capably handled by Mary Jean Ledbetter, was awarded third place, and Doris Hyatt's two bull terriers, fourth. Jill Buffum's little Pekinese, dressed to kill in coat, pants and top hat, got a very honorable mention.

The first riding event, Horsemanship, limited to children of 14 and under, was won by Fay Caddell, with Jean Overton second, Lynn Sherrard third and Marian Walsh fourth.

A colorful costume race, in which contestants galloped to one end of the ring, dismounted, attired themselves in paper skirts and bonnets, and then galloped back, was won by Sugar MacMahon, with ribbons also going to Joby Anderson, Barbara Ballou and Peter Tufts, in that order.

The Hunter class, jumped over the outside course, resulted in a win for Mrs. W. O. Moss on Prince. Fay Caddell on Silver was second; Harry Ladham on Big Chief, third, and Major Parker on Ganador Dam was fourth.

A Balloon race, which started with a very large field, boiled down to a prolonged tussle between Joby Anderson and Fay Caddell, in which the former finally outmaneuvered Fay for first place and Bob Hobson took third.

Mrs. Hamilton K. Gillespie, of New York, guest of the Carolina hotel, kindly presented the ribbons and Edward Daniels, Statesville, and Major Parker did the judging.

There will be a gymkhana at the Southern Pines Country club, Sunday, December 8th, and the Carolina hotel will stage the next one December 15th.

Testimonial Dinner

had received letters previously, and letters to Blue, Smith, Maples, Bennett, Grey, McCall, Baker, Mat tocks, T. K. Campbell, and Manager Warner.

The coach announced that other members of the team, managers, and cheerleaders would receive charms from the Elks as soon as they arrive.

Tommy Avery, Robert Cornwell, Steve Van Camp, James Achtermann and Jerry Thompson, managers; and Becky McCue, Ruth Guion, Sue Hall, Sylvia Cromer and Joyce Anderson, cheerleaders.

He then expressed appreciation to the Elks for the dinner and to the community for the support they had offered during the season. He also gave the thanks of the team to the Citizen's committee for handling season ticket sales; June Phillips, Dan S. Ray and The Pilot for local publicity; Howard Burns for state publicity; the school board; Col. Donald Madigan; the Rev. Tucker Humphries; Slim Forsythe; the officials; Dr. Vida C. McLeod, Dr. R. M. McMillan and Dr. J. S. Milliken; C. M. Page, J. W. Dickerson and Herman Grover; the teachers; and W. L. Baker, for role each played in making the season successful.

Charles Everest, Jr., Veterans of Foreign Wars representative, presented the annual valuable player award to Bobby Harrington, in memory of James Milliken, Jr.

Harrington, this year's captain, and Straka, next year's captain, presented their coaches with gifts from the team. Straka gave Coach Dawson a 14-karat gold Ever-sharp pen and pencil set and Harrington presented a set of four "woods" to Philip Weaver, their "silent" coach.

Surprise of the evening for the coaches came when Eugene Stevens, representative from the Citizen's committee, read two certificates, one addressed to Dawson and the other to Weaver, which made provisions for them to see the Sugar Bowl game January 1, 1947, at New Orleans, La., with all expenses paid. They have their choice of train or air transportation, and hotel reservations have already been made in New Orleans.

James Weaver, Mr. Weaver's brother who is director of athletics at Wake Forest, was principal speaker, but due to the lateness of the hour, spoke briefly on the contribution of sports to be physical and mental make-up of a boy or man.

"Besides the physical benefits derived, he learns self control. He learns how to work in cooperation with others, and learns how to lose a hard fight without wincing," he said.

Mr. Weaver brought motion pictures taken of the Carolina-Wake Forest game which were shown with occasional comments as the game was followed through to the last minute of play.

Colonel Madigan welcomed the group on behalf of the Elks. The Rev. Humphries was toastmaster, keeping the party alert through the long round of presentations and recognitions.

The dinner concluded with dancing to recorded music in the dining room.

In addition to the shot which entered the young man's head just above the right eye, another struck him in the leg. He went to Dr. R. G. Rosser at Vass and was given first aid, then continued to Sanford for an X-ray and had the shots removed.

H. Lee Bryant is county chairman of the negro division, assisted by the Rev. J. R. Funderburke in the Negro Ministers Alliance division and Mrs. James Bethea in the Negro Federated Women's clubs.

Funds collected in the 1945 seal sale in Moore county amounted to $6,072.35, over twice the $3,000 collected in the first national seal sale in 1906. The 1945 national drive brought in $15,425,528.47, of which North Carolina contributed $291,159.72.

Toys in Stores

room houses with bedroom and living room suites are perhaps the most cunning.

Tot's Toggery has an enchanting array of dolls that would bloom beautifully from any Christmas stocking. They specialize in toys for the pre-school tot, but their dolls can accommodate a broader age group.

Patch's has trucks, trains and a whole showcase of dolls and teddy bears, along with games and a few wagons.

Candy is arriving in larger quantities this year, but the continued sugar shortage still hampers candy-makers. One local store received a 600-pound shipment of hard candy, which they in turn sent to a local hospital. More is expected, however, before it's time to fill up Christmas stockings.

British Officer

ducting convoys of Russian supplies to and from the Norwegian coast. He said it was a great joy when the American fleet arrived, as the British had been tremendously handicapped for naval equipment.

He followed with a few remarks as to his transfer from the North Sea bases to the Mediterranean and told of the splendid achievement of General Montgomery and Alexander in the drive against Rommel's troops in Egypt. He pointed out there was considerable delay in starting the drive in order to build up the strength of the army.

In conclusion he told of the extensive preparations which had been made by the joint staff for a heavy offensive for the landing in Southern France.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. J. I. Neal.
