Jr. Woman's Club Party Successful; Other Club News

The Jr. Woman's Club of Southern Pines reports proceeds of more than $150 from the benefit bridge party held recently at the Southern Pines Country Club, and wishes to express appreciation to the public for making the project a success. The money is to be used for the Clothing Closet fund for the Moore County Welfare Department.

Prizes for men and women were won, as follows: first, Mrs. Herbert Smith and Gene Pelton; second, Mrs. George Thompson and Captain Herbert Smith; low, Miss Archbell and Harvey Horne. Mrs. E. J. Austin and Mrs. Garland MacPherson won door prizes.

A white elephant sale was held, and refreshments were served. Local club members who attended open house of the Children's Home Society at Greensboro September 22 were Mrs. C. K. Ligon, Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. Thomas Howerton, Mrs. Earl Hubbard, and Mrs. Norman Caudle. Also one visitor, Mrs. Craven.

District Day for senior and junior clubwomen was held in Raeford last Friday. The local club won first prize, a blue ribbon award, in the yearbook contest. Class C. Members attending were: Mrs. C. K. Ligon, Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. Joe Marley, Mrs. Hal Adams, Mrs. R. B. Warlick, Mrs. B. C. Avery, and Mrs. C. S. Patch, Jr.

The club held a business meeting Tuesday night at the Jefferson Inn with Mrs. Ligon, Mrs. Marley, Mrs. Joe Montesanti, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Phillips as hostesses. Flower arrangements were done by Mrs. Phillips.

Dr. William P. Richardson, who is with the School of Preventive Medicine of UNC, Chapel Hill, and an associate of the Human Betterment League in Winston-Salem, spoke on the eugenic sterilization program in North Carolina.

Mrs. Phillips was appointed local chairman of the stamps for wounded veterans program of Junior clubs, in which 63,767,000 stamps were collected by clubs of the State Federation last year. Mrs. Patch was made chairman of the annual Christmas banquet, for which plans are already being made. It was reported that $3.50 had been sent to the State headquarters for the Ten Penny Art Fund.

National Safe Driving Day and Junior Day were pointed out as important future dates on the Federation calendar.

Book Club Begins Fourth Year Soon; Questions Answered

The Thursday Morning Book Club will begin its fourth year by holding an "extra curriculum" meeting October 20 to discuss the summer's reading. The meeting will be held at 10 o'clock in the small room of the Civic Club.

Because of the interest shown and questions asked concerning the activities of the Book Club, a brief explanation seems in order. Miss Norma Underhill, retiring chairman, reports in regard to membership, about 24 cards sent each month with an average attendance of 20.

The club organization has been simple, consisting of two officers, a chairman who also has had charge of publicity, and a "card-sending" secretary. This kind of secretary is a necessity where the type of books and the general topic for discussion changes each month. Library books are used.

Minimum time was spent on organization business in order that more time might be given to the program. Discussion of books has been the primary interest of the group. However, some reporting is necessary in order to introduce the books for discussion. There has been a different leader each month. Therefore, this introducing of books varies with each meeting, ranging from brief one-person reports to short panels of two or three members or dramatic readings in case of plays.

This coming year the club will be chartered by an executive committee of three, Mrs. Philip Green, Miss Carol Day and Mrs. James Hartshorne.

The Book Club meets the third Thursday of the month at 10 a. m. in the small room of the Civic Club. An open fire and morning coffee are considered an important part of the program.

Guests are always welcome—and active and inactive members.

Sandhills Residents Are On Tour Of Far East And Australasia

Captain George F. Shearwood of the Shearwood Travel Service in Pinehurst and Mrs. Henry A. Page of Aberdeen left the Sandhills by air on Wednesday for a two-month tour of the Far East and Australasia. They were joined in San Francisco by Mrs. W. S. Elliott, a friend of Mrs. Page's, who at one time lived in the Sandhills.

The high spot of the trip for Mrs. Page, an ardent fisherwoman, will be about a week's fishing in the world-famed trout streams of New Zealand, reputedly the best trout fishing area in the world. Captain Shearwood will spend that week near Auckland, New Zealand's principal city, visiting a nephew, Harry Shearwood, and his family. Uncle and nephew will be meeting for the first time. The family visit will make the trip a combined pleasure and business trip for Captain Shearwood, who will survey the changes in tourist facilities and conditions since his last visit to the Far East 18 years ago.

The party left San Francisco by Pan American Clipper for Hawaii on Thursday and spent a day at Waikiki Beach outside Honolulu. From there they were due to fly on to Tokyo, Japan, arriving this coming Sunday morning. During a nine-day visit in Japan they will witness two of the most colorful medieval ceremonies due to take place while they are in the country. One will be a feudal procession to the Toshogu Shrine at Nikko, and the other the annual Jidai Matsuri Festival at the Heian Shrine at Kyoto, ancient capital of Japan.

From Japan they fly to Hong Kong for a four-day visit to this colorful Pacific crossroads metropolis and nearest contact point with the Chinese "Bamboo Curtain" before flying on for another four-day visit in Bangkok, capital of Thailand.

The next stop will be Singapore and then comes Indonesia. A few days will be spent on the fabled tropical paradise island of Bali before they continue by air to Sydney, Australia. Another flight will land them in the south island of New Zealand where they will visit the Tasman Glacier and Mount Cook, chief point of the spectacular Alpine scenery of the island. They will then cross to the north island to visit the chief scenic wonders and climax the three-week stay in New Zealand with the fishing expedition and Captain Shearwood's family visit.

On the way back across the Pacific they will spend two days at the Fiji Islands and another two at Honolulu. Mrs. Page and Captain Shearwood are due back at their homes late on December 7.

Church of Wide Fellowship Notes

The Ruth Burr Sanborn Circle of the Church of Wide Fellowship met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. William P. Davis and members report a delightful evening highlighted by a review of Anne Morrow Lindbergh's "A Gift From the Sea" given by Miss Lockie Parker.

The first covered dish dinner of the season is scheduled for tomorrow (Friday) at 6:30 p. m. The invitation extended is, "Come with your family and friends to enjoy the warmth of good fellowship."

The annual meeting of the Women's Fellowship of Congregational Christian Churches of North Carolina was held in Durham at the First Congregational Church on Tuesday of last week.

The delegation from this church consisted of: Mrs. W. O. Timmons, Mrs. E. M. Donaldson, Mrs. Ida Lorenson, Mrs. Marshall Palmer, Mrs. Bryan Poe, Mrs. M. Y. Poe, Mrs. Russell M. Simons, Mrs. Louis Scheipers, Miss Hazel Shiring, and Mrs. E. V. Walker. They report a very impressive gathering, with the address of the national president, Mrs. Edgar R. Bark of Wisconsin, being particularly inspiring.

Sunday, October 16, will be Laymen's Sunday. Dr. Timmons has chosen his text from Mark 8:24, and his topic will be "When Men Begin to See."

"The press is our conscience, our guide and our informant."—Bernard Baruch.

The 820 Boy Scout Council camps have a value of $50,000,000.

Presbyterian Circles Meet; Miss Davis Feted

Members of Circle 10 of Brownson Memorial Presbyterian Women of the Church held their monthly meeting Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Harold Collins. Present were 13 members, one new member, Mrs. Edgar A. Ewing, and three guests, Mrs. Cheves K. Ligon, Mrs. J. B. Tolson and Miss Saradee Davis, director of Christian Education of the church.

Taking part on the program were Mrs. James Pleasants, who gave an article on "Church Extension," and Mrs. Howard Butler, leading the Bible study on the subject "Salvation for All People."

Following the program and business session, Mrs. Collins invited her guests into the dining room, with Miss Davis leading, to the accompaniment of bridal music played by Mrs. Paul Butler.

Here Miss Davis, a bride-elect, whose wedding to Thomas Bowen of Quincey, Fla., is planned for December, was greatly surprised to find an array of bridal gifts on one end of the artistically arranged table. Assorted cookies, salted nuts, mints and tea were served, with Mrs. A. W. McNeill pouring.

Many good wishes were extended to Miss Davis as she expressed gratitude for the many lovely shower gifts, presented as tokens of affection and esteem by these friends.

Circle 7 enrolled one new member, Mrs. W. E. Bacon, and welcomed three visitors, Mrs. Robin A. Bullock, Mrs. M. B. Kellis and Miss Saradee Davis at its October meeting, held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. W. O. Spence with Mrs. Lloyd Prime as co-hostess. Total attendance was 16. Mrs. Morrison Howe led the Bible study and Mrs. Joe Garzik presented an article from the Presbyterian Women.

Mrs. Thomas Hobson and Mrs. Donald G. Case were hostesses to Circle 5 Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Hobson. Sixteen members responded to roll call, and a new member was enrolled, Mrs. J. O. Jenkins. Mrs. Ward Hill gave an article on "Church Extension," and Mrs. R. O. Cowin led a Bible study on "God's Plan for Universal Salvation."

Mrs. Wilson Represents County NCEA Unit At Raleigh Meeting

Mrs. P. A. Wilson of Vass-Lakeview school, attended the statewide meeting for chairmen of Professional Services committees in Raleigh, last Saturday.

Mrs. Wilson is chairman of the Professional Services committee of the Moore County Local Unit of the North Carolina Education Association.

The day long meeting was held in the Headquarters Building of the NCEA and was attended by over 130 persons. Mrs. Irene Hill, chairman of the NCEA Professional Services committee, presided.

Mrs. Ethel Perkins Edwards, Executive Secretary of the NCEA, welcomed the group during the general session. Bert Ishee, Fayetteville, president of the NCEA, addressed the group on "Strengthening Educational Relationships in North Carolina." Five discussion groups discussed topics pertinent to the profession.

The first NCEA produced film, "Teacher for North Carolina," was presented to the group during the afternoon session. The film was followed by a report of the leaders of the discussion groups.

Local Group Has Cape Fear Trip

As part of their study of North Carolina history, members of the eighth grade class of Don Moore at Southern Pines school went to Fayetteville last Thursday afternoon and had a voyage on the Cape Fear River aboard a boat owned by Oscar Breece, well known Fayetteville man.

The event was arranged for the group by Mrs. Graham Culbreth. Teachers making the trip, in addition to Mr. Moore, were Miss Kay Buice, Miss Annie Margaret Brewer, Allen R. Gibbs and Ralph L. Foushee.

There are over 300 Scout Units organized for physically handicapped boys.

son rescuator, two Scott "air pac" air masks that can be used for 30 minutes at a time by a fireman doing hard labor under any conditions; and two-way radio equipment in each of the new pumps, communicating with the police radio in town hall—from which messages are relayed by telephone to the fire department—and also capable of communication with police cars and town department service trucks.

Albert Tew and S. T. Dunn are assistant chiefs of the local department. Frank H. Kaylor, Sr. is truck captain and secretary-treasurer; and C. T. Dunn, Jr., is company captain. Other members of the department are: J. P. O'Callaghan, Hubert Cameron, G. R. Currie, Joe Garzik, Fred Hall, Johnnie Hall, A. D. Hurst, R. T. Mills, John O'Callaghan, L. V.

O'Callaghan, E. G. Renegar, L. S. Rowell, Roy Solomon, F. P. Viell, C. L. Worsham, Jr., M. O. Johnson and Curtis Bettini.

Old Truck Rescued
Chief Fowler said that a 1921 Reo hose truck, which was the first fire truck Southern Pines ever had, may be in the parade Saturday. The truck was sold by Southern Pines to Biscoe in 1926 and finally was sold to a junk yard from which it was rescued by a resident of Troy, C. T. Dunn, Jr., of the local department learned of the vehicle's existence and personally bought it and has been fixing it up as a curiosity. It is not owned by the town.

TOWN COUNCIL

enjoying these benefits, Mohroe as one which has signed a contract, and Aberdeen and Pinehurst as towns which are interested and will have representation at the hearing.

Asked by the council to secure "facts and figures" on some town comparable in size to Southern Pines, not only on costs but revenue, Matherne said he would use Fort Valley, Ga., as subject for a survey to be submitted within a short time.

Not only the councilmen but others attending the meeting—about a dozen townspeople were present—gave signs of much interest in the proposal, and asked a number of questions.

Cost Discussed
To their interest in the cost to the individual home owner, Matherne said going rate on natural gas is $1.10 per 1,000 feet. This is about one-half the present cost of bottled gas and much cheaper than electricity, he said. Conversion from bottled gas to natural gas, he said, is effected in a simple manner, with a little plug costing about 50 cents.

Dr. L. M. Daniels stated his view that it would be "a great thing" and a great attraction to industry. Owner of a number of rental homes, and builder of homes for sale, he said he would like to have it "in all his homes."

With the hearing only a little more than a week away, the council agreed that was no time to sound out public sentiment to any important degree. Motion to send the endorsing letter was made by Councilman T. T. Morse, seconded by Councilman H. H. Pethick, with the understanding that it committed the town to nothing.

RICHARDSON

A native of Jefferson, Maine, Mr. Richardson came to Southern Pines in 1906 from Boston, Mass., and for the first 15 years of his residence here was a partner with C. T. Patch in the Patch and Richardson department store. He became interested in the peach industry, buying acreage of his own for orchards and going into the business also in partnership with others. At the peak of his peach interests, he managed production on a total of 900 acres in this area, either for himself or for others.

For a dozen or more years, Mr. Richardson had his own real estate and insurance agency and has been in this business with the E. C. Stevens agency for the past eight years.

With J. Talbot Johnson, Aberdeen attorney, he took an option on 5,000 acres of land that included site of the Knollwood development which is now a part of Southern Pines, and he was active for a number of years in promoting and developing this property.

During the years of Mr. Richardson's service as a town commissioner and mayor, Southern Pines started its first big era of progress, including construction of the water plant and lake on the Carthage road, extension of sewer and water lines, paving streets, construction of curb, gutter and sidewalks, building the sewage disposal plant, construction of the fire station on New Hampshire Ave. and provision of the town park. There were no paved streets in Southern Pines when he became mayor, Mr. Richardson recalls.

The new councilman is a charter member of both the Sandhills Kiwanis and the Southern Pines Lions Clubs and is a past master of the local Masonic lodge. A member of the First Baptist Church, he served as a deacon there for 41 years.

Mr. Clark went on the council to fill an unexpired term, following the resignation of C. C. Kennedy in the fall of 1949. He was elected in 1951, and during the ensuing term was active in the movement for the change to the council-manager form of government, which took effect in May 1953. He served as first mayor under the new form of government.

During the second year of his administration he headed negotiations with the State Highway Commission which resulted in the re-routing of US Highway 1 through town.

Patch's Prize Package Contest

Begins Monday Morning, October 17, 1955

1. Each week Patch's will have a new contest and a new prize.
2. Each week a question will be asked about some item in our store.
3. The first correct answer delivered to our office on the second floor, and complying with these rules, will win the prize.
4. The question will be given over radio station WEEB at 9 o'clock each Monday morning.
5. The item about which a question will be asked on Monday will be found in one of our windows on Sunday.
6. Only one entry will be accepted from a family each week. Only one prize to a family. Patch's officers, employees and their families can not enter this contest.
7. The correct answer must be on a 3"x5" card. Your name and address must be printed on one side of the 3"x5" card. On the other side of the card print your answer—and your SIZE if the question is about wearing apparel. The card must be accompanied by a sales ticket for any purchase you made at any time in Patch's Department Store. The amount of the sales ticket does not have any bearing on the entry.

8. The prize each week will be the product about which the question is asked that week. For example, the question might be, "What is the trade name of the lingerie made by Van Raalte Company?" and the prize would be Van Raalte lingerie. If the question were, "What kind of wearing apparel is made by Mac Shore, Pilot or Blousemaker?" the prize would be a handsome blouse.
9. There will be only one correct answer to each question. The decision of the management is final and, in case of ties, duplicate awards will be made.
