

Cracks of Light
By TOM O'NEIL

Received in the mail the other day a little magazine called THE DAY. It is published by the Episcopal Church people. It is written in this magazine, AND I QUOTE, "The Episcopal Church does not demand that her members accept the story of the creation of Adam and Eve as true." UNQUOTE. . . Very good, now, The Original Sin and The Fall of Man, will have a tough time holding its head up. Gee! What a glorious feeling to be able to get up in the mornings and line up our own sins to take care of, instead of trying to get that other fellow straightened out. . . We can now forget about the fall of man, and start to think of THE RISE OF MAN, and believe me, if we put as much work to THE RISE OF MAN as we did to THE FALL OF MAN, we'll go places in a hurry.

REGARDING PSYCHIC PHENOMENA:
The true researcher thinks nothing of ghosts atop his garden fence; he sharpens the posts to see what happens. . .

Two million years from now the scientists can start a row by claiming that the creatures of the period descended from man.

God doesn't judge man until the end of his days, then all he says is, "Soul, go into the back room and give yourself what you think you deserve!" (Advertisement)

How many remember the exciting episode of the specially invented bomb so designed that it would bounce along on the water and finally resulted in blowing up the Ruhr dams that crippled Germany's war industries, in World War 2? Coming to the Carolina Theatre, this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at 8:15 p. m. with a Saturday matinee is "The Dam Busters," in which is told, with power and authority, this thrilling story of man's dream to cripple Germany's heavy industry by destroying its source of water power.

The film will grip audiences anywhere. Splendidly acted by Richard Todd, (of "A Man Called Peter") Michael Redgrave and Ursula Jeans, and based on fact, it provides an engrossing balance of taut action and intelligent well-played drama. Not a single German is shown and stock clichés have been skillfully avoided. There is neither mock heroics nor displays of cowardice. Human, emotionally satisfying, humorous, gripping and thrilling—this is an enthralling peep behind the scenes of a top secret enterprise.

Coming Sunday through Tuesday (3 days) is the CinemaScope-Stereophonic Sound production in Eastman Color, "The King's Thief," a drama laid in London.

beautifully depicted in CinemaScope and Color, with actors of great ability who can wear costumes of the period as though born to them, a story that carries conviction while it unfolds on the screen. Action is fast and characterizations very good.

Produced on a lavish, spectacular scale, the picture offers Ann Blyth, Edmund Purdom, David Niven, George Sanders and Roger Moore, and is bound to satisfy the theatre going public inasmuch as a time-tested swashbuckling formula has been taken and turned into a picture which delivers excitement.

17, with a matinee at 3 and a night show at 8:15, is the already famous hard-hitting drama about juvenile delinquency in the schoolroom, "Blackboard Jungle," starring Glenn Ford, Anne Francis, Margaret Hayes and Richard Kiley. In this fortitudinous film, the issue is forthrightly and intelligently faced, and with a praiseworthy paucity of preachment.

There are occasionally musical interludes that accord welcome breaks in the hard-boiled, exciting, actionful development of the story, and also spots of humor.

SUNRISE

In the past 12 months Walt Disney has turned out "The Vanishing Prairie"; "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea"; a weekly hour-long television show which zoomed into the top ten; and the first feature-length cartoon in CinemaScope, "Lady and the Tramp," which will open at the Sunrise Theatre Sunday, August 21.

Hailed as the greatest of his cartoon features, "Lady and the Tramp" is a sprightly tale of love and laughter in the dog world and features an entirely new cast of animated characters.

The film, in color by Technicolor, is based on a novel by Ward Greene and is distributed by Buena Vista.

Hemmer Photos
In New Exhibit

Photographs by John Hemmer of Pinehurst are represented in a new photographic exhibit, depicting North Carolina from the mountains to the coast, which had its first public showing at the Pack Memorial Library in Asheville.

The photos, all produced by the North Carolina News Bureau, total 64 prints in sizes from 11 by 14 inches to half a dozen 30 by 40 murals. They were chosen from the News Bureau's files for photographic quality and coverage of the state's scenic attractions and varied localities.
