Red Cross Engaged in Getting Off War Quota

Anything in Way of Clothing, Sweaters, Etc., Will Be Welcomed

The Moore County Red Cross Production Committee now has some twenty-five workers busily engaged in knitting warm sweaters, and socks. These, together with a number of warm woolen dresses in sizes for both women and children, are being shipped to National headquarters in Washington as the local Chapter's contribution towards relieving the suffering of refugees in the various European nations now at war. The shipments as they are sent to the various countries from Washington include heavy sweaters and dresses, socks, mufflers, layettes, as well as surgical dressings and hospital bed shirts. Each Chapter has been asked to contribute a number of warm garments and the fine response of this group of volunteer knitters will make it possible for the local chapter to send its quota. A most welcome gift of one hundred pounds of wool from Mrs. Chatfield has also been of great help. Anyone interested in helping with this work is asked to get in touch with Mrs. Alice Burt Hunt, Southern Pines, or to come to the weekly meetings of the group from ten to twelve on Friday at the Southern Pines Civic Club.

GOERCH TALKS TO OIL MEN HERE ON STATE ROAD TAXES

(Continued from page one) deficit arises," Goerch said, "is like a man having a rich aunt who said, 'John, you've got to make $5,000 a year in order to support yourself and your family. I want you to do your best to earn that $5,000, but if you can only earn $4,000, come back and I'll give you a check for the difference.' The editor said that if the man had no rich aunt to depend upon, he probably would make a greater effort to earn the needed $5,000, or, if unable to earn it, he would prune his expense down to the level of his income.

"If we are not careful, we may see the day when the highway fund will be serving as a rich aunt to the state's treasury," Goerch said.

Dear Julie:
I do hope that there is a Gymkhana on Valentine's Day, because I want a reason for getting that light blue flannel suit at Tots' Toggery, and then I want some special occasion to wear it. It has a circular skirt with suspenders and a jacket with milky white buttons, a pointed collar like Daddy's shirts, and a pocket.
Love,
Penny
