PAGE TWO

THE PILOT-Southern Pines, North Carolina

"In taking over The Pilot no changes are contemplated. We will try to keep this a good paper. We will try to make a little money for all concerned. Where there seems to be an occasion to use our influence for the public good we will try to do it. And we will treat everybody alike."-James Boyd, May 23, 1941.

School Boards Should Be Elected

If a machine runs smoothly, it doesn't nec- generally think of themselves as elected ofessarily mean that it's the best possible machine ficials, but look what happened this year in -or even that it is the best machine for the job Watauga County when the representative in it is doing.

surface or examine the whys and wherefores if to appoint another group. They never got tothings roll along pretty nicely.

We're thinking these thoughts in connection with the way county school boards and a good many city school boards are chosen in North Carolina.

We have no reason to believe that the county board of education, and the Southern Pines board of school trustees are not doing as good a job as would similar groups elected by the people. Maybe they are doing better jobs than would 100 per cent elected boards.

We're not thinking in terms of next week or next year, but rather about what is the most satisfactory way to fill public offices in a democracy in the long run. If good and capable men and women fill appointive offices that handle thousands of dollars of the public's money and administer educational systems that have a tion. personal importance to practically every family in the county or city—we can congratulate our- tions at town and county levels is growing pubselves on our good luck, but not our good judgment.

It may sound misleading to say that county boards of education are not elected, as they are nominated by Democrats-and Democrats only .- in the Democratic primary in May of one year, but then are appointed by the General Assembly in the Spring of the following year.

Regardless of all other considerations, this lag of nearly a year between "election" and taking office is a mockery of responsive democratic government. It is a glaring example of the "lame duck" muddle that was eliminated from the Federal government more than 20 years ago when the President and Congressmen, elected in November, did not take office until the following March.

County board of education members office.

Historic Sites Drawing Interest

Inquiries to the North Carolina News Bureau proving the present widespread interest in the about historic buildings are becoming so num- past, we do not neglect to honor the pioneering the General Assembly wanted to appoint one It's human nature not to look beneath the county school board and the senator wanted gether and now Watauga's county board of education is to be chosen, or maybe has been chosen by this time, by the State board of education-taking the matter completely out of the hands of the local folks of whatever faction. As for city unt school boards, they are elected in some cities and appointed in others. In Southern Pines, members of the school board of trustees are appointed by the town governing body, the town council. Little-d democracy presumably enters the picture because the people have elected the council and so the council can speak for the people in choosing school officials. This is what is known as keeping politics out of education, but it is our observation that the politics of appointment are at least as involved and potentially vicious as the politics of elec-

> One result of the lack of school board eleclic apathy about school affairs. School business tends to become hidden business, because no candidate is compelled to defend openly his stand on school issues in order to hold his office in a free election.

> It is our opinion, therefore, that school elections on both town and county levels, should be non-partisan, just as the Southern Pines town council election is non-partisan, and also that these elections should be held at a time when no other election is being conducted.

> Such a procedure would instill new vigor and public interest in operation of the schools and might bring out as candidates persons who would have much to contribute as school administrators and who now either can not or will not advance themselves for such a public

The Fourth-Ranking Reason In N. C. Desertion And Welfare Payments

During the past year, there has instituting Aid to Dependent Chil- father is second with 23 per cant. wrote on the card. Thought you been considerable publicity given dren payments. Desertion is the Fathers in an institution (usually might be interested. In case you in Moore county to problems cre- fourth-ranking cause. prison) is third with about 19 per ated by fathers who have desert- Desertion as a cause for receiv- cent in this group. In only 15 per ed their families. The problems ing aid to dependent children is cent of the ADC cases has the included efforts of the courts to discussed and placed in its proper father deserted his family.

THURSDAY, JULY 7, 1955

Two Leland Stories

Two stories by John A. Leland, brother of Mrs. E. T. McKeithen of Aberdeen and son-in-law of S. B. Richardson of Southern Pines, appear in current magazines of national circulation.

"The Enemy At Home" is in the July issue of The American Magazine and "Ambush On The Camden Road" is in Colliers for July 8.

Mr. Leland's wife is the former Emily Richardson of Southern Pines.

Mr. Leland has been an invalid for the past 17 years. His writing for major magazines began several years ago and he has had two stories in The Saturday Evening Post. He was able to write in longhand for some time but now, we are informed, must dictate to his wife who then types up the manuscripts.

Friends in the Sandhills have followed his career with interest. Against odds that to many persons would be insurmountable, he is achieving notable success in the difficult and demanding field of magazine fiction.

In New York City

We are most pleased to hear that Professor Allen, who was principal of the Southern Pines High School in the late 1920's and to whom we referred in this column last week as "the late Professor Allen" is living in New York City, as is Mrs. Allen, and we express our most humble regret at the wording of our reference to him.

Old Post Card

A post card received in the mail from J. B. Gifford of Southern Pines, now summering at Thousand Island Park, N. Y., pictures "Oak Hall," a Southern Pines Hotel which looked vaguely familiar as we glanced at it-a large, rectangular, three-story building with a veranda around the two visible sides.

"Just came across this among some old papers," Mr. Gifford don't remember, it is a part of the present Southland Hotel."

A big sign in white letters, "Oak Hall," extends from the front of the hotel toward an obincluded efforts of the courts to discussed and placed in its properties in an article in "Pub-locate fathers in other states and force them to pay for support of their families, through the Uni-public Welfare. This article fol-their families, through the Uni-their families through the Uni-the families through the fami desertion, then death of the fathwhich had been mentioned by a er as the third cause, and only visitor to the Pilot office who Desertion by a parent is less eight per cent of fathers in insti- said that his father worked there more than 50 years ago, we have Itutions. North Carolina is one of 52 jur- heard from two sources that this. sdictions which have the Uni- too, was the Southland.

erous that it has issued a new bulletin entitled "Historic Homes and Buildings" which is available free upon request to the Department of Conservation and Development at Raleigh.

Although the bulletin lists 141 structures in 49 localities, it represents, says the News Bureau, "only a sampling" of the historic buildings in North Carolina. It lists, for instance, the Shaw House in Southern Pines and Old Bethesda Church near Aberdeen, but not the "House In The Horseshoe," site of a Revolutionary skirmish, in Moore County's Deep River Township. Of course, restoration work at the House in The Horseshoe is not complete and interest in the bulletin is focussed on buildings that are open to the public. Yet many of those listed are not indicated as open to visitors.

What interests us here is not whether cr not the House in The Horseshoe is listed, but that "inquiries. . . are becoming so numerous." Enough persons, in and out of North Carolina, are interested in the architecture and other tangible evidences of the past to sit down and real desire to know more about the historic sites of the state and presumably a desire to visit them too.

In displaying this interest in old things, the public is catching up with the relatively small buildings and articles from destruction. In ap- of life today.

They're Saying

The Child In Need

habilitation work.

usually prison.

ship, and leadership."

What happens when a father or other breadwinner in a family dies or becomes incapacitated? We're looking now at the problem of the dependent child in North Carolina through the eyes of a revealing study published by the State Board of Public Welfare. Some of the answers are astonishing.

In 1937 North Carolina became a part of the Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) program under the Social Security Act. By legal definition a "dependent child" is "a needy child under the age of 16 or under the age of 18 . . . if regularly attending school, who has been deprived of parental support or care by reason of the death, continued absence from the home, or physical or mental incapacity of a parent, and who is 15 per cent; and one out of five cases is brought living with . . ( a close relative) . . . in a place of residence maintained by one or more of such relatives as his or their own home." Such a child qualifies for assistance with the cost borne largely by the Federal Government but shared in by the State and county. And in brief this aid is a substitute for the old-fashioned children's home.

North Carolina emerges from the study (made by an outside agency) with fairly good marks. For instance:

persons who have fought for years for presen vation and recognition of the past, when it was not an especially popular viewpoint.

Such persons are members of the North Carolina Society For The Preservation of Antiquities which has a number of members and two officials in this area-Mrs. Ernest L. Ives of Southern Pines on the board of directors and George H. Maurice of Eagle Springs as vicepresident for the Eighth Congressional District.

A key to the current interest in antiquities may be found in the first paragraph of a letter sent recently to members of the above-named Society by Mrs. Charles A. Cannon of Concord, president, who had been directing the activities of the Society from a sickbed.

The letter opens: "We had a marvelous annual meeting in spite of the fact that I couldn't be there." And then this: "Indeed great was our awareness that we do not inherent Freedom but that we must work, fight, even die for it. Our ancestors did just that."

The motto quoted at the bottom of the Society's stationery may offer another clue to the riswrite to the State News Bureau for more infor- ing interest in historical things: "To preserve mation-indicating not a casual interest, but a and revere our past is to insure our future." The average man may not be consciously aware of the philosophical implications of his interest in the past, but we believe that the implications are there and that people are looking backward in time not as an escape from the number of astute and informed persons who for present, but in order to gain inspiration and years have been trying to preserve historic strength for the all-too-often uninspiring nature

Children in this State are aided for a shorter length of time—in 72 per cent of the cases for less than three years-because of effective re-

Juvenile delinquency "is almost non-existent

Average monthly payments to the some 45,-

000 children-one of the smallest numbers proportionately in the country-average around

$57 per family, or a little more than $15 per

Death of the father accounts for 28 per cent of the North Carolina cases; desertion for only about by the father's being in an institution,

The study accords North Carolina's program credit for "money well spent." The grants of course are a pittance by modern living standards and costs of living, yet in this important area of humane concern a great deal has been done for a very little. Today's dependent child in North Carolina often is tomorrow's leader.

---Editorial from THE ASHEVILLE CITIZEN

person. Small as this is, it is only a certain percentage of the minimum need.

Surely that is praise enough.

in ADC families and many of these children have been outstanding in scholarship, citizen-

form Reciprocal Enforcement of lows: Support Act; and also problems

of providing for the needs of abandoned families through the frequently the reason families re-Welfare Department, ceive aid to dependent children county usually by Aid to Dependent Chil- (ADC) in North Carolina than in the nation as a whole. dren payments.

One case was uncovered last About 15 per cent of the famivear, during a court trial of a lies receiving ADC in North Caro- gal method for requiring a de- cate when the picture of Oak Hall father, in which apparently there lina need this help because a pa-serting parent to contribute to the was made. had been collusion between the rent has deserted, according to support of his dependent children Any information about either absent father and the "abandon-studies by the State Board of ed" mother in order that the fam- Public Welfare. In the nation as In this State the Superior Court be welcome. ily might receive Welfare pay- a whole this cause is responsible is designated as the court having ments. While this kind of thing is for about 26 per cent of the ADC jurisdiction in the initiation of rare, it tended to arouse public cases.

suspicion of a procedure that is an invaluable social service in the vast majority of cases.

Funds Less Needed?

Because tax funds are used in Welfare payments (of which the county's share runs to only about one ninth of the total, the remainder coming from State and Federal sources), the public has a direct interest in the administration of Welfare funds. Occasionally there is an assumption

Carolina's support statutes. that these funds are less needed than Welfare Department administrators contend; sometimes the current "prosperous times" are In North Carolina, desertion is cited to bolster the argument that fourth in order of frequency concerned with news. Unfortun-Welfare needs are over-estimated. among the reasons aid to depen- ately, the unusual is newsworthy. Statistics of the State Depart- dent children is needed. Death Newspapers may look with con-ment of Welfare show that death of the father comes first with 28 siderable regard on the millions of the father in a family is the per cent of the cases occasioned of good people who go about their chief cause in North Carolina for by this cause. Incapacity of the daily tasks with normal courage, humility and good spirit; but ex-

NEW CITY SERVICES CALLED FOR

If 100 New Families Move In

Palmer Hoyt, editor and pub-When 100 families move into a water department will have to lisher of the Denver Post, set medium-large city, what new pump about 10,000 extra gallons forth the mission of a good newsservices will they call for and of water a day. The city will need paper (in its news columns) when to buy about four acres of land; he wrote as follows: how much will it all cost?

ficials. The courts have the re- not have this law.

sponsibility for following through to secure contributions from the deserting parent for his family. A Federal law effective since July,

1952, gives added support to the

Death First Cause

one each for grammar school, The American Society of Planhigh school, parks, and play ning Officials has worked up an answer to that question. Follow- areas. ing are some of the highlights of All this will mean hiring more municipal employees. The city the society's finding: One hundred new families will need 0.84 new employees in mean about 450 new people. The the police department and twochildren will create a need for thirds of a new fireman. Probably 2.2 more grade school rooms and four others will have to be added 1.65 high school rooms, which to the city payroll. The new staff will cost about $120,000. About 50 will up the police budget $4,510 of the children will be in gram- a year, add $2,820 to fire department expenses, and boost the mar school, 25 in junior high, and general payroll by $12,000 to $15,-25 in senior high. Four more teachers will be needed. All told.

Other odds and ends that the curing "proper relation and bal the 100 families will add some $30,000 a year to the school oper- society figures the 100 new fam- ance." It is not easy to do, and ilies will require include: a new the job becomes more difficult ating budget.

The families will mean more hospital bed (price $10,000); 500 when some newspapers distort the street cleaning, more garbage col- new books for the library (add- balance of the news by playing lecting, more tax collecting, and ing $675 to the library's annual crime and violence all out of procity parks and city health will budget); and a fraction of a cell in portion to their real news value. -The Greensboro Daily News need more looking after. The the jail.

form Reciprocal Enforcement of There is no date on the post Support Act which provides a le- card from Mr. Gifford, to indiin another state or jurisdiction. Oak Hall or the Ozone Hotel will

Thanks to Mr. Gifford for his contribution to The Pilot's collecaction under this law when the tion of local history items. In every case of desertion dependent children are in this where an ADC grant is involved, State. That court also executes the county superintendent of pub- similar actions for out-of-State ent children, according to the lic welfare gives the name and all dependent children whose desert-studies of the State Board of Public Welfare which supervises information available regarding ing parent is in this State. Washthe whereabouts of the deserting ington, D. C., is one of the few the county-administered welfare parent to the law enforcement of major jurisdictions which does program in North Carolina.

Court Action

The fact that the whereabouts of a large proportion of the deserting parents is unknown makes it exceedingly difficult to get sat-Court action is necessary in re- isfactory results, the studies quiring a deserting parent to con-showed. Over against cases in which full information cannot be obtained, however, there are hundreds of cases in which payments from the deserting parents are secured welfare department in cooperation with the law enforcement officials

Desertion by a parent and the resulting needs of the children emphasize the service which can tremes are news-either extremes be rendered by case workers in Albert county departments of public welfare as they counsel with the Schweitzer) or extremes of badremaining parent and children on thir family problems, the studies indicated.

The PILOT

Published Every Thursday by THE PILOT, Incorporated Southern Pines, North Carolina 1941-JAMES BOYD-1944 Katharine Boyd Editor News Editor C. Benedict Gen. Mgr. Dan S. Rav C. G. Council Advertising Mary Scott Newton ...... Business Bessie Cameron Smith ...... Society

Subscription Rates: One Year $4. 6 mos. $2; 3 mos. $1

Entered at the Postoffice at Southern Pines, N. C., as second class mail matter.

and N. C. Press Assn.

As I see the daily newspaper, it is a mirror of contemporary life. It must, if it is to be a good public servant, reflect life as it is. If crime and violence be a part of our life, then the mirror must show crime and violence as it must also show constructive and unselfish actions. All

Composing Room Lochamy MeLean, Dixie B. Ray, Michael Valen, Jasper Swearingen

Member National Editorial Assn.

Mirror of Life . . . Newspapers, of course, are (like

of goodness

ness (like Joseph Stalin).

elements of our life must be shown in the mirror of the daily newspaper in this prop-

The problem, we admit, is se er relation and balance.

long time efforts to enforce North tribute to the support of depend-

as a result of the efforts of the