

Club Hears of Plans For Rehabilitation

Mrs. R. P. Davidson and State Director of Public Relations Address Kiwanians

Rehabilitation in North Carolina was the subject of two talks before the Kiwanis Club at its weekly meeting held Wednesday in the Community Church in Pinehurst. Mrs. Richard P. Davidson discussed the subject as it applied to the rising generation in Moore county, telling of the extensive soup kitchen program in the schools of the county, and John H. Sikes of Edenton, Director of Public Relations of the Emergency Relief Organization in the state, told of plans for rural rehabilitation, the taking care of tenant farmers who, as the result of cotton and tobacco reduction programs, find themselves without work or land to cultivate.

Mrs. Davidson told of the start of the noon lunches in the schools by the various Parent-Teacher associations in the county and of the carrying on of the work by herself and others in cooperation with them. As the result of funds raised last year diet kitchens have been installed in 22 schools of the county, stoves, fuel and equipment being provided. Since then the health of children in these schools has so markedly improved that pupils have gained from eight to 21 pounds in weight, average attendance has greatly increased, the children are taking an interest in what they eat, are bringing the right kind of food to school, are learning something about the preparation of proper food, and are healthier in mind as well as body as evidenced by improved scholarship.

Rural Rehabilitation

Mr. Sikes told of the program now being prepared at Raleigh looking toward the caring for the tenant farmers, or rather the recently untenanted farmers. There are 10,000 of these in eastern North Carolina alone, he said; many in all counties of the state. The job is to make self-supporting and self-respecting citizens of them. The tentative plan calls for the exchange of land by owners for labor by these farmers, the selling of blocks of farm land to them that they may work the land for their own sustenance and apply whatever margin they may reap from the soil toward paying for the land over a long period of years.

"To properly feed the people of the United States 67 per cent more land is needed in agriculture, so the job is one not only of rehabilitating these unfortunate farmers but one of distribution of their products, for the benefit of all," Mr. Sikes said.

First Place for S. P.

Dramatic Club's Presentation Is Given Unanimous Award In State Contest

"The Game of Chess," contest play of the Southern Pines School Dramatic Club, took first place in the final contest in play production by city high schools at the annual dramatic contest in Chapel Hill last week.

The locals were given the unanimous decision of the five judges, the only unanimous decision of the entire contest. President Frank T. Graham of U. N. C. presented the plaque to the school.

This honor to Southern Pines came in the locals' second year of competition in this contest. Last year the Pine Maskers were defeated by Lenoir in the finals.

The play was under the direction of Miss Sara Falkner and those in the cast were Tom Carlisle, Lawrence Williams, Morrell Bentley and E. J. Austin.

"Cahlina Revue" Big Financial Success

Affair at Country Club Yesterday Netted $450 for the Work of the Hospital Auxillary

It is a well-known fact now that when the Pinehurst Chapter of the Hospital Auxillary puts on an entertainment of any kind it is a big success financially. "The Cahlina Revue" Tuesday evening netted $450 for the local hospital. More than 500 people attended the revue that was given on the terrace of the Pinehurst Country Club, and witnessed one of the most novel and enjoyable events of the spring season.

Caddies from the Club and other colored entertainers from the Sandhills gave the winter residents more than an hour of song and dance, as only southern "shines" can do properly. Colored servants from the community were allowed to attend without charge.

TRUMAN FOWLER WINS FESTIVAL ARCHERY MEET

In the Spring Tournament of the Southern Pines Archery Club held yesterday, Sports Day, in connection with the Festival Truman S. Fowler of Boothbay Harbor, Maine won first prize in the American Round with a score of 419. T. N. Barnsdall of Bradford, Penn., was a close runner-up with a score of 417. The Week in Vass

A very successful series of revival services in the Vass Methodist church came to a close with the Sunday evening service. The attendance throughout the week was good and a fine spirit of cooperation was in evidence. The visiting minister, the Rev. E. C. Crawford of the Roberdel circuit, brought strong Scriptural messages and by his earnestness and sincerity made a deep impression on his hearers. Quite a number of boys and girls from the junior and intermediate departments of the Sunday School gave their names for church membership and there were many re-consecrations.

Special music by the young people at several of the services was enjoyed.

Fire which is thought to have started from a spark on the roof did considerable damage to the two-story frame building on Sunrise Heights, just to the rear of the manse, on Friday afternoon of last week. The building is owned by a Winston-Salem man. Jim McNeill and family who have occupied the house for a month or two, saved most of their belongings. They are now located in a house on the farm of D. A. Cameron near town.

The sophomore class of the Vass-Lakeview high school recently honored the seniors by entertaining them at a wiener roast and party near the river. A delightful evening was spent.

S. P. High School Ball Players Lose Twice

Start Season With Defeats at Hands of Farm Life School and Cameron

On Wednesday afternoon the baseball team of Southern Pines High School journeyed to Farm Life Academy and absorbed a 5-2 licking, being held to two hits by E. Fry of the academy outfit.

Last Friday Southern Pines was defeated by Cameron in its opening game played on the local diamond. The final score was 14-10 in ten innings. The contest was scheduled at seven frames, so four extra were necessary to reach a decision.

Russell Powell pitched well for the losers, but received little support in the field. He tired in the tenth and Cameron reached him for five solid blows that netted six runs when added to a pass and a couple of errors. Johnny Hewitt and Edd Newton featured the hitting for the locals.

On Tuesday afternoon the Laurinburg team will be tackled on the local field.

8,000	93%	82%
16,000	81%	36%

Supertwist Cord — a Goodyear patent — stretches, absorbs shocks, and comes back strong! Thoroughly rubberized to resist heat, it gives lasting blowout protection in every ply. Ask us to demonstrate!

The super-soft tires the new 1934 cars are wearing can be easily applied on most 1933 or 1932 cars. Ask for our special offer on the GOODYEAR AIRWHEEL.

Any good new tire is pretty safe from blowouts—but how safe is it after thousands of miles? Think over those percentages above! Remember, the public finds that Goodyears stand up longest—that's why more people buy Goodyears than any other tires. Since Goodyears cost nothing extra, put them on your car!

The famous Goodyear Pathfinder $5.75 up —blowout-protected by 4 FULL PLYS of Supertwist Cord insulated with heat-retaining rubber. Also, the Goodyear Speedway $4.10 up is blowout-protected —yet costs as little as

Old Bethesda

A Great Light

IN A LETTER to Talbot Johnson Lauchlin A. Bethune, of Clinton, one of the famed family that was largely instrumental in founding this community, writes:

"I have read and re-read Butler's Old Bethesda, and it is a wonderful book, the best and most enduring commentary the Sandhills ever had or may have. It has turned a great light on a region and people that until recent years were almost cut off from the rest of the world by their isolation.

"My copy has been loaned out and passed from one to another ever since I read it, and is the subject of much favorable comment from all. It will be a lasting monument to your section of the country."

On sale at Hayes' Book Store and the Highland Pines Inn in Southern Pines. At the Carolina and the Holly Inn in Pinehurst, and by Mrs. Bethune in Aberdeen.
