Kitchen Band

Those watching and listening to William John Graham as he tooted his curtain rod and sang in the fifth grade's "Kitchen Band," which was a pleasing feature of stunt night at Vass-Lakeview School on Thursday of last week, did not suspect that his part of the program was being performed in a "the show must go on" spirit, for he seemed to be throwing himself into the music with the same wholehearted abandon that characterized the performance of the thirty or more youngsters who had been trained by their teacher, Mrs. C. P. McMillan. But behind stage, William John was a sick boy. The next day he was operated on for appendicitis at Moore County Hospital, where he is now recovering nicely. He is the son of Mr and Mrs. Will J. Graham of the Crane's Creek section.

Group two was awarded a prize for its presentation of "How the Story Grew," and Retha Mae Cox, with "The Bath Hour," won the reading prize. "Corn Fed Babies" and "The Leading Lady" were the other plays given and both elicited favorable comment.

The plays were directed by Mrs. W. E. Gladstone.

A "Kitchen Band" with Hazel Jessup as director played and sang several numbers and a group of "wooden soldiers" staged a drill that was well received. This part of the program was by Mrs. C. P. McMillan's fifth grade. Janet Rosser played the piano accompaniments.

Eight Balls of Fire

IF you like fireworks, and who doesn't, it's really too bad you can't see what goes on inside that sparkling big Buick FIREBALL eight that romps you so easily down the broad highway.

There you'd see eight busy cylinders, with pistons flashing up and down...

You'd see each fuel charge packed tight into a tiny bundle shaped like a flattened ball...

You'd see the spark leap, the flame spread, the piston thrust down with extra force as each furious fireball lets go its pent-up wallop.

You'd see all this happening as fast as thirty times a second in each of those eight cylinders—and we think you'd understand then just why there's such a special and exciting satisfaction in the way a Buick travels.

Gasoline gives up more of its power when it's packed as tightly as it is here.

and how they can travel!

That special, flattened-ball shape of the compressed fuel charge means smoother, better burning, full focus of the power on the piston head, where it counts.

the bonnet, you really travel!

You travel farther on every gallon; you travel more pleasurably.

You travel—but, shucks! Why listen to talk when there's a Buick dealer nearby waiting to show you how you travel behind a FIREBALL?
