Theatre The Carolinas

Something different in melodramas is "Angel On My Shoulder," starring Paul Muni, Anne Baxter and Claude Rains, coming to the Pinehurst Theatre Sunday night, October 13th, at 8:30.

Cleverly written, acted and directed, it emerges as a solid piece of entertainment, which treats of the devil and hell with a fine humorous touch.

It is a timely political satire with the story advancing a new twist on the spirit-returns-to-earth theme by bringing the devil and one of his customers back to earth to dispose of whatever good government still remains. In this satirical vein it works its way through some extremely funny situations and a little love-making of the devil's kind, all planned for laughs that come thick and fast.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's top notch technicolor musical, "Holiday In Mexico" starring Walter Pidgeon, Ilona Massey, Jane Powell, Roddy McDowell with Jose Iturbi and Xavier Cugat and his Orchestra, returns to the Sandhills, at the Carolina Theatre, Southern Pines, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 13-14-15, at 8:15 p. m. with a Tuesday matinee at 3:00.

As exceptionally fine entertainment, the picture sets a high mark for others to shoot at. In addition to such proven popular music-makers as Jose Iturbi, Cugat and orchestra and Ilona Massey, the picture introduces the screen's newest and youngest songbird, 15-year-old Jane Powell, an extremely talented adolescent, both as concerns her thespic abilities and her golden pipes. Mirthful, melodious and magnificent is "Holiday In Mexico."

Those who believe that all who-dunits stem from the same formula are due for a considerable and pleasant surprise when they see the refreshingly different approach to the business of producing mysteries, in "Home Sweet Homicide" the attraction at the Carolina Theatre, Southern Pines, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 16-17, at 8:15 p. m. with a Thursday matinee at 3:00. With a large cast, headed by Peggy Ann Garner, Randolph Scott, James Gleason, Lynn Bari, Dean Stockwell, Connie Marshall and Anabel Shaw, there's more merriment than murder in Louis D. Lighton's production of a Craig Rice mystery novel, it concerns itself with the on-stage antics of a trio of charming children, and allows the corpses to stay off-stage.

Robson, Southern Pines, Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hall, Carthage.

DEATHS: October 1, Mrs. Della Hampton, Raeford, N. C. October 2, Mr. John F. Buffkin, Aberdeen, N. C. October 4, Mrs. Connie Boroughs, Jackson Springs, N. C.

Sunrise

The talent that first brought Van Johnson to Hollywood, namely his singing and dancing, is finally revealed on the screen in the new M-G-M technicolor musical, "Easy to Wed", playing Sunday and Monday at the Sunrise Theatre with Van Johnson, Esther Williams, Lucille Ball and Keenan Wynn headlining a stellar cast.

Van sings and dances in two numbers with Miss Williams, who also makes her singing and dancing debut. Not to be outdone, Lucille Ball has a number of her own, "The Continental Polka."

Johnson's discovery by Hollywood talent scouts occurred in 1941 while he was appearing in the Broadway musical hit, "Pal Joey," which also sent Gene Kelly and June Havoc to motion pictures. In all, Van appeared in five musical shows on the stage, starting in the chorus line in 1937.

The new picture marks the reunion of two hit teams, Johnson and Miss Williams having scored together previously in "Thrill of a Romance," with Miss Ball and Wynn remembered for their comedy teaming in "Without Love." Others in the cast of "Easy to Wed" are Cecil Kellaway, Carlos Ramirez and Ben Blue, under the direction of Edward Buzzell.
