The mysterious backwater Boyous of Louisiana, the "Cajuns," least known of all American peoples, the smuggling of Chinese on the Gulf Coast, and romance under warm Southern skies are all blended in "Lazy River," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer drama that is the attraction at the Pinehurst Theatre Monday, April 23rd, matinee and night. Heading the cast of this unusual offering are Jean Parker and Robert Young as the young lovers who bring fast-moving adventure and conflict into the sheltered world of an obscure fishing village. Both give portrayals that surpass all of their recent efforts, including young's role in "Carolina" and Miss Parker's great triumph in "Little Women." Especially interesting are the scenes of life among the native Cajuns, or "Lost Acadians," of the Louisiana boyous who were photographed in their home region around Barataria Bay. Remote villages and Bayous never before filmed are to be seen in the new picture.

Ramon Novarro portrays a starring role with Lupe Velez as the feminine lead in "Laughing Boy," stirring Indian drama filmed from the Pulitzer Prize story by Oliver La Farge, the attraction at the Pinehurst Theatre Wednesday, April 25th, matinee and night. The story was one of America's "best sellers" of a few years ago, and is probably the most widely read Indian story ever printed. It concerns the life of young Navajo Indian who comes from the mountain regions of his reservation home to learn of life and love. Novarro plays the title role of "Laughing Boy," the young Navajo who learns of love from an Indian girl of his tribe who has known the white man's civilization. This girl, portrayed by Lupe Velez, uses her wiles learned in white cities, to keep him from a knowledge that would crush his depth of primitive feeling.

Music and comedy are the big assets in "We're Not Dressing," the attraction at the Pinehurst Theatre Friday, April 27th, matinee and night, which co-stars Bing Crosby and Carole Lombard, features Burns and Allen and brings Leon Errol back to the screen and introduces a new stage and radio luminary, Ethel Merman. The intermingles some strange people in some queer situations. Even a bear plays its part in some laughable antics. The clever lunacies of Burns and Allen as two explorers will top the audience responsiveness. The tunes of Gordon and Revel have a distinctive quality, with "May 1?" a possible successor to "Did You Ever See a Dream Walking." "We're Not Dressing" is a fast moving and novelly interesting bit of tuneful entertainment.

Seldom has such a combination of box-office values been blended into one film, achieving super entertainment for the masses which still like primary things done well as will be seen in "Tarzan and His Mate," the sequel to the famous Tarzan picture of a year ago, which is the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, April 23, 24, 25, with a Tuesday matinee. The romance between Johnny Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan contrasts with jungle adventures, wild animal battles, melodrama in the quest for ivory and spectacular circus thrills.

Adventures and combats with elephants, monkeys, panthers, crocodiles, lions and a rhinoceros tumble over one another in rapid succession. The kids will get a big sock from the ride of Tarzan on the tail of a crocodile under water, a bareback ride on a rhinoceros, a hand to hand combat with a lion and his swinging from tree to tree like an acrobat.

The attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre Thursday, Friday, Saturday, April 26, 27, 28, with a Saturday matinee, is that smart spicy comedy, "Uncertain Lady," featuring Edward Everett Horton and Genevieve Tobin, supported by such supreme artists as Paul Cavanagh, Mary Nash, famous stage star, Renee Gadd, who is an important newcomer, George Meeker, Dorothy Peterson and Donald Reed. "Uncertain Lady" is a new slant on the eternal triangle with a dozen laughs where one grew before. Delightfully diverting with sparkling situations and dialogue. Comedy contracts assumes a more than usual importance. Based on the dissatisfied wife-husband premise, it creates and punches to a different climax and has many novel amusing situations.

Mrs. Helen Barns von Schrenk is leaving Saturday for New York. She will sail the following Saturday on the "Rex" for a six weeks' stay in Italy on a buying tour. Anyone who wishes her to make any purchases may see her sometime this week.

Festival Aftermath
said Dr. Medlin of Aberdeen, Kiwanis president. "It is the finest thing we have to lengthen the season in the Sandhills," said Paul Dana of Pinehurst. James Tufts suggested a week that did not conflict with the tennis tournament at Pinehurst as this year's did. "Many people in Pinehurst missed out on the Festival because they were watching tennis all week," he said.

Many suggestions have been made for feature events next year. One is a competition in negro spirituals among colored churches of the county. "We could have a thousand voices here," said Frank Buchan.

The Duke and State College baseball teams were so pleased with their visit they asked for a date on next year's bill of fare.

And it is understood the Fort Bragg artillery will make ready, aim, fire, if they aren't allowed to come back. They can throw away that much ammunition. They won't need it on this score.

Among prominent visitors at the Festival on Old Slave Day were Mrs. Walter Hines Page, widow of the World War Ambassador to Great Britain, who was much impressed by the assemblage and ceremonies of that day.

The week passed off without casualties. Much regret is expressed here over the death of General W. A. Smith, 91-year old Confederate survivor, who died at his home in Ansonville on his return from Military Day, but friends state the aged and distinguished soldier did not overdo while here.

Merchants of Southern Pines were well pleased with the results of Festival week. Business showed a marked pick-up. Hotels gained some business, held over many guests who would have left earlier were it not for the festivities, expect many more guests next year as a result of the success of the week's program.

The public was so well pleased with the equestrian gymkhana many are asking for frequent events of the kind during next winter season here. The Country Club may establish a permanent show ring on its practice range, move the range elsewhere.

NIAGARA

Otto Masher and family of Jacksonville spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Masher.
C. L. Dutton and family spent Sunday in Cameron.
George H. Colby, who has been a winter guest here, left Monday morning for his home in Bartonville, Vt.
On next Sunday at 3 o'clock W. G. Stanford of Sanford will tell more of his experience in travels abroad at the local church.
Mrs. E. W. Marble and little daughter Fae, Miss Pauline French, E. C. Morgan and B. C., Jr. motored to Greensboro on Tuesday.

The Week in Aberdeen

Miss Halle Graham of Raeford spent the week-end visiting her sister, Mrs. Milton Carpenter.
Mrs. Taylor, who has been visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor for some time, was called back to Fort Valley, Ga., last week on receipt of news that her home was destroyed by fire.
Joseph Chandler of Greensboro called on his aunt, Mrs. W. T. Worsham and friends in town on last Sunday.
Mrs. Addie McDonald of Wilmington is visiting Mrs. W. C. Wicker.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Small and children of Lumberton spent last Sunday in town visiting Mr. and Mrs. Manley Davis.
Mrs. Robert N. Page returned last week from Davidson where she has been visiting her sisters, Misses Sarah and Cornelia Shaw.
Mrs. Thomas B. Wilder was called to Asheboro last week on account of the illness of her son, Frank, who was suffering with bronchitis.
Mr. and Mrs. Will Hendren and children moved last week from the Aberdeen vicinity to a farm in Richmond county.
Miss Mary McInnis spent last Sunday in Raeford visiting her parents.
C. E. Bridges spent several days in Raleigh last week on business.
Miss Vanessa McLean spent the week-end in Goldsboro with her sister, Mrs. William Taylor.
Miss Evelyn Shaw of Tarboro spent the week-end in Aberdeen visiting Miss Yelverton.
Mrs. Earle Rogers was called to Greensboro last week on account of an accident to her husband in which he suffered a fractured knee.
Mrs. H. A. Keith has accepted a position with Razook's in Pinehurst for the rest of the season.
Miss Grace Bradshaw, who has been working for the C. I. T. at Columbia, S. C., is being transferred to the University Credit Company in Charlotte.
Mrs. Muriel Shepard and little son, of Raleigh are now guests of Mrs. J. F. Deaton.
Misses Edna Maurer, Christine Allred, Belle Heilig, together with Miss Olive Kirby of Gibsonville and accompanied by W. W. Maurer, motored to Washington, D. C., over the week-end to view the Cherry Blossoms.
Mrs. Clyde Valentine and children of Baltimore are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sharpe.
Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Pennington and children have moved into the E. L. Bryan home.
Dan McCrummen and Scott Russell spent the week-end in the western part of the state visiting friends and relatives.
Miss Ruelle Kelschner of New York City is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Talbot Johnson.

Book Club
The Thursday Afternoon Book Club held an enjoyable meeting at the Community House last week with Mrs. E. L. Pleasants acting as hostess. In the absence of the president, Mrs. J. Talbot Johnson presided over the meeting.
The program centered around the subject "Civilization Established" and two interesting papers were given by Mrs. Ralph Caldwell, Jr., and Mrs. Robert N. Page on "Our Legacy from Colonial Life," and "The First Typical American, A Character Sketch of Benjamin Franklin."
The special guests were Mrs. Dan Allred, Mrs. J. D. McLean, Mrs. Neill McKeithen, Mrs. R. C. Zimmerman, Mrs. J. F. Deaton, Mrs. A. L. Burney, Mrs. Evelyn Capps, Mrs. W. D. Caviness, Mrs. Reid Page, Mrs. M. B. Pleasants, Mrs. C. C. Bethune and Misses Lillian Pleasants, Many Wilder and Berta Blue.

P. T. A. Meeting
The Aberdeen members of the P. T. A. were delightfully entertained by the Pinebluff members at the Community House in Pinebluff last Wednesday afternoon. This being the last meeting of the school year all unfinished business was taken care of and Mrs. LeRoy Harrington and Mrs. Clayton Brasington were elected as secretary and treasurer to succeed Mrs. E. M. Medlin and Mrs. J. F. Deaton whose terms have expired. The president, Mrs. Frank Shamburger and vice president, Mrs. E. L. Pleasants will serve another year.

An interesting Health Program in the form of a playlet was given during the Program Hour by the children of the Pinebluff School, under the able direction of their teacher, Miss Gibson, which was much enjoyed. In the Attendance Contest the Pinebluff Children won out as having the largest attendance of mothers present. An enjoyable social hour followed.

GEORGE R. ROSS HEADS REHABILITATION IN STATE
April 1 and all persons who can support themselves from any source other than relief will be removed from charity rolls.
Exact details of the program have not yet been worked out but the general plan is to provide needy persons with sufficient capital goods—land, farm equipment, livestock—to allow them to make their own living.
For example, persons in rural areas given work on work relief projects will be paid in food or capital goods rather than in actual cash. In some instances, however, cash will be paid but the chief idea is to give them the capital goods which will enable them to make their living in the future.
The work is to be valued on the basis of the prevailing wage scale in the various communities, but will not be less than 30 cents an hour. Workers in rural areas will be allowed to work 24 hours a week, except in cases where capital goods are being worked out.
The plan embodies the idea of family gardens and present plans will not allow the extensions of relief to any families which do not maintain such gardens.
One dollar supports a charity patient for one day in the Moore County Hospital. Your donation before you leave will help.
