were elected at the Tuesday morning meeting. Local men on the official slate are E. C. Heins, Jr., Sanford, vice president; John E. Cline, Southern Pines, E. O. Freeman, Aberdeen, and Mr. Heins, all on the Board of Directors.

Clyde Bailey, executive vice president of the National Independent Telephone association, and Arthur Cundy, secretary of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, were among the morning speakers.

Professor McDermott opened the afternoon session with a discussion of political and economic trends, followed by a teleconference hour when convention members presented individual problems before an answering board. George Thompson of Southern Pines was commercial expert on the board.

Dancing to the music of Michael Brooks and orchestra and a floor show featuring A. C. Cecil, magician, concluded the convention Tuesday evening.

George Thompson and John Cline, both of Southern Pines, were on the arrangements and program committees. Mrs. George Thompson was chairman of the Ladies' Entertainment committee, and, assisted by Mrs. John Cline and Mrs. Malcolm Grover, planned a three-day program to entertain the convention wives.

Reynolds Quartet At Village Inn Supper Club

Ray Reynolds and his musical quartet are being currently featured every evening except Monday at the Village Inn Supper Club.

Maestro Reynolds, with eight years of musical education, is best known for his sweet and swing trumpet. He doubles on the vocal end as do the other members of the quartet, singing solos and in trio and quartet. The musical group comes direct to the local club from the Shamrock club, Panama City, Fla.

ANY MAGS TODAY?

Anyone with new, old or in-between magazines is asked to bring them to the Southern Pines library for distribution through the county by Mrs. Dorothy Avery, county librarian. Popular magazines of all kinds, with the exception of news publications, are welcomed.

Support your local Chamber of Commerce.

School Leaders Meet

Southern Pines was Dr. G. G. Herr, chairman of the local board, and E. C. Stevens, town commissioner. The latter led the discussion in advocating the advancement of public school education. Describing the occasion, Dr. Herr gave Stevens full credit for his splendid leadership. "Unquestionably his inspiring words," stated Dr. Herr, "impelled the meeting to a favorable vote. I was proud of him."

The meeting voted to form a committee, made up of the chairmen of the various local school boards, to draw up and present to the Board of County Commissioners a petition asking for the special bond election. Dr. Herr was appointed chairman of the committee. It is hoped that the board will look with favor on the matter and will set a date for the election in the near future. A special registration will be required.

The committee announces that information, such as what tax rate will be necessary to carry out the program, and similar details, will be forthcoming shortly.

Kiwanis Speaker Urges Public Responsibility

R. L. McMillan, Raleigh attorney and Past Vice-President of the American Legion, addressing the Sandhills Kiwanis Club at the Southern Pines Country Club Wednesday, paid tribute to our fighting men in the World War 11.

The speaker declared, "We have achieved peace, but not completely. We have resolved to have a representative government by the people and for the people". Continuing, he said, "We are grateful for our heritage. It works hand in hand with justice—justice for Labor, justice for Capital, and justice for Free Enterprise."

In conclusion, he stated, "We must keep prepared. Corridor is a monument to unpreparedness. This very definitely rests upon the American people. The President cannot move without public opinion."

The speaker was introduced by Paul Butler.

ANNIVERSARIES

This week we have a First, Sixth and Fifty-first anniversary to chronicle and to wish the establishments and their proprietors many more years of successful business.

W. B. Holliday, who became the purchaser and manager of Ed's Restaurant just a year ago, has a message of appreciation to the many patrons who have liked his service and found the Coffee Shop most satisfying during his management.

Mrs. D. E. Crosby, now starting her 9th year in the Midland Dress Shop, forses a larger and more varied selection of women's wear for this season than has been obtainable for many months.

The oldest continuing business in Southern Pines, the J. N. Powell Funeral Home, marks its 51st year of service to the community. Founded in 1895 by Henry H. Powell, it continued under the direction of the late J. W. Powell from 1900, until his death in 1932. Now an incorporated company it is owned by the Chandler family with D. A. Blue, Jr., and J. A. Tesh managers.

KEEP RIGHT

Improper driving, excluding speed, played a part in approximately half of the fatal accidents last year. The most frequent violation in cities was failure to give right-of-way, 15 per cent of urban drivers involved in fatal accidents being charged with this offense. In rural areas the most frequent violation was driving on the wrong side of the road.
