 ordered placed in the archives of the Legion: L. V. O'Callaghan, finance officer, stated that a small surplus was expected over funds expended that day and recommended that representatives from all sponsoring organizations should meet and plan use of this for county - wide road beautification or other permanent memorial in memory of our war dead. The suggestion was received with favor by the group.

Real Estate Moves As Season Opens

Watching real estate transfers is said to be as good a method as any of estimating the degree of prosperity of any locality. In Southern Pines there have been a considerable number during the past few weeks. Three houses have changed hands, several people have bought lots and others, convinced apparently of the desirability of living in these parts, have added to their holdings.

The T. T. Ward house on the corner of East Broad Street and Maine Avenue has been bought by Miss Annie I. Remington of Providence. Mrs. Minnie B. Farrell has bought, from Robert F. Puetz, a house and lot on Massachusetts Avenue east of Highland Road.

The third house sale evokes regret as well as pleasure: Mrs. Edith Heizmann Mudgett has sold her home on Massachusetts Avenue to George E. McCall.

Lots sold recently include one from E. H. Mills to Madeline Landry, on May Street near New Jersey Avenue, several from Glen Gibson to Risden T. Bennett, Jr. on the Southeast corner of Massachusetts Avenue and May Street, and two lots on Ashe Street between New Jersey and Delaware Avenues sold by A. C. Frye to A. Clayton, Jr.

Dr. Malcolm Kemp has added to his property near the Highland Pines Inn by the purchase of several lots from E. S. Cook.

Real estate is also moving in West Southern Pines, an indication that prosperity is not confined to this side of the community. Several portions of the Betterley estate have been sold, and one lot of the Van Camp property. Howard Burns, trustee, has disposed of lot 18 in Block 2&11 to Sylvia Pass Walker of Baltimore.

Near Pinehurst, Karl A. Andrews is adding extensively to his holdings out on the Aberdeen-Pinehurst road. He has bought twenty acres near the Chalfonte Hotel from Richard S. Tufts, and fifty acres from Frank Shamburger of Aberdeen. The Tufts land was formerly owned by William H. Reinhart.

Aberdeen Tobacco Brings Good Price

Sales have been strong and prices good on the Aberdeen tobacco market this past week. Now that the block sales are off farmers can sell their tobacco the same day they bring it to market.

On Monday the Aberdeen Warehouse sold 54,612 lbs. of the weed at an average price of $51.94. Many local farmers topped this figure getting well into the high sixties for their crop. Among some of the leaders were G. W. Donathan of Jonesboro who averaged 68 cents on 954 lbs. sold; Hendricks and Edwards of Vass received 66 cents for 940 lbs. and S. E. Ham of Aberdeen topped 65 cents for 854 lbs. of his crop. J. T. Kirk and T. H. Tyser both of Aberdeen received 67 cents per pound for some of their tobacco.

Clarence Smith, of the Aberdeen Warehouse, said: "The local market, from our observation, is holding very well and is as good as the surrounding markets. We feel sure the price here is as good, or better, than elsewhere and we urge our farmer friends to visit us." From all indications the Aberdeen market will maintain a good price for the farmer.

 with the company, while Clinton Campbell is parts man and Charles Underwood salesman. A good stock of replacement parts for farm machinery now is on hand. The company will be a dealer also for Goodyear truck and tractor tires.

In its building materials department, the Carthage Truck and Implement Co. features Sherwin Williams paints and Johns-Manville roofing, together with a complete line of builders hardware and materials.

The company is prepared to offer complete seed service to local farmers and gardeners.

Carthage Democrats Hold Meeting

 The Hon. U. L. Spence presented the Hon. W. B. Umstead, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, Congressman for three terms from his district, and former solicitor in the judicial district in which he resides.

Mr. Umstead spoke as a true statesman and with an eloquence and deep sincerity which impressed his hearers. He stated that the kind of government we have in the next few years will affect the life and happiness of our people and people all over the world.

Long before this nation was founded, Democratic principles were in force, he said, and the things that have made the party last go back before the founding of the Democratic party to the Great Teacher. He also stated that it was the duty of the executive committee to keep the Democratic Party strong even in off years and that good government cannot be established and then forgotten, and still remain strong and good.

The speaker went on to say that only so long as the party meets the ever-changing needs of our ever-changing days will it remain in power. The people look for courage, vision and safety in the management of the affairs of the state and nation. The Democratic party should remain in the party of the people.

"In the years to come," continued Umstead, "we are going to be faced with difficult problems. The fighting war is over. Nations are trying to establish a peace. The clash of monetary, racial, geographic, and religious differences are being expressed, and sometimes we get discouraged, but in spite of difficulties we have faith that we shall be able to establish a lasting peace. Regardless of the party in power the problems will be the same."

The speaker stated that there is no off year when it comes to the question of seeing to it that we have good government. The Democratic Party is strong because of the principles which activate its performances. It is the liberal party of America. It seeks to serve all mankind. Its unselfishness must be above reproach in solving international problems. The Democratic Party is worth working for. It will continue to be the hope of North Carolina, America, and the world.

The State chairman closed his remarks by saying that if on just one Saturday as many people interested in good government would turn out as go to a football game, North Carolina would be safe for the next four years.

J. H. Goddard & Co. Install Quote Board

With the opening of the winter season in the Sandhills, J. H. Goddard & Co., of Boston has given this section "big city" facilities, by receiving the stock market quotations via teletype.

In their branch office, located in the Carolina Theatre Building, Pinehurst, they have a comfortable lounge where the quotations are posted and statistical information regarding all types of securities may be read at leisure.

Just another instance, whereby we of the Sandhill Resort Section are providing services for the convenience of our winter residents.

Bert Childers and the Melon Patch

Bert Childers put an ad in the Clarion the other day. Here's what it said:

"Planted more melons than I can eat this year. Stop by and pick as many as you want. All free."

As you can guess, plenty of folks sent their kids over and plenty of the parents came too. Stripped Bert's melon patch in no time. And as they went away, Bert treated the kids to lemonade, and offered the grownups a glass of ice-cold sparkling beer.

Naturally it puzzled some folks... but Bert explains: "It gives me a kick to share things when I can afford to—whether it's the melons, or the lemonade, or beer. I guess I just like to indulge my whims."

From where I sit, if we had more "self-indulgent" people like Bert—who believe in share and share alike, live and let live, this tired world would be a whole lot better off!
