

Davis Lucky Not To Be in His Own Shoes

Maggie Uses the Axe on Owner's Sunday Best, But They're Unoccupied

People are oftentimes heard to remark that they are glad that they are not in some other fellow's shoes. Onnie Davis, colored of Southern Pines, can go them one better and say that he is glad he was not in his own shoes on a recent day, for following a family row his wife, Maggie Davis, gave vent to her feelings by cutting his Sunday shoes with an axe. In court she pleaded guilty to a charge of malicious injury to personal property and was given her choice of thirty days in jail to work at the county home or the payment of the costs and a sixty-day suspended sentence.

Robert Wallen and Charles Wallen, white of New York City, arrested in Southern Pines recently while attempting to steal gasoline from a parked car, were given sixty days each.

Lawrence McLean, colored, pleaded guilty to escaping from the State Highway and Public Works Prison and he was given an additional three months' sentence.

Jack Thompson, colored of Southern Pines, was fined $25 and the costs and given a suspended sentence on an assault with a deadly weapon count and he is to show good behavior. He is charged with drawing a gun on another colored man and threatening to shoot him.

TEACHERS LOSE CLOTHING IN VASS BUILDING FIRE

Fire of undetermined origin did considerable damage to the front section of the third floor of the Beasley Building in Vass on Wednesday afternoon of last week. The firemen were in action shortly after the siren sounded and were able to confine the blaze to the third floor, but the water, pouring down into the Beasley Department Store below, did quite a big of damage to the stock of goods. Misses Beasley, Buchanan and Cobb, teachers occupying an apartment on the third floor, lost some of their clothing in the fire. Miss Beasley being the heaviest loser.

Over 3,000 Passenger Cars in Moore County

Big Spurt in License Purchases in State During Last Quarter of 1933

The spurt in motor vehicle purchases made in the last quarter of 1933 is reflected in the figures which show that on December 31, 1933, licenses issued in North Carolina reached 405,269, as compared with 374,604 three months earlier, October 31, and a fair increase over the number issued a year before, 393,730, to December 31, 1932, it is shown by the records in the office of L. S. Harris, director of the motor vehicle bureau.

At the end of 1933 there were 2300 non-resident registrations of automobiles, as compared with 2385 a year before, and 1250 non-resident trucks, as compared with 1025 a year before. Motorcycles numbered 1151 at the end of 1933 and 1140 at the end of 1932, the records show.

Moore county had 3,100 passenger cars and 775 trucks at the end of 1933, as compared with 3,300 passenger cars and 775 trucks a year before, October 31.

These figures are obtained by measuring and calculating in inches the numbers of registration cards on file in the office and are within half a dozen of the actual numbers of cars registered.
