McKeithen Discusses Our "Bill of Rights"

County Prosecutor Analyzes Charter of Freedom, Which America Is Now Defending

Timely and keen was the talk on the "Bill of Rights" delivered by W. W. A. Leland McKeithen, county prosecutor, to his fellow Kiwanis members, meeting at Oak Point Farm in Carthage Wednesday.

Tracing the story of liberty and freedom of thought, inquiry, religion and speech, McKeithen started with the era of Socrates, who gave up his life rather than to give up his freedom of thought.

"All of our freedoms, basically," the speaker said, "branch out of this freedom of thought."

Kiwanis was observing Bill of Rights week, which begins next Monday. Quoting the first 10 amendments to the constitution, McKeithen pointed out how essential these were to our democratic government and that these freedoms were now endangered by the Axis aggression.

At motion of Preston T. Kelsey, the Kiwanis Club adopted a resolution of sympathy to its president, I. C. Sledge and Mrs. Sledge, whose mother, Mrs. McNeill, just died.

In the absence of Sledge, president-elect Leon Seymour presided. Guest of the club was Raymond Johnson of Pinehurst. Next week, the club will have its Ladies Night Banquet Wednesday at Carolina Hotel in Pinehurst. It was voted, also, to dispense with meeting, December 24.

Clarise Richardson Wins Tennis Title

A freshman at Greensboro College became queen of the net last week. She was Clarise Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. U. Richardson of Pinehurst.

It took two hard-fought sets for the Richardson girl to win, one 10-8 and the other 6-3, to defeat Helen Prince, the sophomore titlist. Miss Richardson was Pinehurst high school champion of three consecutive years.

Village Court Block Sold to Leo Earhardt

Sale of the unique block of stores and offices called The Village Court in Pinehurst was announced during the week by L. L. Biddle II & Co., to Leo J. Earhardt of New York City.

Constructed in 1931 by the original firm of Reed, Hurd and Biddle, the Village Court houses the Carolina Pharmacy, Inc., Village Newsstand, Eiddle and Co., The Gray Fox, Madame et La Jeune Fille, Inc; Mediterranean Shop, Village Court Hairdressers, and offices of Paul Dana and W. A. Leland McKeithen. It was understood that the leases of these tenants would not be affected.

COUNTY COTTON REPORT Census report shows that 1,104 bales of cotton were ginned in Moore County from the crop of 1941 prior to December 1, as compared with 1,681 bales for the crop of 1940, according to William D. Smith of Vass, special agent.

LOCAL "SCHOOL" NOT RECOGNIZED

Board Says Solicitations for Negro Institution Not Licensed By State

A warning to municipalities was sent out this week by Lily E. Mitchell, director, division of child welfare, State Board of Charities and Public Welfare, stating that soliciting for the Industrial Union Institute and Training School, located in West Southern Pines, was not licensed by the State Board.

The institution "has been known to this Board since the early 1920's. It was then a combined orphanage and training school for Negro children operated by J. M. Henderson." Miss Mitchell's statement says. "In 1925, as this institution could not meet the minimum requirements for a child-caring institution operating in North Carolina, the State Board . . . notified its officials . . . that this institution must be closed . . ."

"In 1930, a Negro man who gave his name as Bishop R. C. Lawson, pastor of 'The Refuge Church of Christ of the Apostolic Faith,' with address . . . 56 West 133rd Street, New York City acquired this property . . . Lawson's plan was to establish an orphanage and training school for Negro children . . . from the Harlem section of New York City. But the . . . Board refused to approve the project and to license such an institution as it could not meet our minimum requirements for child-caring institution operating in was no need of such an orphanage or institution in this state . . ."

"Therefore Bishop Lawson and his board decided to operate only as a 'boarding school' and our Board has a copy of their notarized minutes of 1930 and 1931 to that effect. "At that time, it was made quite clear to Bishop Lawson that any solicitation in North Carolina for this institution as a charitable institution would be unlawful. "We are informed that there are at present a total of 70 pupils, most of them from out of state, in this school paying at the rate of $20.00 per month per pupil for board and tuition. But during the past week a Negro man, who gives his name as Rev. Stephen Campbell, has been attempting to solicit funds for this Industrial Union Institute and Training School in a North Carolina city and was referred to this office for information and permit. The permit or license to solicit was refused . . ."

Rev. Campbell carried a "credential" numbered 150-and signed by Bishop Lawson, and states he was employed by the latter to represent and solicit for the . . . institution. Prior to coming to North Carolina, Rev. Campbell had solicited in New Jersey and Georgia . . ."

MRS. HUGHES WILL GIVE SOLILOQUY AT CHURCH Mrs. Ernest V. Hughes, whose lecture last week at the Civic Club was enthusiastically received, will give a soliloquy on "Mary, the Mother of Jesus" at the Emmanuel Episcopal Church next Tuesday afternoon, December 16, at 3 o'clock. The public is invited.

Good Advice Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tangney have returned to New York City from Pinehurst. They hadn't intended vacationing in Pinehurst at all, when they left the metropolis. Here's what happened: Driving through Virginia, they stopped at a service station and the Negro attendant asked where they were going. "Haven't decided yet. Just going South on a vacation," was Mr. Tangney's reply. "Why don't you all go to Pinehurst?" the attendant asked. "That's a GOOD place." His enthusiasm was so contagious that the Tangneys decided to look the place over. It looked good. They stayed out their vacation.

Theatre To use a colloquialism, M. G. M.'s "Design For Scandal," the attraction at Pinehurst, Sunday night, Dec. 14th, at 8:30 and Monday, Dec. 15th, at 3:00 and 8:30 p. m., is a "humdinger." It has everything that makes for entertainment for all types of patrons—Excellent portrayals, side-splitting comedy, a keenly developed story and the usual fine mounting associated with M. G. M. productions. The stars are Rosalind Russell, Walter Pidgeon and Edward Arnold, who do splendidly in their respective roles of judge, news photographer and news service head beset with alimony troubles. This Russell-Pidgeon-Arnold combination proves to be one of the most effective thus far assembled for this currently popular type of lustrous and lavish romantic comedy.

There are timeliness, punch, and plenty of thrill in "Confirm or Deny," that attraction at Pinehurst, Friday, Dec. 19th at 3:00 and 8:30 p. m. It is a newspaper story set against a background of London in the period of the worst of the Nazi air blitz on the English capital in September, 1940. With Don Ameche and Joan Bennett heading the cast and settings depicting bomb-ravaged London, it is a timely, fast moving and exciting story. Ameche plays the role of the go-getting head in London, who by sheer drive forces his staff to function despite constant air-raids. An added attraction is the new March of Time Magazine.

When Cadets get furloughs, they head for New York for fun and relaxation. And when they get to the big city, things happen. 20th Century-Fox concocted "Cadet Girl," around just such a situation, and entrusted it to two of its fast rising young stars, Carole Landis and George Montgomery. A "lilting, laughing triangle film," it comes to the Southern Pines Theatre, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 15-16, with a Tuesday matinee. The tuneful situation is of a West Point feuding with his tune baron brother. Interspersed with the intriguing story are five songs by those masters of tunes, Robin and Rainger. Included are "Uncle Sam Gets Around," "She's A Good Neighbor," "I'll Settle For You," "It's Happened, It's Over, Let's Forget It," and "My Old Man is An Army Man." The supporting cast includes John Shepperd, of "Belle Starr" fame; Robert Lowery, Basil Walker, Charles Tamm and Chick Chandler. On Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 17-18, with a Thursday matinee, Walter Brennan, Walter Huston and Anne Baxter, in "Swamp Water," play a return engagement.

On Friday and Saturday, Dec. 19-20, with a Saturday matinee, that intimitable comedy team, Abbott and Costello, play a return engagement in "Keep 'em Flying."

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Church of Wide Fellowship will meet Tuesday, December 18, at 3:30 o'clock in the Church parlor.
