Florist From Sanford Speaks At Meeting of Carthage Garden Club

Frank Joyce, a Sanford florist, talked on "Flower Arrangement" at the May meeting of the Carthage Garden Club, held in the Community House there, with Mrs. W. R. Clegg and Mrs. Worth McLeod as hostesses.

Mrs. Dan Carter, program chairman, introduced Mr. Joyce, who presented to the club a large basket of gladioli, snapdragons and carnations. Using this typical florist's combination, he demonstrated seven arrangements, each in a different container.

"It is best to cut flowers in the evening, using a knife, not scissors," he said, "then dip the stems in cold water to remain overnight."

Concerning the preservation of flowers Mr. Joyce advised putting a tablespoonful of sugar in the water. He explained that wilted flowers could be revived by dipping the stems first in hot water, then cold. "This I have proved to classes at State College, where I teach three times each quarter," he stated. Mr. Joyce, who studied floral designing at a trade school in Chicago, has appeared on television and before a number of garden clubs.

During the business session following the talk the club decided to alternate business meetings and programs. Each member will have the privilege of bringing a guest to hear the speakers scheduled to appear monthly.

Alfred Moore Chapter Meets In Sanford At Rosser Home

The May meeting of the Alfred Moore Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution was held in the home of Mrs. R. P. Rosser in Sanford last Saturday afternoon. Serving as joint hostesses were Mrs. Ralph Jordan, Mrs. K. E. Foushee, Mrs. A. B. Wilkins, Mrs. J. R. Ingram and Mrs. Eva Fitchett.

Mrs. W. G. Brown presided and assisted in the ritual and pledge of allegiance. The message of the President General was read by Mrs. R. P. Rosser.

During the business hour, plans were made by the different towns to raise a sum of money for a donation towards the restoration of the House in The Horsehoe.

The chaplain, Mrs. Joel Layton, reported the Memorial Service which the Chapter held on April 30 at the grave of the late Miss Florence Campbell in Old Bethesda Cemetery in Aberdeen. At this time a DAR marker was placed on Miss Campbell's grave and the Rev. T. A. Cheatham of Pinehurst paid a beautiful tribute to the useful and splendid life she led. Miss Campbell served this Chapter as treasurer for a long time.

Mrs. H. W. Doub gave a report of the 63rd Continental Congress recently held in Washington, which she attended as the Chapter's delegate. She told of the many nationally known speakers who appeared before this Congress, including the address of President Eisenhower. Mrs. R. P. Rosser and Mrs. Joel Layton attended the congress, also.

Following this Mrs. J. A. Overton presented a program on American Music.

During the social hour the hostesses served an iced course. The Chapter will not meet again until the second Saturday in September.

Mrs. Harold Collins Entertains Guests

Mrs. Harold C. Collins entertained Mrs. J. B. Roundtree and daughter, Mrs. George Kellerman, who is here on a month's visit from Honolulu, at dinner Tuesday evening. They were joined afterward by Mrs. R. E. Wiley and Miss Katherine Wiley to attend a showing of "Knights of the Round Table" at the Carolina Theatre.

Marleys Entertain At Senior Breakfast

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Marley, whose son, Joe, Jr., is president of the Southern Pines High School Student Council, entertained seniors and their dates, 34 in all, at a breakfast at the Southern Pines Country Club following Friday night's annual Junior-Senior Prom.

They were assisted in entertaining by Miss Polly Miller, senior sponsor, and Mrs. W. T. Huntley, Jr.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET AND PROM ARE HELD FRIDAY AT LOCAL COUNTRY CLUB

Climaxing the school year's social activities was the Junior-Senior Banquet-Prom held Friday evening at the Southern Pines Country Club, where a spring-time theme was effectively carried out with flowers, butterflies and table decorations. Garland Pierce was master of ceremonies.

A. C. Dawson, superintendent of Southern Pines Schools, gave the invocation and Jerry Daeke, Junior Class president, extended a welcome to which David Page, Senior president, responded.

Presentation of Senior gifts was by Dorothy Newton, Elizabeth Harris and Martina Harris; Charles Bowman and Patsy Dupree gave the Senior Will, and the Prophecy was presented by Jim Hatch and Maxame Kerr.

Dancing to Dick Pier's Orchestra followed the dinner, with an entertaining floor show made up of the following numbers:

1. A Dance Line—Kay Davis, Kathryn Ann Dwight, Dorothy Newton, and Patti Woodell.
2. Vocal Number — Rodney Whiting and Jerry Daeke.
3. John Ray at the piano.
4. A Russian Dance — Helen Marie Walker.

Committees for the event were: Entertainment — Helen Marie Walker, Kathryn Ann Dwight, James Collins and Garland Pierce. Decorations—Jerry Daeke, Jean Safford, Emery Smith, Donald Haney, Patti Woodell, Jimmy Menzel, and Gilbert Harbort.

Refreshments—Barbara Goodwin.

Program—Norma Bowles, Betty Morris and Betty Swearingen. Gifts—Martina Harris, Dorothy Newton, and Elizabeth Harris.

Miss Billie Williams is Junior sponsor and Miss Polly Miller is Senior sponsor.

Talk On Hawaii By Visitor Adds Interest To Fifth Grade Project

For the past two weeks Mrs. M. L. Farrior's fifth grade has been working on a project dealing with our neighbors: Hawaii, with Emmaday Collins in charge; Alaska, led by Bob McConnell, and The Philippines, with Jan McDonald heading the study. Wednesday, from 11 to 12 a. m., was set as the time for a display as a part of this project, which Mrs. Mary Q. McDonald's fifth grade had been invited to see.

It so happened that Mrs. George Kellerman, who has lived in Honolulu for the past 14 years, was a dinner guest of Emmaday's mother Tuesday evening, and the alert fifth grader conceived the idea of inviting Mrs. Kellerman to give the class some first-hand information on Hawaii.

Necessary arrangements were made with speaker and teacher, and Wednesday morning Emmaday had the honor of introducing Mrs. Kellerman to the combined fifth grades with their teachers, also Moore County elementary supervisor, Mrs. Beulah McPherson, and incidentally, the report is that she did it nicely.

Does Initiate, Install, And Make Merry

Four new members were initiated into the Does on Tuesday of last week: Mrs. Morris B. Arnold, Mrs. Edward R. Ruddell, Mrs. Dana H. Cameron of Pinehurst and Mrs. A. Thomas Grant of Raeford.

The following officers were installed, with Mrs. Ray McDonald, president, serving as installing officer due to the resignation of Mrs. Robert Arey; Mrs. Don Jones, 1st counselor; Mrs. Wendell Wathen, senior counselor; Mrs. Walter Coffin, junior counselor.

Mrs. Chan Page announced the refreshment committee for the next meeting: Mrs. George Little, Mrs. M. G. McRae, Mrs. J. D. Arey, and Mrs. Raymond Carpenter.

After the business meeting an entertainment was enjoyed by the Does and Elks. Wilson Russ, master of ceremonies, introduced Mrs. Curtis Everette and Mrs. Malcolm Grover who were heard in a vocal duet. Buster Doyle sang with banjo accompaniment. A comedy sketch entitled "Operation" was "performed" by the following cast: Mrs. Chan Page, victim; Mrs. Hubert Cameron and Mrs. Don Jones, doctors; Mrs. Eugene McKenzie, nurse; Mrs. Wendell Wathen, anesthetist; and Mrs. Ray McDonald, undertaker.

Dr. and Mrs. Starnes Attending Convention

Dr. and Mrs. Boyd Starnes will drive to Greensboro this (Friday) morning to attend the 38th annual North Carolina Chiropractors Convention, a two-day meeting at the King Cotton Hotel, a social feature of which will be a ball. They plan to return to Southern Pines Sunday.

Legion Auxiliary Elects Officers

Election of officers and the selection of Miss Kathryn Ann Dwight as representative of the local unit to Girls State, June 6-11 at Woman's College, Greensboro, highlighted Tuesday night's meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, held in the Legion Hut with Mrs. Dan R. McNeill, historian, presiding.

Officers elected, to be installed at the September meeting, are: president, Mrs. Joe Hensley; 1st vice president, Mrs. R. E. Wicker (Pinehurst); 2nd vice president, Mrs. F. M. Dwight; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. S. McLaughlin; chaplain, Mrs. David McCallum; historian, Mrs. Dan R. McNeill; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Veta E. Gorman.

Announcement was made concerning the 34th annual Department Convention to be held at Grove Park Inn, Asheville, May 20-23.

Mrs. Joe Hensley, Child Welfare chairman, assisted by Mrs. McNeill, presented the program.

Presbyterian Deacons Dine At Dante's

The board of deacons of Brownson Memorial Presbyterian Church enjoyed dinner together at Dante's Restaurant Monday night, and held their regular business meeting.

Mothers of Juniors Hostesses At Breakfast

Does Hold Annual Mother-Daughter Supper Meeting

The local Drive of Does held a covered dish supper at the Elks Club picnic area Wednesday night of last week as their annual Mother-Daughter celebration. Mrs. Brodus Smith headed the committee in charge of the enjoyable affair.

Mrs. Phipps Attends Oak Ridge Event On Mother's Day

Mrs. Clyde Phipps, whose son William Wilson is a senior at Oak Ridge Military Institute, attended the special Mother's Day parade staged by the cadets Sunday, in which her son marched in the Gold Star platoon, composed of top ranking students. Mrs. Phipps was also present at a reception held in the school gymnasium, and was entertained at dinner with other out-of-town mothers.

Attending the festivities with Mrs. Phipps was her sister-in-law, Miss Elizabeth Phipps, of Laurinburg.

A crowd estimated at nearly 3,000, including mothers, fathers, girl friends and Oak Ridge alumni watched the afternoon parade, which followed weeks of practice and preparation for this annual event.

The cadets, young men whose average age is only 17, marched through intricate patterns of close order drill said to be the equal of any on the green swards of West Point.

Local Women Go To Texas To Attend Grand Lodge Meeting

Mrs. Ray McDonald, president of Drove 48, BPO Does, and Mrs. George Thompson, five-year conductor, left Saturday for San Antonio, Texas, to attend the meeting of the Grand Lodge.

Mrs. McDonald was given the honor of presenting the greeting from the North Carolina Doves, located in Southern Pines, Charlotte and Wilmington.

INS AND OUTS

Mrs. Philomena Walker of Savannah, Ga., is visiting her niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Graves, at The Homestead.

Miss Lee Powers spent several days last week in New York, buying summer cottons for Lee Powers Casual Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fullenwider and daughter, Janet, visited Mr. Fullenwider's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Fullenwider, of Monroe Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Matthews, Jr., and their four children, of Fayetteville, paid Mrs. W. D. Matthews, Sr., a Mother's Day visit.

Mrs. Robert Stewart of Bethesda, Md., is visiting relatives and friends in Southern Pines and Aberdeen.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alred and son, Bobby, of Raleigh and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sellars and children, David and Helen, of Ruby, S. C., spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. D. E. McDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bronson and family left this week for their summer home in Whitfield, N. J.

Mrs. Eugene Thwing spent several days in Moore County Hospital, but was able to return home for Mother's Day.

Mrs. Catherine Shaw and guest, Mrs. J. A. Patterson of Winston-Salem, are spending this week in Sanford, dividing their time between two nieces, Mrs. W. T. Cox and Mrs. Ben W. Smith. They were dinner guests of a third niece, Mrs. R. E. Patterson, at Manly last Friday.

Maj. and Mrs. C. E. Bickerstaff and their three children, of Fairfax, Va., were in town over the weekend. The Biggerstaffs formerly resided in Southern Pines for about two years and they were greeted by a number of friends while here.

Mrs. Wiley Sheorn of Camden, S. C., aunt of Mrs. C. K. Ligon, stopped over Sunday for a visit to the Rev. and Mrs. Ligon and children as she was on her way to Luray, Va.

Mrs. J. E. Jacobson of Whittier, Calif., and son, Herbert Jacobson, of Honolulu, stopped for a visit to Mrs. R. E. Patterson in Manly last Friday as they were on a month's tour of various sections of the country. They are the mother-in-law and brother-in-law of Mrs. Patterson's son, Lt. Col. Joseph H. Patterson, of Canoga Park, Calif.

BOROS

The Ardmore victory was the first major tournament won by Boros since his big year in 1952. A favorite with the spectators, the local pro finished with a gallery of 4,000 watching.

He started the day Sunday with a two stroke lead after opening rounds of 68-69-72 and climaxed his steady performance with a par 70 over the tough 6,483-yard course.

His payoff hole was the par five, 537-yard "Old Stoneface" which he birdied with a fine third shot from 100 yards that stopped within two feet of the cup. He dropped the putt to get even with par and then parred the 17th and 18th to win.

West End, Vass Pastor Resigns To Go To Iowa

The Rev. Edwin C. Boulton of West End, pastor of the West End and Vass Methodist Churches, last Sunday announced his resignation to the official boards of the two organizations, effective at the end of this month. He plans to take work in the Iowa conference.

Both Mr. Boulton's parents and those of his wife live in Missouri, and he gave as his reason for the move their desire to be nearer their people.

Plans for the future of the two churches for the remainder of the conference year have not been completed.

Mr. Boulton served the West End church for two years as a student minister while studying at Duke University, and, following his graduation last August, was assigned to the two churches by the annual conference in November.

His work at both places has been highly satisfactory and deep regret has been expressed at his termination of the connection. He has organized active Men's Clubs, has directed the choirs at both places, presenting special music at both Christmas and Palm Sunday with the combined choirs, and at present has a playground project underway at Vass.

PTA Officials Plan Programs

The executive committee of the Southern Pines Parent-Teacher Association met with Dr. R. M. McMillan, president, Thursday night of last week to plan future programs and to discuss duties of the various committees.

Officers and committee chairmen compose the executive committee. The officers are, in addition to Dr. McMillan: Lt. Col. Kenneth W. Howat of Manly, first vice-president; Mrs. W. D. Campbell, second vice-president; Mrs. Mary Grover, secretary; and Ward Hill, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are: Mrs. Henry Turner, publicity; Mrs. Joe Marley, membership; J. D. Hobbs, budget; and Mrs. Harlow Pearson, hospitality.

Program co-chairmen are Mrs. Hoke Pollock and Col. Howat.

The next PTA meeting — the second since the organization meeting in March — will be held in Weaver Auditorium at 8 p. m. Thursday, May 27.

Circle Meeting

Mrs. F. M. Dwight was hostess to Presbyterian Circle 6 Thursday night, with seven members and one visitor present, Mrs. Harold McNeill. Mrs. Hubert Cameron conducted the business session, which was followed by a social hour with refreshments.

Here is an example of an inexpensive dinner with pleasing color, texture and flavor contrast: slices of brown-crust meat loaf topped with tomato sauce; green peas; baked potato, with a pat of butter; a molded carrot salad; a tray of assorted crisp relishes and enriched hot biscuits.

The 1954 rye acreage harvested for grain is placed at 19,000 acres or 19 per cent above the 16,000 acres harvested last year.
