Christmas Planned For Soldiers Here

A number of soldiers attached to the 57th Signal Corps, now located between Southern Pines and Aberdeen, will remain in camp over Christmas, and Southern Pines townspeople will have an opportunity to offer the men some Christmas spirit.

The Rev. F. Craighill Brown, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, who is head of local church and home hospitality committee, this week asked all families in Southern Pines who could entertain one or more soldiers for Christmas dinner to inform him immediately.

Soldiers will be brought into town on Christmas Day to the Episcopal Parish house, and local hosts will meet their soldier guests there at noon. Mr. Brown asked that those who will entertain soldiers for dinner telephone him as soon as possible so that all arrangements can be completed.

The 57th was among the first of the Army outfits to come into this section, before maneuvers started, and this company will be among the last to leave. There are now around 150 men at the camp and most of these will be given Christmas furloughs but the rest will have to remain here.

Army and Pinehurst To Play Polo Sunday

Pinehurst and Fort Bragg polo teams will meet Sunday at 3 p. m. on the Pinehurst Polo field in one of the series of games between the officers from the military reservation and the Pinehurst players.

Merril Fink, Pinehurst's brilliant captain, will be at his number two position. B. R. Brown, Durham, will play number one. D. O. Evans will be at number three for Pinehurst and at number four will be Henry Gibson, Bernard, Jr., University of North Carolina student.

The army four will line up with Lt. Milton Untermeier at number 1 post; Lieut. Peter Jay, at 2; Col. Richard Willis at 3 and Major W. A. Samouce at 4.

Col. George P. Hawes will referee. Gen. Rene deRusse Hoyle of Fort Bragg will be an official.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAMS AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

A Church-family worship, "The First-born among Many Brethren," will be held at the Brownson Memorial Presbyterian Church, Sunday evening, December 21, at 8 o'clock. All members of the church are invited. The Christmas tree program for the Sunday school will be held Monday evening, December 22, at 8 o'clock in the Fellowship hall of the church.

FINAL PHONE LISTING MUST BE IN BEFORE JANUARY 2nd

Officials of the Central Carolina Telephone Company announced this week that listings for the new directory will be closed January 2, and that all subscribers wishing telephone service listings or any changes in their present listings should inform the telephone office immediately. The exchange serves Carthage, Hemp, Southern Pines and Pinehurst.

Rotary Club Honors Members in Service

Organization Pledges Support to Defense Activities; Howarth, Stevens Speak

Lt. Greer Stutz, who, in the story below, is said to be "somewhere on the oceans," is actually right here in Southern Pines. Lt. Stutz arrived Thursday morning to spend a Christmas furlough with his wife, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Stutz.

The local Rotary Club paid tribute at its weekly meeting to three of its members who are now serving in the armed forces of the country.

Three empty chairs leaned against the table, to the right of President Duncan Matthews' place, and three placecards there read: Lieutenant Greer Stutz, now somewhere on the oceans in the U. S. Navy; Private Robert Dorn and Private Harold Fowler, U. S. Army.

Ernest Lorenson presented an armed service flag to the club, with three blue stars for the missing Rotarians. At the meeting John Howarth, coordinator of local Civilian Defense, and E. C. Stevens of the local defense committee, outlined some of the duties of local defense groups.

The Rotary Club adopted a resolution declaring the club "ready and eager to perform any duty or function that may be assigned to it by competent authority at any time." A copy of the resolution was sent to the President of the United States.

HICKMAN TO PREACH HERE

Dr. Frank S. Hickman, Dean of Duke Chapel and professor in the Duke University School of Religion, will be guest preacher at the Church of Wide Fellowship Sunday, December 28, at the 11 o'clock service.

Theatre

Those who appreciate a clever comedy plot brightened by the antics of top-notch laugh-purveyors, will welcome "Look Who's Laughing," the attraction at the Pinehurst Theatre, Sunday night, Dec. 21st, at 8:30 and Monday, Dec. 22nd at 3:00 and 8:30 p. m. The millions who listen to Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy and to Fibber McGee and Molly over the radio will be a ready audience for this film. The picture has plenty of hearty humor in addition to an entertaining down-to-earth, acceptable story. It is the best vehicle to date for Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, commits grand larceny on most of the laughs. A large supporting cast includes Lucille Ball, Lee Bonnell, Dorothy Lovett, Neil Hamilton and Jod Prouty. On the same program is also a Walt Disney Cartoon, "Timber."

The Pinehurst Theatre will depart from its usual policy by presenting a Christmas attraction two days, Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 24, 25, and by good fortune a most appropriate attraction has been secured in the production made from one of the best selling novels, "H. M. Pulham, Esq.," the J. P. Marquand story about a well-to-do Bostonian Babbitt. Robert Young is cast in the title role, and never turned in a better performance. Almost equally brilliant is Hedy Lamarr. The headliner in supporting roles are Ruth Hussey, Van Heflin and Charles Coburn, with Van Heflin getting—and using—a stand-out chance.

At Pinehurst, Friday, Dec. 26th at 3:00 and 8:30 p. m., Shirley Temple will be seen in her new MGM production, "Kathleen." This is the new Shirley Temple and you will soon be hearing as much about the "new" Shirley Temple as you ever heard about the infant one. There is no need for anyone to waste any wrinkles concerning the future of Miss Temple. The girl is an actress—with a major degree, and it is clear now why she always will be, at any age. Miss Temple has been surrounded by a hand-chosen cast including Herbert Marshall, Laraine Day, Gail Patrick, Felix Bressart, Nella Walker, Wade Boteler and Charles Judels. In "Kathleen" Shirley starts a new phase in her career.

Another in a series of productions extolling the exploits of those whose day-by-day labor makes modern-day civilization possible, "Steel Against the Sky," the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 22, 23, with a Tuesday matinee, tells the tale of men who build bridges. A story of three brothers, it is produced against the background of large scale bridge construction, with action, romance, adventure and comedy. Heading the cast are Lloyd Nolan and Craig Stevens, and Alexis Smith, supported by Gene Lockart, Edward Ellis, Walter Catlett, Edward Brophy and Julie Bishop. Added is another of those Hal Roach "Streamline" comedies, under the title of "All-American Co-Ed," featuring Francis Langford Johnny Downs and Harry Langdon.

On Wednesday and Thursday, December 24, 25, with a Thursday matinee, one of the most exciting movies of the season, "Kathleen," is the attraction. It is exciting not merely because it marks the return to the screen of the box-office champion Shirley Temple, but because, in itself, it is a gloriously entertaining motion picture.

On Friday and Saturday, Dec. 26-27, the thrilling drama, "Confirm or Deny," with Don Ameche and Joan Bennett, will play a return engagement, together with the new issue of the March of Time Magazine, "Our America at War."
