Everyone In The Act!

Everyone in the act of salvaging fat means enough soap to keep American babies, homes, dishes, laundry and dogs spotless! Here Mrs. Thomas Tarbox, of Fairlawn, N. J., gives Carol Sue, age 1 1/2, and Rags the benefit of her kitchen salvage. One pound of used fat is enough to make this large box of packaged laundry soap.

Movies To Play Up State Health Campaign

A series of short films dealing with North Carolina's health situation and featuring famous Tar Heel movie and radio stars will be shown in all state theaters, the good Health Association has announced.

The first of the series of two-and-a-half minute trailers presents Kathryn Grayson, native of Winston-Salem. It has been circulated throughout the state and is now being screened in principal cities.

The films were made in Hollywood through the efforts of Kay Kyser. MGM, RKO, and Columbia Studios each are contributing a number of the films cost-free in the interest of the campaign and stars are giving their service free.

In the first film, Kathryn Grayson makes no appeal for funds. She describes the crying need of North Carolina for additional hospitals and medical care, observing that the state ranks 40th in infant mortality in the national standings and 38th in the death of mothers at child birth. "The people of North Carolina", Miss Grayson concludes, "must get health-conscious. We must all talk and practice good health. Whether or not there is to be good health for all North Carolina rests entirely in the people's hands."

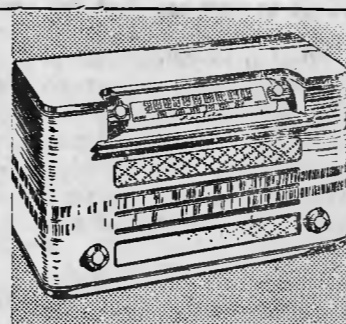

Randolph Scott, of Charlotte, will appear in the second film to be released next week. The films are being serviced to North Carolina theatres by the Wilbur-Kinney Company of Charlotte.

Other films to be shown before Christmas will feature Anne Jeffreys, of Goldsboro; Ava Gardner of Wilson; and Kay Kyser.

SUDDEN DEATH

Accidents have replaced any single infectious disease as the prime killer of children and youth after infancy. They take a yearly toll of almost 20,000 boys and girls under 20 years of age. This fact is revealed in a study made by the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor. The study also discloses that by far the most important cause of accident death to older children is automobile deaths. Drowning is next.

The Fall months are the time to begin being particularly careful of waxed floors and slippery pavements. There were 27,800 deaths in this country from falls last year. Wet leaves and in securely fastened rugs are respectors of nobody.
