

MINSTRELS COMING

Winstead's "Mighty Minstrel Show" is coming to Southern Pines for the week of March 14. This show has played here for several seasons and comes again with all new talent. It will pitch its big tent in West Southern Pines, with a special reserved section for white people, and will give a free street parade the first day.

Hoey Designates Safety Week in North Carolina

Slaughter on Highways Must Cease, Says Governor in Asking Cooperation

Governor Hoey, asserting that the "slaughter on the highways must cease," has designated next week as "Safety week in North Carolina." Pointing out that an average of nearly three persons are killed daily in motor vehicle accidents in the state, the Governor called on the "whole citizenship of North Carolina to make this week tell mightily in the promotion of public safety on our highways throughout the entire year."

A safety program designed to "protect your life and the life of your child," will be announced during the week, the Governor said.

His statement follows in part: "The State Association of County Commissioners and the Highway Safety division are jointly promoting this special period of safety observance."

"I am asking every minister in the state to call attention in the Sunday service to this important matter and urge compliance with the rules of safety by every person who drives a motor vehicle and every person who walks or travels in any other way upon the public roads. The same appeal should be made in every public school and college. The civic clubs are urged to conduct safety programs and otherwise aid in making all the people safety conscious."

"The need for a safety program is great, the policy is education for those who will be reasonable and enforcement for those who will not. The slaughter on the highways must cease. The death rate can be lessened. It has been appalling for several years.

1,123 Killed in Year

"Last year 1,123 persons were killed on the highways of this state, an average of nearly three persons a day, and 7,990 were injured. North Carolina's record is bad in this particular and it must be improved. For the whole 18 months our soldiers participated in the World War, only 629 from North Carolina were killed in battle, while nearly twice that many die in peace times by accidents

PINEHURST, SOUTHERN PINES TOSS FOR RACES STORY

the doings under her dateline, nor Southern Pines of Pinehurst. Sports editors knew not what it was all about. One day a story from one town, next from another—all the same stuff.

A few weeks ago press associations put their respective feet down.

"You'll have to do something about it," they informed Pinehurst and Southern Pines. And Pinehurst and Southern Pines press bureaus appealed to the Sandhills Steeplechase and Racing Association. Directors put heads together. And eventually out came an idea.

The association moved, seconded and carried a motion to ask "Bob" Harlow of the Pinehurst Press Bureau and Howard Burns of the Southern Pines scribal force to toss a coin for this year's news coverage of events in that No Man's Land midway between. With the understanding that if Pinehurst won the toss and the coverage—this year, Southern Pines automatically handled it under her dateline next year, and so on ad infinitum. And with the further agreement that whoever handled it any year, the race course should always be referred to as "midway between" the two towns.

Well, "Bob" and Howard met the other night in front of the treatre—just by chance. And just by chance an official of the steeplechase association came along. He tossed the quarter.

"Heads," yelled Pinehurst's Harlow. It was tails.

So it's Southern Pines this year, good people. And if by chance Burns should accidentally leave it out of some story some day please just mentally insert it yourself—you know, "midway between Pinehurst and Southern Pines."

on our highways, in one year. "The National Safety Council states that we have reduced our percentage of deaths over the last three years 14 percent, based upon the number of cars licensed and the amount of gasoline consumed. "This is not enough . . . we are still one of the 10 worst States for fatal accidents. It is encouraging to know that the past January was the best January for five years from the standpoint of accidents."

"Romance In The Dark," smart combination of music and sophisticated comedy, produced with taste and luxuriant quality, makes it sure fire for the Delivers. Rates as the best of Gladys Swarthout offerings both in the musical and romantic phases and will serve to swing this excellent Diva's stock on the upward curve." The above is a wire received from Hollywood on February 16th, relative to Gladys Swarthout's new production, "Romance In The Dark," the attraction at the Pinehurst Theatre, Sunday night (only) March 6th at 8:30. The vocalizing of popular and classical selections is most capably handled by Gladys Swarthout and John Boles while the latter indulges in impressive comic interludes with John Barrymore.

Katherine Hepburn, revealing her talent as a comedienne with Cary Grant opposite her, in "Bringing Up Baby" is the attraction at Pinehurst Monday, March 7th, at 3:00 and 8:30 p. m. and is offered as one of the outstanding laugh-shows of the season. Backed by a sparkling cast headed by Charles Ruggles and May Robson, the stars "go to town" in uproarious fashion. When good actors get together something exciting is bound to happen. Which is just another way of saying that the newest musical, "Start Cheering" the attraction at Pinehurst, Wednesday, March 9th, at 3:00 and 8:30 p. m., is a whole lot of swell entertainment. It's tuneful and funny and fast, and it boasts one of the largest collection of star names the screen has seen under one roof. Walter Connolly, Jimmy Durante, Joan Perry, Charles Starrett, Professor Quiz (of radio fame) are in the cast. About a year ago, Hal Roach, past master of unvarnished cinema, revamped production plans and embarked upon an ambitious undertaking of providing entertainment which would take upon itself a mantle of dignity insofar as artistry and situation was concerned. His first new type production was "Topper" the success of which spread quickly throughout the land. The second is "Merrily We Live," the attraction at Pinehurst Friday, March 11th at 3:00 and 8:30 p. m. For a cast, he selected Constance Bennett, Billie Burke, Alan Mowbray, Brian Aherne, Tom Brown, Paty Kelly, Ann Dvorak, Bonita Granville and Clarence Kolk.

At Southern Pines

So tremendously successful a picture was the picturization last Spring of "Penrod and Sam" by the immortal Booth Tarkington that demands poured in to the studio for another story dealing with Tark's resourceful and amusing young hero, that not only was another one made in the shape of "Penrod and His Twin Brother," the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre Monday and Tuesday, March 7th and 8th, with a Tuesday matinee, but there is to be a third and goodness knows how "Brother" brings to the screen both of the brilliant 13-year-old Mauch twins who made such a tremendous hit in "The Prince and the Pauper," instead of merely Billy who was alone in the first of the stories. Once again, playing Penrod's parents, are Frank Craven and Spring Byington.

"The Big Broadcast of 1933," featuring W. C. Fields, is playing a return engagement at the Southern Pines Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, March 9th and 10th, with a Thursday matinee. Dorothy Lamour, Bob Hope, Shirley Ross, Ben Blue, Martha Raye, Grace Bradley, Rufe Davis and many other make up a superb supporting cast.

Another revival, and one long to be remembered is one of Will Rogers' most popular productions, "The Country Chairman" presents this beloved comedian in his happiest role as George Ade's uproarious small-town politician. He wins elections (and hearts) with his crackling wit and homespun Americanism. "The Country Chairman" is the attraction at Southern Pines Friday and Saturday, March 11th and 12th with a Saturday matinee.

NOTE—Rather than have your printing sent out of town or out of the county The Pilot will meet the bona fide quotation of any reputable printing concern.
