FIVE CENTS

COUNTY TAX SALE FOR DELINQUENTS SET FOR DEC. 3D

Commissioners Appoint S. R. Hoyle Judge of Recorder's Court for Balance of Year

PWA LOAN CANCELLED

On Monday the county commissioners, in their regular monthly meeting, duly appointed S. R. Hoyle Judge of the Recorder's Court to fill out the unexpired term of Judge George H. Humber, deceased. The term expires Dec. 1, 1934.

It was ordered that the real estate of property owners who are delinquent in paying their county taxes for the year 1933 be sold as provided and required by law on December 3, 1934, at the court house door in Carthage after said sale has been advertised for the four weeks immediately preceding the date of sale. The advertisement is to be printed in six point type and is to be awarded to that newspaper that shall submit a sealed bid therefor that shall be the lowest bid submitted on the 22nd day of October.

Miss Jenkins, county accountant, was authorized to collect the 1934 taxes.

The final chapter of a story that was the big news of the county for several weeks was clothed in the following words: ".....it is ordered that the application to borrow funds from the PWA to build school houses heretofore approved be cancelled."

A map of Moore county roads as taken over by the State, presented by Mr. Underwood, was approved.

The board voted to allow T. N. Slack, deputy sheriff, $15 per month for expenses beginning October 1, also to pay $10 on a casket for G. C. Cagle, deceased. It was ordered that Ed Tyler be admitted to the county home.

One Out of Five in County on Relief

State Showing Increase of Seven Per Cent in Relief Cases During August

North Carolina had 11.2 per cent of the State population, or 355,228 persons, on federal relief rolls during August, report of Mrs. Thomas O'Berry, State relief director, shows. The State had 72,187 families totaling 346,759 persons—4.8 persons to the family—on relief rolls, along with 8,469 single residence persons, or a total of 80,856 cases; that is, families and individuals. This is an increase of 7 per cent in case load over July. All but 13 of the 100 counties showed an increase in case load, the report shows.

Harnett had the smallest percentage of its population on relief, 3.3 per cent, the report shows. Cleveland had only 3.9 per cent and Beaufort only 4.8 per cent. Avery had 32.5, nearly one-third of its population on relief, Brunswick had 31 per cent.

Moore county had 5,685 persons, or 20.1 per cent of the county's population on relief in August. These included 1,065 families, totaling 5,610 persons, and 75 single residence persons, a total of 1,140 cases, or families and individuals. The case load in this county increased 4.3 per cent in August over the case load in July, Mrs. O'Berry's report shows.

MISS LANE LEAVES SCHOOL HERE FOR POST IN DURHAM

A change in the faculty of Southern Pines school was announced this week when Miss Jean McIver Lane, for the past two years third grade and art teacher in the Southern Pines school, resigned her post in order to accept a position as Art teacher in the Durham City schools. She was replaced by Miss Sarah Goggans, of Greenville, S. C., who has been connected with the Winston-Salem schools for several years past. Miss Goggans, as well as being an excellent teacher, is an expert librarian, and she and Mr. Freeman have been placed in charge of the school library. Miss Lane had made numerous friends here and will be greatly missed.

Old Bethesda Celebrates 143d Anniversary on Sunday

A VIEW OF OLD BETHESDA CHURCH YARD AND CEMETERY, WITH THE ANCIENT EDIFICE IN THE BACKGROUND

Two sons of Old Bethesda Church at Aberdeen will feature the program for the annual Home Coming Day this Sunday, Dr. Angus R. Shaw of Charlotte preaching at the morning service which opens at 11:15 o'clock, and Judge Thomas J. Shaw of Greensboro, brother of Dr. Shaw, delivering the address at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Tables will be spread in the grove near the church for the picnic luncheon which former members of the congregation and their friends always carry to this yearly occasion. Special music will be another feature of the day's program. The Rev. E. L. Barber, pastor of the church, expects a larger gathering than usual to this 143d anniversary celebration, to which all are invited.

TWO SIDES TO JOB OF CONGRESSMAN, LAMBETH REVEALS

Tells Kiwanians of Odd Requests Made of Representatives in Washington

MUCH OF NEW DEAL SOUND

"What is a Congressman for, anyway?"

This was a question overheard recently by Representative Walter Lambeth of this Congressional district. It was made by a man for whom Mr. Lambeth had endeavored but failed to procure a federal job. On Wednesday, before the Kiwanis Club of Aberdeen, the Congressman made it the subject of an informal, "off the record" talk.

He amused the Kiwanis members by citing some of the queer requests made of a member of Congress, some of the ideas that people have of what a Congressman is for, some of the things a Congressman is called when he fails to accomplish what a constituent asks of him. In short, he unobscured himself of that side of his "job" which few citizens appreciate, the necessary "glorified messenger boy" work which takes a large part of the time of a representative in Congress.

"Of course I don't want you to think I don't like my work. I love it and I want to keep my job. But I thought it might interest you to know that there is something besides glory to being a Congressman, and might amuse you to hear some of the things that happen to a member."

It was a most interesting and amusing talk, thoroughly enjoyed by the largest crowd attending a local Kiwanis meeting in some time. Mr. Lambeth, up for reelection this fall for his third term at Washington, is making a tour of his extensive eighth district. He visited Southern Pines, Carthage and Hemp in this county in addition to his luncheon talk at the Aberdeen Community House. In an interview with The Pilot Mr. Lambeth expressed great confidence in the future results of the New Deal. Much of it is sound, he said; much headed for the discard after being tried and found wanting. He believes President Roosevelt is on the right track and that he will be successful in bringing order out of chaos.

World Series Clashes With Benefit Game

Few Witness Good Contest and Presentation of Bags to Picquet, Johnson

The sponsors of the benefit baseball game, proceeds from which were designed to aid Ralph Wallace and Alfred Upchurch, injured last week in an automobile accident, found the World Series too much for them. Only a small crowd of less than 300 people turned out to view the contest.

The game proved to be one of the best played here this season, Southern Pines taking an early lead and holding it to win a 5-1 decision.

The opposition consisted of West End and Vass players, while the locals had only one player who did not play with them this season. This was Webb, of the Aberdeen team.

Tom Millar pitched the full game for the winners, allowing six hits. His opponent was Charlie Ritter, who was touched for eight safe.

W. F. JUNGE INJURED WHEN HIT BY TOBACCO TRUCK

W. F. Junge, one of Southern Pines oldest and most respected residents, was the victim of an accident on Tuesday morning which fortunately resulted in no greater injury than bruises and ensuing shock. Crossing Broad street in front of the Patch store, Mr. Junge was seen by Hugh McCaskill who was driving south in a truck laden with tobacco in time to swerve the truck to avoid him, but an oncoming car caused him to veer to the right, which he did thinking he had cleared Mr. Junge. Mr. Junge, however, was struck on the left thigh by the rear fender and knocked down. After being taken into the Patch store he was conveyed home by Frank Goodwill and later brought down to Dr. Milliken's office in the Powell ambulance where his injuries were found to be painful but not serious.

Many Old Members Return to Historic Sanctuary Near Carthage for Home-Coming

Today, October 5, marks the hundredth anniversary of the organization of old Bethlehem Baptist church, in Moore county near Carthage.

In honor of the occasion, the church last Sunday sponsored a home-coming day, welcoming back her sons and daughters and hundreds returned to the historic old sanctuary of their childhood. Many former pastors were there.

The Rev. J. E. Ayscue, former pastor, now head of the English department at Campbell College, delivered the morning sermon at 11:00 o'clock. At noon an old-fashioned picnic dinner was served on a long table in the grove.

In the afternoon a historic program was presented, when all former pastors were recognized.

Since the church was organized it has been served by 27 pastors and supply pastors. The Rev. Noah Richardson was first shepherd of the flock, remaining at Bethlehem from 1834 until September, 1886. It was in 1860, during his pastorate, that the church was blessed with a great revival, accounting for baptism of 89 new members. After the 32 years service of Mr. Richardson came:

The Rev. D. C. Murchison, T. M. Baldwin, W. H. H. Lawhon, S. Gilmore, J. F. Moore, W. F. Watson, J. R. Pendergrass, J. R. Harkins, G. L. Murrell, K. C. Horner, C. J. Funderston, C. M. McIntosh, A. C. Cree, G. L. Finch, C. M. McIntosh, W. H. H. Lawhorn, G. J. Dowell, W. H. Strickland, W. H. Baucum, J. O. Fullbright, J. E. Ayscue, W. W. Williams, S. E. Hannon and R. H. Weaver.

The Rev. Messrs. Moore and Watson deserve special mention inasmuch as it was under their zealous leadership that the old church in the northwest corner of the cemetery was replaced by the present building.

The intervening vacancies were filled by various ministers. It is interesting to note that the combined pastorates of the Revs. Noah Richardson, S. G. Gilmore and J. E. Ayscue equal half the years of the church's existence.

Many sons of Bethlehem have gone out to preach, among them W. H. H. Lawhorn, deceased; W. A. Barrett, deceased; J. F. Moore, deceased; C. M. McIntosh, deceased; W. C. Barrett, deceased; R. R. Gordon, D. W. Arnette and S. E. Hannon.

The Rev. J. Clyde Turner, pastor of the First Baptist church, Greensboro, closed the afternoon service with an inspirational address.

DEMAND FOR WINTER HOMES IN PINEHURST AND SOUTHERN PINES POINTS TO GOOD SEASON AHEAD

House on Tour

Heyward Residence, Sawed in Two, Hauled by Truck to New Location

Southern Pines has been treated this week to a novel use of the automobile. When Reinecke & Company was awarded the contract for the new Woolnough house on Weymouth Heights it acquired the old Heyward house, which it proposes to salvage and rebuild on another location. It is a structure that the Reineckes consider as having possibilities. So they cast about for a home for the orphan house and found a place on Morganton Road.

Then to avoid tearing it down and rebuilding they sawed it into two parts, secured some men skilled in juggling houses on the hoof, had some skids placed under the foundation of the first half of the building, hooked on a big truck and set off down Massachusetts avenue with the car dragging the big house like a little boy and his goat and wagon.

Real Estate Dealers Report Many Rentals of Residences and Apartments

CALDERWOOD HOUSE SOLD

If rentals of homes for the winter are a criterion of the season about to open in the Sandhills, there is just cause for optimism. Not in three years has there been the demand for cottages and houses in Southern Pines and Pinehurst as so far this fall, according to real estate men.

There will be many new faces here during the winter. In a list of rentals for the season given The Pilot this week by Paul T. Barnum appear numerous new names. The list also reveals that many of the larger homes in Southern Pines have been leased, among them the Pavenstedt house on Morganton Road, near the Country Club, and the Henne residence on Highland Road in Weymouth. Eugene C. Stevens also reports this week the rental of the John Y. Boyd house on Weymouth Heights.

A sale on Massachusetts avenue was also reported during the week by Mr. Barnum. Marland Woolnough of Toronto, Canada, who recently purchased the former Heyward property on which he will start immediate construction of a large winter residence, has also acquired the Calderwood house nearby, and will make his home therein during the building of his new home. Mr. Barnum has also sold a lot at the corner of Ridge street and Morganton Road to E. W. Reinecke, which will be the site of the reconstructed Heyward house now being removed from the Woolnough premises.

Activity in Pinehurst

Leonard Tufts, back this week from a summer spent in Meredith, New Hampshire, told The Pilot yesterday that he was much encouraged over the demand for cottages in Pinehurst this winter. "We have not had such a demand in years, and houses are commanding better prices than in the past few years," he said.

There have also been some important sales in Pinehurst and considerable new building is in progress there. Rentals for the season reported by Mr. Barnum are as follows:

Houses Kohring, Lake street, to W. T. Kennedy, Chautauque, N. Y.; Powell, New Hampshire avenue, to Mrs. Frank V. Dennison. Barnum, Country Club Drive, to Dr. J. J. Spring, Fitchburg, Mass.; Block, Indiana avenue, to Clyde Alexander; Tracy, Country Club Drive, to Raymond Kennedy; Pavenstedt, Morganton.
