Pinehurst Building and Loan Elects its 1934 Directors

At Pinehurst

Quite a different brand of amusing and exciting entertainment is revealed in "Search for Beauty," the attraction at the Pinehurst Theatre Monday, February 5th, matinee and night. The story premise is novel, tying up a racketeer angle which takes a ludicrous comedy twist with liberal dashes of health, beauty and physical developing propaganda, and introduces the thrifty International Beauty Contest winners brought from all over the world, Larry (Buster) Crabbe, the Olympic swimming champion, is attractive in the lead, while Miss Lupino from England with a stage heritage of four generations has a distinct charm and beauty.

Sparkling wit and sophisticated humor pervade the melodramatic story of "Long Lost Father," John Barrymore's newest starring production for RKO-Radio, coming to the Pinehurst Theatre Wednesday, February 7th, matinee and night with Helen Chandler and Donald Cook in a notable cast. Adapted from a novel by a "best-selling" author, G. B. Stern, "Long Lost Father" traces a father's conflict with his daughter, Carl Bellairs, suave London night club manager, and Lindsey Lane, dancer, meet for the first time in twenty years, although they are father and daughter, when she comes to entertain in his establishment, Helen Chandler plays the daughter and Donald Cook enacts her fiance, John Barrymore as Carl Bellairs receives additional support from Ferdinand Gottschalk, E. E. Clive, Reginald Sharland, Alan Mowbray and Natalie Moorhead.

Greta Garbo is back after nearly two years absence, better than she ever was, and in a vehicle which has class caliber and mass appeal, a brilliant historical drama in which the romance of a Queen for a foreign ambassador is the motivating force. There is about her "Queen Cristina," not only the heroic quality such as the role demands of a fine actor, but a new depth of feeling. All of these qualities which as Anna Christie, Cavallini (in "Romance") Grusinskaya, (in "Grand Hotel") have commanded attention by their enduring beauty, have been intensified here; have been etched with a glamour which has a new gravity and maturity. Growth of this kind is possible only for a really great artist. The story is a happy selection for the new talent she has to give; a skillful blend of history and fiction in which the Nordic star, looking as alluring as ever, gives a performance which merits nothing but the highest praise. "Queen Cristina" is the attraction at the Pinehurst Theatre Friday, February 9th, matinee and night.

At Southern Pines
Which is the stronger love—the love of a woman for a man or the love of a mother for her child? In "Gallant Lady," the latest 20th Century picture which will be the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, February 5, 6, 7, with a Tuesday matinee, beautiful Ann Harding embodies the answer to this age old question. Faced with the alternative of becoming reunited with her little son after years of separation under the penalty of silence regarding her true identity, or of disclosing the facts and thereby wrecking his future, Ann makes a decision which changes the whole course of her life—and the boy's. A brilliant cast, including Clive Brook, Tullio Carminati, Otto Kruger, Dickie Moore and Janet Beecher supports Miss Harding.

Having three comedy teams, each with plenty of good material, "Six of a Kind," the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 8, 9, 10, with a Saturday matinee, will prove to be just what the laugh-fans ordered. A cast containing Charles Ruggles, Mary Boland, W. C. Fields, Alison Skipworth, and Burns and Allen, is something to talk about, and in this production, they carry on a carnival of comedy that brings the laughs so fast and furious that it is impossible to number them. Burns and Allen have an entirely new line of chatter and gags. Fields in a pool table sequence wherein he is unable to control the cue, will leave you limp. As an added attraction, we are pleased to announce Walt Disney's latest all technicolor Silly Symphony, "The China Shop."

F. N. DOUBLEDAY DIES
Frank N. Doubleday, who, with the late Walter Hines Page founded the publishing house of Doubleday, Page & Company at Garden City, L. I., died in Miami, Florida on Tuesday of this week. He was 72 years of age.

Annual Report Reveals Association in Good Financial Condition Despite Depression

At the annual stockholders meeting of the Pinehurst Building & Loan Association the following were elected to serve as directors for the year 1934: W. L. Dunlop, E. B. Keith, G. M. Cameron, I. C. Sledge, J. F. Taylor, A. P. Thompson, W. R. Viall and H. D. Vail.

President James W. Tufts presided over the meeting, which a large number attended, and he spoke briefly of the advantages of investing in building and loan stock.

Herbert D. Vail, secretary and treasurer of the association submitted his annual report which says in part:

"The balance sheet sent out with the notice of our annual meeting shows a reduction in the assets of our association amounting to $11,677.87 over the balance sheet of December 31, 1932. This reduction is due to the withdrawals and maturities being greater than new sales and new mortgages. During 1933, the hardest year our association has yet seen, we were forced to play a game of watchful waiting. The year had hardly begun when all the banks in the country closed their doors for a banking holiday. Some of these banks have not yet opened. Not being able at the time to foresee the opening date of our bank we were compelled to withhold making new loans on property and put ourselves in position to serve our stockholders in case they wished to borrow or withdraw their savings in our care.

This state of affairs naturally handicapped our operations, but with one or two exceptions, we were able to pay on demand all applications for stock loans and withdrawals. Without exception, all withdrawals were made from necessity and not through fear. Our association is just as safe today as it were when our assets were up to $115,000.00 three years ago.

"That is what makes building and loan stock so attractive. Loans made three years ago when times were better and land values higher have been paid down to where our equity in all cases is low enough to assure payment in full even though foreclosure may be necessary. Loans made now are made on present day valuations and the appraisals are made by a committee of three appointed from the Board of Directors by the president of the association."

Since the annual meeting the association has made three new loans and is entirely caught up on its applications.

BURSTING AUTO RADIATOR CAUSES ACCIDENT IN VASS

The unusually cold weather was responsible for one accident in Vass. On Wednesday morning as John Kimball and daughter, Miss Bertha Kimball, were driving down the highway near Keith's Garage, the radiator burst, sending forth a volume of water and steam that obstructed the driver's view and caused him to lose control of the car. The car left the highway and landed with the front end in a deep ditch, throwing Miss Kimball through the windshield. She suffered minor cuts about the face. The Kimballs reside near Vass on the Union Road.
