again.

Aunt Het and Pa will attend the Zander-Gump nuptials and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boggs and children and Mrs. Milo Boggs, of Broadway, visited W. T. Cox and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cameron McLean, who were called to Vass on account of the death of their uncle, A. Cameron, returned to their home in Wilmington Tuesday.

Rev. and Mrs. O. I. Hinson, of Jonesboro, were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cameron Tuesday.

Paul Gschwind, who had been working with Mr. Benfield near Hemp for a few days, was brought home Saturday evening with an ugly cut above his ankle. Mr. Gschwind was working at a steel bridge and a piece of steel fell, cutting a gash which required eight stitches.

Misses Louise and Marjorie Leslie, students at Campbell College, and Catharine Graham, of Louisburg College, granddaughters of A. Cameron who were at home to attend the funeral, returned Tuesday to their respective schools.

Major Hoople will officiate at the Zander-Gump wedding. Mrs. Maggie Jiggs will sing.

We are so glad to report that G. W. Griffin is feeling much better for the last few days. Last week, for the first time since July, he rode down town, and also went to Hamlet for a couple of days, attending to business and visiting his son, Richard. Mr. Griffin is a fine fellow and we are glad to have him in town, but we regret that ill health forces him to give up his work in Hamlet.

The Woman's Club presents the Zander-Gump wedding for the benefit of High School.

Miss Pauline Bryan, of Durham, is the guest of her cousins, Misses Bessie and Mildred Gunter.

We shall not attempt to name the people from other towns who called at the home of A. Cameron and attended the funeral Monday. There were scores of them; from Raleigh, Charlotte, Selma, Apex, Raeford, Hope Mills, Buie's Creek, Sanford, Jonesboro, Aberdeen, Pinehurst, and other neighboring towns they came to pay their last tribute of respect to this noble man.

Rev. Arthur L. Thompson is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Thompson, before taking up his work on the Louisburg Circuit to which he was assigned by the Methodist conference last week. Arthur holds an unusually warm place in the hearts of the people of the community in general. He was reared in the community, attended high school in Vass, and is a member of the Methodist church here. The people feel that he is one of their very own, and their best wishes go with him as he assumes the duties of his first pastorate.

THOMAS J. FOX DIES IN SOUTHERN PINES.

Thomas J. Fox, for twelve years a resident of Southern Pines, died at his home on May Street last Saturday. Although he had been ill for several weeks an improvement in his condition was noted last week and his recovery was expected but a relapse last week was followed by death. Mr. Fox was 57 years old. He was born in New York City and came to Southern Pines twelve years ago. He was a brick mason by trade and built, among other buildings, the Vass Hotel and The Pilot building.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Fox, of Southern Pines, and four sisters in New York City. Interment was at Mount Hope Cemetery.

AGNES KNIGHT BRONSON.

Mrs. Agnes Knight Bronson died in Southern Pines last Monday. She was 22 years old and had been a regular winter visitor for the past five years. Her home was in Blowing Rock. Rev. Edward Tuck preached the funeral service, which was held at Southern Pines, after which the body was removed to Blowing Rock for burial. She is survived by her husband, Milton Bronson, one sister, Miss Corinne Knight, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Knight.
