

Building and Loan Associations Play Prominent Part in Recovery

Lending From Three to Four Hundred Thousand Monthly in State of North Carolina

The Building and Loan associations in North Carolina occupy a prominent place in the recovery of the building industry as it relates to residential construction and repair work. Recent surveys reveal that the associations are lending from $300,000.00 to $400,000.00 monthly for modernization of present homes and for the construction of new homes, according to a statement made by Paul J. Kiker, president of the North Carolina Building and Loan League. Moore county has associations in Aberdeen, Carthage, Pinehurst and Southern Pines.

In commenting upon statistics recently gathered by the United States Building and Loan League covering the country as a whole, Mr. Kiker pointed out that practically half of the contracts for new residential buildings awarded in November were financed by construction loans from building and loan associations. He pointed out further that while contracts awarded for residential construction in November revealed a total of $19,924,700.00, it is estimated that the building and loan associations advanced $9,246,000.00 of construction loans during that period. Figures for the three Fall months reveal that construction loans by these local thrift and home financing institutions were 40 percent of the total new residential contracts awarded, according to Mr. Kiker.

The United States Building and Loan League has gathered this information from its members in all the states. Based upon this information, it is estimated that $65,000,000.00 has been placed into the construction industry by these institutions during the Fall months of 1934. The building and loan associations in this state are well supplied with funds and are extremely anxious to do their bit in creating the employment of labor by making loans both for remodeling present homes and for the construction of new ones where needed.

Miss Thurla Cole charmingly entertained the Merry-Makers last Friday evening at her home on Carthage Road. The living room was particularly attractive with its wide open fireplace, filled with blazing logs, and many handsome potted plants, interspersed with bowls of narcissus and a blooming cactus. Special guests were Mrs. J. L. McGraw of Carthage and Mrs. Loula Muse.

Circle No. 1 of the Presbyterian Woman's Auxiliary was graciously entertained by Mrs. Donald McDonald on Wednesday afternoon of last week. Mrs. M. D. McNeill, program leader, conducted the impressive devotional.

An interesting letter from W. C. Worth of Mutoto, Africa, telling of his work in that field, especially the building of permanent Girls' Homes with funds donated by the "Birthday Offering" of the Southern Woman's Auxiliary, was read by Mrs. Loula Muse. Mrs. Worth is superintending the erection of these buildings to accommodate 120 girls.

The buildings are well underway and Mr. Worth will have them furnished before he leaves on furlough in July.

On the same afternoon, Miss Marie Parker was delightful hostess to Circle No. 3 of the same auxiliary. A well planned program was rendered, showing the deep interest in missions manifested by these young girls.

There will be a tuberculosis clinic at the home of Mrs. J. M. Guthrie on Wednesday, January 30th. Those wishing free examinations are invited to come between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock. The clinic will be conducted by Dr. J. Symington and Miss Ollie Seagroves, and is sponsored by the Health and Welfare Department of the Cameron Woman's Club.

Mrs. M. D. McNeill spent Friday in Carthage with her sister, Mrs. C. C. Yates, who has been ill for several days.

Miss Frances May Turner, who was ill for a week with influenza, resumed her school work Monday.

Miss Virginia Graham of Route 1 has accepted a position with the McPherson Cafe.

Mrs. Anna Culberson, Mrs. C. P. Rogers and Miss Anna Rogers of Sanford were guests Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wooten.

Mrs. L. B. McKeithen, Miss Isabel McKeithen, Murdoch and L. B., Jr., George and John McDermott spent Saturday in Raleigh.

Evander McFadyen, son of the late Gideon McFadyen and Flora McFadyen, who has made his home in California for a number of years arrived last week and will spend some time with his mother.

Uncle Sam in Drive To Get Baby Records

Launches Campaign for Registration and Asks Cooperation of All Parents

"Register Your Baby."

This admonition is the slogan of a campaign Uncle Sam will conduct in every county in North Carolina during the next few weeks, going into every city, town, village, community and the rural side in an effort to get a complete record of every baby born in the State during the past 12 months.

State laws require that every doctor or midwife who attends a mother at a birth make a report of such birth and this is usually done. On occasions, however, midwives, particularly, and doctors occasionally, fail to make the proper report, with the result that there is no permanent record of the birth, and no birth certificate is later available. And many times, during the life of the average man, it becomes important, even vital, to establish his age.

The Federal Government is attempting to complete the records of births throughout the United States and is calling upon all parents in North Carolina now to aid in this compilation. The campaign is being conducted by the United States Bureau of the Census, through the North Carolina State Board of Health and with the aid of the North Carolina Emergency Relief Administration.

Early in February the Bureau of the Census, with the aid of the Post-office Department, will distribute to every family in the State a card on which a few simple facts are to be filled in, and the card dropped in a mail box, without postage. The principal effort is to get all parents to whom babies have been born within the past year to fill in these cards and mail them. This simple act makes sure that the child reported is then properly recorded and a certificate of birth will be easy to secure. A complete response to the call is sought.

guest of the Rev. and Mrs. M. D. McNeill Monday.

Miss Elizabeth Ray, who has been ill with influenza, went to her mother's, Mrs. D. S. Ray, Sr., at Niagara last Friday. Mrs. Ray and Miss Elizabeth expect to spend the rest of the winter in Chapel Hill with Mr. and Mrs. Huggins.

Miss Vera McLean, after spending a week at home, returned to Mrs. Wadsworth at Pinehurst Monday. She will accompany Mrs. Wadsworth and family to Florida to spend the remainder of the winter.

The Rev. J. W. Hartsell celebrated his 80th birthday last week. A dinner was served and the occasion a most happy one, made particularly so by the presence of Mrs. J. W. Hartsell at the table, her first appearance since she fractured her hip some two years ago.

The Cameron School faculty will present the play, "Here Comes Charlie," on Friday evening February 1st, at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium.

HENRY THOMAS HENNINGS OF UPPER HOKE COUNTY DIES

Funeral services for Henry Thomas Hennings, well known farmer of upper Hoke county who passed away at his home on Friday at the age of 77 years, were conducted at 2 o'clock Saturday at Union church by the pastor, the Rev. Charles A. Lawrence. Mr. Henning had recently suffered a stroke of paralysis.

Since 1915 Mr. Hennings had been a resident of this section of the country, having come from Yadkin county.

He is survived by his widow, the former Miss Fannie L. North, and the following children: Carl Hennings of Detroit, Mich., Hobert, J. G., Luther (Jake), Tom and Wesley Hennings, Mrs. Harvey Wilson, Mrs. W. R. Davis, Mrs. Dewey Hobson and Miss Inez Hennings of the home community.

YOUNG VASS BOY CRITICALLY ILL AT DUKE HOSPITAL

Quentin (T. T.) Alexander, who was carried to Duke Hospital early last week with acute Bright's disease, is critically ill, according to reports from the hospital. Mr. Alexander has been in Durham since Thursday of last week, and Mrs. Alexander was summoned to her son's bedside on Monday night. The latest report indicated slight improvement, but stated that his condition was critical.

Hiram Ricker, director of Poland Springs, Me., where many Pinehurst guests go in the summer time, arrived yesterday at the Carolina with Mrs. Ricker. With them are Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Worthington of Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa.

Spread of Influenza Can Be Checked by Simple Health Rules

County Health Officer, in Talk on Prevention, Says Present Cases Here Mild Ones

By Dr. J. Symington, County Health Officer

Influenza is an Italian word meaning influenza; in this case, an evil influence. La-grippe is the French name for influenza and is the same disease.

This disease in epidemic form at lesser or greater intervals of years. It usually attacks a great many people and as a rule acts very rapidly. The first great epidemic noted was in the middle of the last century, and the last great world-wide epidemic occurred in 1918 when millions succumbed to this disease. Influenza is a septicemia and we still have a lot to learn about it.

The bulletin states: After twelve years of intensive study the scientific world knows little more about influenza than it ever knew. It is still thought that the disease is spread largely by careless spitting, coughing, sneezing and that the minute agent infection is carried thus from one person to another.

Conditions thought to be very favorable for its spread may be found in crowds and public gatherings, churches, schools, picture shows, business houses, fairs, circuses, buses, trains, or any place where people congregate. Soda fountains which do not supply individual cups may be especially dangerous.

How to keep from taking influenza: Keep away from crowds, especially indoor gatherings. Avoid people who cough, sneeze and spit without holding a handkerchief over the nose and mouth. Do not use common drinking cups or towels, and keep away from soda fountains that do not supply individual cups and sterilized spoons. Keep the bowels open. Snuff vaseline up the nose three times a day. Gargle mouth and throat and rinse out nose with warm salt water, using a level teaspoonful of salt to a glass of warm water. Sleep and eat regularly. These are very important. Keep in the open air and sunshine as much as practicable and have good ventilation in the home and office. Wash your hands before eating, and never put your unwashed hands in your mouth. Do not give the disease to others—when you sneeze or cough. Always bow the head and cover both nose and mouth with handkerchief.

Symptoms Defined

In most cases a person taken with influenza feels sick rather suddenly. He feels weak, has pains in the eyes, ears, head or back, and maybe all over. Many patients feel dizzy, some vomit. Most of the patients complain of feeling chilly, and with this comes a fever in which the temperature rises to 100 to 104. In most cases the pulse remains relatively slow. In appearance one is struck by the fact that the patient looks sick. His eyes and the inner side of his eyelids may be slightly bloodshot or congested. There may be running from the nose, and there may be some cough. These signs of a cold may not be marked; nevertheless, the patient looks and feels sick. If you have any of these symptoms, go to bed at once and send for a doctor and follow his directions explicitly. If you cannot obtain a doctor at once, stay in bed with plenty of cover to keep you warm, open all windows and keep them open, take medicine to open the bowels freely, and take nourishing food, as milk, eggs and broth every four hours. Allow no one else to sleep in the same room. Protect others by sneezing and coughing into cloths which can be boiled or burned. Stay in bed until the doctor tells you it is safe to get up; or, until you have been without fever for at least four days.

Influenza is a treacherous disease. If one is fortunate enough to escape pneumonia during or immediately following the attack, the lungs and respiratory system are frequently so inflamed that tuberculosis develops. The heart is over-worked and needs rest. Therefore, do not return to work or leave home until you have regained your strength, whether it is a week or a month.

Physical Examination

If complete recovery does not take place within two weeks, have your family physician carefully and thoroughly examine every vital organ and function of the body. Follow instructions the doctor may give you after such an examination.

Do not become unduly alarmed during the epidemic—use judgment and common sense. Be sure and help those who cannot help themselves. If precautions are taken, it is not dangerous to care for the sick. During an influenza epidemic the dangerous fellow is not the sick-in-bed, but the one who goes about coughing, sneezing and spitting in a careless manner.

There are no vaccines or serums for influenza. Don't waste your money on patent medicines—they are dangerous.

As present there are some cases of influenza in Moore county and other counties of North Carolina, as there are in almost every state of the Union. These cases are mild and the influenza prevalent at present are winter influenza from which patients do not as a rule die. There seems to be little cause for alarm or fear at this time of year, indeed a light attack of influenza now may cause one to be immune if a severe epidemic occurs during the summer months.

All schools in Moore county are open and I advise that they carry on as far as influenza is concerned. There are no other special epidemics prevalent at present.

COUNTY COUNCIL MEETING AT CARTHAGE TODAY

The County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs of Moore county will meet in the office of the home demonstration agent in the court house at 2 o'clock this, Friday, afternoon. Mrs. Estelle T. Smith, district agent, will speak to the club women and will conduct a class in parliamentary procedure which is expected to be both interesting and helpful. A full attendance is desired.

The Willing Workers of the Baptist Church met Tuesday afternoon at the Highland Lodge, with Mrs. A. E. Stevens and Mrs. Bertha Howell as hostesses.

Bird Club To Open Season Next Tuesday

Members and Friends Will Make Pilgrimage to Sanctuary in Piney Woods

Each year as February draws near bird lovers grow more and more restless—a happy urging to get in closer touch with nature. So next Tuesday morning at 9:15, all who feel that call are invited to be on hand at the New England House for the initial meeting of the Bird Club for 1935.

If weather conditions are possible, a visit may be first paid to Piney Woods with its Bird Sanctuary, close at hand. The meeting will be held in the comfortable parlor of the hotel and those not ready to spend an hour out in the open can pass the time pleasantly until the hunters return. The aim of the club is to encourage a love of wild bird life and any person with that love is urged to come and share in this joyous hobby, no matter how little or how much he or she may know about it. The annual fee of fifty cents includes the privilege of making use of various books on the subject belonging to the club, which is less of an organization than a gathering of friendly folk with a real interest in common.

A meeting of the Divisional Code Authority for Plumbers was held at O'Callaghan's last Friday night. There were about fifteen members present.
