Theatre

An "all out" program is offered at the Carolina Theatre for the week of September 14, when the most talked-of attraction of the year, "Citizen Kane," with Orson Welles, will come to Pinehurst, Sunday September 14, at 8:30 and to Southern Pines, Monday and Tuesday, September 15, 16, at 8:20 p. m. It is entirely the work of Welles, in production, supervision and direction, and collaboration on screenplay. As a writer and actor he is superb. The controversy, which made news headlines speculating on the possibility that this film might never be released, fits in magnificently with this wholly "different," even revolutionary, film. It is the dynamic, keyed-to-concert-pitch type of drama which this author-actor-director has displayed in his stage and radio offerings. The running time is 120 minutes which suggests the advisability of being in your seats on time.

Second attraction for the week, is also the second production of George Bernard Shaw, whose "Pygmalion" delighted theatre goers. This time it is "Major Barbara," produced and directed by Gabriel Pascal who gave us "Pygmalion," and again starring Wendy Hiller, supported by Rex Harrison and Robert Morley, remembered for excellent work in "Marie Antoinette." The sarcastic wit of George Bernard Shaw together with the directional genius of Gabriel Pascal, make "Major Barbara" a top ranking production. "Major Barbara" comes to Southern Pines Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 17, 18. This is 122 minutes long and folks who are late will miss something.

The climax of the week, is "Sun Valley Serenade" on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 19, 20, with a Saturday matinee. Starring Sonja Henie, smartly paced with romance, jive, laughter, dancing, skating and skiing, set in the colorful background of Sun Valley and enhanced by strong production values, "Sun Valley Serenade" is a musical which will ring the bell strongly and loudly wherever it is shown. Added to the cast are John Payne, Milton Berle, Lynn Bari, Joan Davis, for some extra comedy and the Nicholas Brothers for a smash dance routine. The customary ice ballet is enhanced by a spectacular setting of black ice.
