Increased Benefit Payments Seen In September Checks

Social Security Amendment Brings Immediate Gains

"There will be no delay in getting out the increased insurance benefit payments provided by the amended Social Security Act," declares Lone T. Proctor, manager of the Charlotte social security office.

Mr. Proctor made the statement on his return from a three-day conference in Winston-Salem, held in connection with the amended act, signed into law by President Truman August 28.

Fourteen field office managers from North Carolina, Virginia and the District of Columbia, together with two regional representatives from Washington, D. C., attended the training session.

"At the conference, I learned that the area offices have been working overtime to compute the increased amounts of payments, and are ready now to get out the higher benefit checks," Mr. Proctor said.

Under a provision of the new law, increased payments will go to everyone now receiving old-age or survivors insurance payments. This is effective September 1.

"Cards notifying present beneficiaries of this important provision of the new law are now in the mails," declared Mr. Proctor. "The increase will show on the September checks which will reach them early in October."

Payments under the amended law will range from a minimum of $20 for a retired insured worker, to $150 maximum for family benefits.

Mr. Proctor requests beneficiaries in this locality wait until the receipt of their September checks to find out the exact amount of their individual increased benefit payments.

Under the new law, people age 65 or over will be eligible for insurance benefits beginning in September, if they have been paid wages of $50 or more in six or more different calendar quarters for work covered by social security. Roughly, this is a year and a half. He estimates that 680 people in this locality will be entitled to immediate payments under this provision. Many of these people had made application before but could not qualify for benefits under the old law. The Charlotte social security office is making every effort to get in touch with those of whom it has record, but asks the cooperation of everyone who may know of such a person. "Tell him, or tell us," says Mr. Proctor. "Have him come to our office and file a new application for old-age and survivors insurance benefit payments."

The other provisions of the new law, extending social security coverage to groups of workers and self-employed people heretofore excluded, will go into effect on January 1. Mr. Proctor estimates that several thousand people in this locality alone will come under social security at that time under the new social security law.

Some 84 million eggs were produced by farm flocks in the State during July.

Enrollment in 4-H clubs in North Carolina last year exceeded that of any other state.
