

CHANGES HANDS—The West Pennsylvania Avenue building housing the local A&P store has been sold by Arthur C. Reed of Southern Pines to Woodland Realty Co. of Greensboro, it was announced this week by George H. Leonard, Jr., president of Resort Realty and Development Co., who handled the transaction. The local agency reported Woodland Realty officials "most pleased with the investment" which was made after a survey of the community and surroundings.

Burlington Firm Gets Contract On Big Sewer Project In West Southern Pines

Work Will Double Number of Property Owners Served

The Dean Patterson Construction Company of Burlington offered the low bid among seven competing firms when bids were opened at town hall Wednesday afternoon on construction of over a mile of sewers in West Southern Pines.

The contract was awarded to the Burlington company for $12,339.75. This will pay for 6,110 linear feet of eight-inch line and 1,300 feet of 10 inch line, with all necessary fittings and labor.

Work on the project must start within 30 days, according to the contract, with likelihood that it will be completed by November 15. The project will be paid for from cash funds, without necessity of borrowing, said City Manager Tom E. Cunningham. It was authorized by the council last month.

The manager said the construction will double the number of homes served by the sewer system in West Southern Pines to a total of between 120 and 130.

FOR Land Surveying CONTACT Clarence H. Blue Matthews Bldg. So. Pines and will afford potential service to some 70 or 80 building sites.

The new sewers will run: On Stephens and Gines Streets between Pennsylvania and Wisconsin Aves.; on Indiana Ave. between Gines St. and Stephens St.; on Massachusetts Ave. between Stephens and Henley Sts.; on New York Ave. between Stephens and Mechanic Sts.; on Henley St. between Massachusetts and Indiana Aves.; and on Pennsylvania Ave. between the town shop and Stephens St.

Property owners on these streets will be allowed one year to make connection with the sewer as required by law. The first time that a sewer service charge, which amounts to 50 percent of the water bill, will be charged to these property owners will be in March of next year.

GOOSE REFUGE

Wild geese will soon be returning to the unique refuge established by the late Lockhart Gaddy at Ansonville, which is open to visitors from October 1 to April 1. The refuge, managed by Mrs. Gaddy since her husband's death, is the winter home of some 10,000 wild Canada geese and about 1,000 ducks. The wildfowl become so tame that they accept food from the hands of sightseers. More than 28,000 people observed the geese and ducks at Gaddy's Goose Refuge during the past winter.

Temperature In August Hits 100 Or Over 4 Times

Maximum temperatures of 100 or over were recorded four times in August by Mrs. T. A. Kelley, local Weather Bureau observer, according to the monthly record of weather conditions.

Top temperature was 103 on August 16. The official thermometer went to 101 August 5 and to 100 on August 17 and 27.

Maximum temperatures went into the 90's on all but nine days of the month. Lowest maximum recordings of August were 84 on three days, August 13, 30 and 31.

The reputation of local weather as cooling off at night, despite heat during the day, was maintained well during August. Minimum readings on all but 11 days of the month went down into the 60's, with a low of 61 recorded on August 7 and 13. On all but one of the 11 days with a minimum over 70, the temperature was in the low 70s. The exception was the night of August 18, when the minimum was an unusual 86.

Rain was sparse in August, the report shows. On no one day did a full inch of rain fall. Heaviest rainfall of the month was .61 inch on August 19. With amounts from .13 inch to .48 inch recorded on six other days, the total rainfall for the month was only 1.94 inches.

THEATRES CAROLINA

Continuing through this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 9-10-11, at 8:15 p. m. with a Saturday matinee at 3, at the Carolina Theatre, is the Technicolor hilarious comedy, "Money From Home" starring the nation's top comedy team, Martin and Lewis, with Marjie Miller, Pat Crowley, Richard Haydn, Robert Strauss, Sheldon Leonard and many others.

A horse racing story by Damon Runyon provides the boys with the type of antics and complications in which they shine most favorably.

Rex Harrison, George Sanders, Virginia Mayo, Laurence Harvey, Robert Douglas, Paula Raymond, Michael Pate and literally thousands of other players take an audience quickly back to the year 1192 and into the very heart of the Third Crusade in the wide-sweeping production of Sir Walter Scott's "The Talisman" under the title of "King Richard and the Crusaders" in CinemaScope and WarnerColor, coming to the Carolina Theatre Sunday through Wednesday, September 12-15, at 8:15 p. m., with matinees Sunday and Wednesday, at 3:00 p. m.

This exciting, picturesque portrayal of Sir Walter Scott's novel, photographed brilliantly in WarnerColor and in the CinemaScope process, will hold audiences spellbound by its eye-appealing drama and fast action, with the picture no more than seconds old when the screen swarms with fighting men in pell-mell combat, which is just a short sample of what's to come. It is a very big picture, a very fast and fascinating picture, with sumptuous sets, colorful period costumes and a dancing girl sequence.

Rarely has the screen exhibited so much dash and bravado, culled from the days of chivalry, as in this film.

Playing a return engagement in the Sandhills is the CinemaScope, Technicolor production "Hell and High Water" starting Thursday night, September 16, at 8:15, starring Richard Widmark, Bella Darvi, David Wayne, and Cameron Mitchell. It is an exciting cloak and dagger type of drama, most of which takes place in a submarine skulking through the northern Pacific waters, in search of an "Iron Curtain" atomic bomb base.

SUNRISE

Dick Powell, Debbie Reynolds and Anne Francis are the stars of "Susan Slept Here," Technicolor production coming to the Sunrise Theater on Sunday and Monday but one of Hollywood's greatest comedy names makes a surprise guest star appearance.

It wouldn't be fair to spoil the surprise for those who plan to see this RKO Radio film, but his initials are R. S. When the camera focuses on him it provides one of the biggest yells in this laughter-filled film.

In addition to the un-named guest star, the balance of the cast of "Susan Slept Here" includes Anne Francis, in a co-starring role, Glenda Farrell, Alvy Moore, Horace McMahon, Herb Vigran, Les Tremayne and Mara Lane.
