

GRAIN STORAGE PAYS
Large supplies of grain on hand in North Carolina and the nation, plus an acute shortage of storage facilities, can drive North Carolina harvest grain prices even lower than last year. Grain market channels will fill quickly after 1952 harvest starts. Here in North Carolina, our price rise after harvest is greater than the national average and larger than storage costs. Harvest prices are often 60 to 70 cents (wheat) and 40 to 55 cents (corn) below the CCC loan level. It costs only about 40 cents per bushel to build a metal grain storage bin.

CATFISH IN PONDS
Catfish have been raised successfully on a commercial basis in farm ponds. However, the most profitable ventures with this species of fish have resulted from taking small fish from small streams and growing them to edible size in large farm ponds. However, the most profitable vent majority of catfish will not spawn successfully in ponds.

Joanne Crisp Ellert Combines Styles Of Painting In Interesting Exhibit

Joanne Crisp Ellert, the artist whose work is now on view at the Library Gallery, is a painter who seems to have found herself in the field of design and to be still groping toward a more abstract form of art. The result is an exhibit of much interest, satisfying to those who find modern art more or less incomprehensible and, at the same time, arousing the curiosity of more contemporary spirits with the promise of a developing talent. Mrs. Ellert, who is now completing two years of teaching in Fayetteville High School, under the sponsorship of the Fayetteville Art League, works on the solid foundation of a B. A. from Syracuse University, with a major in Fine Arts. Following that came a teaching career in Williamsburg, Washington and, excitingly enough, Japan. She has exhibited in Williamsburg, Washington, and in New York.

PLAY PROGRAM

Plans for a full summer recreation program are under way, to begin Monday, June 14, and continuing through August 20, it was learned from Irie Leonard, who will again serve as director. Mr. Leonard, who is high school principal and coach, will be heading the program for the third successive summer. Complete plans will be announced in next week's Pilot, he said.

SLUDGE ELECTED TO BOARD

William C. Sledge, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Sledge of Pinehurst, was this week elected to the board of directors for the 30th Hotel Ezra Cornell to be presented next Spring by the School of Hotel Administration at Statter Hall, Cornell University. His position is that of maitre d'hotel. Mr. Sledge left this week for Skytop, Pa., where he will be assistant to the activities director at Skytop Inn for the summer.
