"17 Years of Service" Aberdeen and Southern Pines

Theatre

In these days when there is so much discussion, pro and con, concern the Parole systems of various states, the new Sylvia Sidney-George Raft co-starring production, "You And Me," the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 13, 14 and 15, at 8:30 p. m. with a Tuesday matinee, will prove of unusual interest. The fact that parole laws of many states forbid marriages for paroled persons, motivates the story. The two stars, last seen together in "Pick-Up," play the roles of young ex-convicts, working for a philanthropic department store owner whose hobby is to give men and women a chance to go straight. Raft, who has served his parole, marries Miss Sidney after making a complete confession to her. Miss Sidney, still on parole, conceals her past from him because she knows that by probation regulations, she may not marry. And also she is aware of the fact that Raft is desperately trying to steer clear of anything that will remind him of his gangster days.

George Raft started a new career with his portrayal of Gary Cooper's happy-go-lucky, slave-trading pal, Powdah, in "Souls At Sea," and he will be seen again with the unbracketed hair, and there isn't a villainous streak in his character. The two stars are supported by a host of well known screen stars, including Robert Cummings, Barton MacLane, Roscoe Karns, Harry Carey, Warner Hymer, Guinn Williams and two favorites of earlier film days, Jack Mulhall and Julia Faye.

The "Gold Diggers" are with us again, bringing with them a record number of laughs, hit tunes and oh—so beautiful girls in "Gold Diggers in Paris," the attractions for Thursday, Friday and Saturday June 16, 17, and 18, at 8:30 p. m. with a Saturday matinee. As usual with this annual delight, a host of comedians, songsters and dancers is offered, including this time, Rudy Vallee, Rosemary Lane, the diverting Schmickel-Fritz Band, Hugh Herbert, Allen Jenkins, Mabel Todd, Melvinne Cooper, Ed Brophy, Fritz Feld, Gloria Dickson, with tunes by Al Dubin and Johnny Mercer and spirited dancing numbers staged by Busby Berkeley with a chorus of Gold Diggers who are very easy to look at.

The hilarious story revolves about the comical error perpetrated by Hugh Herbert in singing up a troupe of dancers from a New York night club, operated by Vallee and Jenkins, to represent America in an international ballet contest in Paris. After numerous complications, sometimes exciting and always funny, the hotcha American chorus girls actually get on the state at the ballet contest and make the judges forget all about ballet when they do their hot and swiny routines.

Moore Sends Red Cross Roll Call Check of $583

Treasure Paul Dana Pays Tribute To Miss Laura Kelsey For Fine 1938 Drive

The Moore County Chapter, American Red Cross, this week sent off to Washington its check for the national headquarters' share of the 1938 Membership Roll Call in the county. The check totalled $583.25. With it went the report of Paul Dana, treasurer, which showed the following items making up the total: 1047 Annual $1.00 memberships, of which the national association gets 50 cents each—$523.50.

50 Contributing—$5.00 memberships, also at 50 cents—$25.00.

17 Sustaining $25.00 memberships, at 50 cents—$8.50.

21 Supporting $25.00 memberships, at 50 cents—$10.50.

Contributions of less than $1.00, which amounted to $31.49 and of which the national association gets one-half—$15.75.

Said Mr. Dana in his report to Washington:

"I might say that our Roll Call far exceeded our expectations as the year before we had 1002 members, and we were doubtful if we could come within ten percent of that total. The fact that we were able to increase that total by more than ten per cent was chiefly due to the splendid organizing work carried out by Miss Laura Kelsey of Southern Pines, County Chairman of the Roll Call."

POTTS QUESTIONS ON CIVIC CENTER ANSWERED

(Continued from page one) the permanency of Southern Pines as a place to live, it is nevertheless as a resort that a great many people look upon it. That feature must not be neglected. Of the people who come here, though many are golfers or riders, an equal number, we imagine, are older people or else quiet people or people who come here to recuperate from sinus or colds or whatnot. These people do not lead an energetic existence; their diversion is to stroll about and sit in the sun, to read or watch the birds. Though their need is not as elaborate as that of the athletes—no golf course or stables or horses—still it is just as important to them, and it is just as vital for the town to provide it. These tourists need pretty surroundings and quiet; in other words: parks. A resort town such as this cannot have too many parks, and we at present have too few. A person cannot sit forever on the porch of his hotel; he gets tired even of the hotel garden; what he wants is to take a short stroll downtown, to go by the post-office and the shops and then make his way to a place where he can sit on a bench under a big pine, hearing the wind stirring in the tops, far enough from the street so he can relax in comfort and read his paper and maybe take a snooze if he feels like it.

This may seem a digression from the question at issue: could the new Civic Center be built on the site of the present Town building? But it is, we maintain, right to the point. The park as it is is too crowded. It would be improved a hundred times by the elimination of all buildings. Actually the athletic should go, too, and we should have another place for this very necessary playground. This is probably beyond the realms of possibility but let us at least do the best we can, plan for the future removal of all public buildings from this much needed park.

5. Does the new project to be voted on allow for increased funds to carry the new center?

The Bond Issue to be voted on includes only money to buy the land. It is presumed that the town would then hold this land as a park until a library could be built by private subscription. Those favoring this project hope that in the future a town hall could also be built on the site, or possible the Town and the Library Association could combine on a joint building. Possibly something could be worked out in the form of a broad H-shaped building having the town offices in one end, the library as the other wing and, connecting the two, a small auditorium.

This is a plan, it must always be remembered, for the future—perhaps for the distant future. It all depends on how the town develops and how the State and the country develops. If none of these improvements become possible, the land can always be sold.

6. Will non taxpayers be allowed to vote for this project?

We know of no law which would prevent non tax-payers from voting, so long as they are legal residents of Southern Pines and specifically registered for this election.

7. How much money will it cost

DEANE HIGH MAN IN CONGRESSIONAL RACE

"I also wish to express my admiration for the manner in which the primary was conducted by the election officials and the fair treatment accorded each candidate."

Burgin Confident In a statement over the telephone to The Pilot early in the week Mr. Burgin expressed confidence in the second primary, basing his optimism on the heavy Beasley vote in Union county which he believes will go his way.

George R. Ross told The Pilot he greatly appreciated the fine vote he received in his home county, and said that his disappointment was assuaged by the fact that he didn't have to enter the run-off primary. In answer to a question about his support of either Burgin or Deane in the second primary, George said: "Hands off."

to swing the whole deal?

We see no way of answering this question. A thing like this cannot be planned all in a lump, although we all wish that it could. Too many factors enter in. It has to depend on future developments. We sympathize with our correspondent's hesitancy about biting off more than we can chew. Yet if we fail to take the first bite we may miss a mighty fine piece of pie.

Other towns, smaller than ours by far, have town halls and libraries that are assets of inestimable value to the communities. They have been obtained by private subscription, by voting bond issues, by the use of PWA funds—and by the forethought and planning of an awakened and public-spirited community. It seems to us that what other towns can do we can do.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

I desire to express to the Democratic voters of Moore county my grateful appreciation for the splendid support accorded my candidacy for Prosecuting Attorney in last Saturday's Primary.
