Practice Tennis Matches Scheduled Here This Sunday

The first tennis matches of the season will be played on the courts here Sunday between Fayetteville and the local team, sponsored by the Sandhills Tennis Association.

The matches have been scheduled primarily for practice and will not count in the standings, since Fayetteville is not a member of the Eastern North Carolina Tennis Association.

Regular season matches begin May 27 with Sanford. The location is still undetermined since the Sanford courts have been undergoing extensive repairs.

The matches this Sunday begin at 2:30.

Team members expected to play include Ray Schilling, captain, Angelo Montesanti, Kenneth Tew, Julian Pleasants, Bill Bowman, Harry Watson, Norris Hodgkins, Jr., Charlie Phillips, Don Moore and Lemuel Tew.

Others interested in playing are requested to contact Schilling.

THEATRES CAROLINA

Continuing through Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at the Carolina Theatre, at 8:15 with a Saturday matinee at 3 p.m., are the last three days of "The Swan" starring the most publicized girl in the world, Grace Kelly, and co-starring Alec Guinness and Louis Jourdan.

The Special Air Defense Short Subject, "24 Hour Alert" in connection with Armed Forces Day, May 19, will be an added attraction.

Coming Sunday through Wednesday, May 20-23 with three shows Sunday at 3, 7, and 9 p.m., with week nights at 8:15 and a Wednesday matinee at 3, is "Gaby" starring Leslie Caron and John Kerr.

This new screen version of the Robert Sherwood play, "Waterloo Bridge," filmed in 1940 by MGM with Robert Taylor and Vivien Leigh, has been brought up to date by using World War 2 background.

With Leslie Caron as the French ballerina and John Kerr ("Tea and Sympathy") as the American paratrooper, the picture is a thoroughly entertaining romantic drama that will win public favor wherever it is shown.

Waiting for it, besides those who have nostalgic recollections of its predecessor, are the many fans who remember Miss Caron in her early film roles, especially her highly successful "Lili" and more recently, "Daddy Long Legs." In support are Taina Elg, Margola Gilmore and Sir Cedric Hardwicke.

Included in the proceedings is the ever popular Rogers and Hart song, "Here And When," to highlight a number of romantic scenes.

Starting Thursday night, May 24 is "The Scarlet Hour," in Vista-Vision. Produced and directed by Michael Curtiz, "The Scarlet Hour," represents an important step in the industry's development of "new faces."

Paramount has taken three potential stars, plus several new supporting players - none of whom have ever appeared in movies before - and turned them over to Curtiz in a drama somewhat reminiscent of "Double Indemnity."

The new faces are Carol Ohmart, a real find; Tom Tryon, Judy Lawrence and comedienne Elaine Stritch. Added is an excellent featured song by Nat "King" Cole, "Never Let Me Go."

SUNRISE

"Carousel," which Twentieth Century-Fox chose as the vehicle to introduce its new CinemaScope 55 process, has been considered Rodgers and Hammerstein's finest musical since it was first introduced on the New York stage in 1945, although "Oklahoma," "South Pacific" and "The King and I" stand high on their list of collaborations.

The picture will have its premiere here soon at the Sunrise Theatre.

This American musical classic has had a record of performances seldom achieved by a musical production. "Carousel" opened at the Majestic Theatre in New York on April 19, 1945 and closed May 24, 1947, after 890 performances. It was revived at the New York City Center in 1949, for 47 performances and opened again on June 2, 1954, at the same theatre for 79 performances.

Greene Named 'Airman of Month'

"Airman of the Month" for April at the USAF Air-Ground Operations School here has been awarded to Airman, second class, Dennis L. Greene, a senior vehicle operator.

He is entitled, by winning the award, to a three day pass; ten dollars cash from the Unit Fund; five dollars in merchandise from the Sandhill Drug Company, Style Mart Store, and Jacks Restaurant and Grill; 15 gallons of gasoline from Clark and Bradshaw Esso Service Station; and a pass for two persons to any one show at the Carolina Theatre.

Airman Greene was given the award Monday at Commanders Call by Major Allan W. Shaw, Jr., Commander of the 4425th School Squadron, who read the commendation from Brig. Gen. D. W. Jenkins, Commandant.

The commendation read: "Through your continuous efforts as senior vehicle operator you are constantly and successfully striving to uphold the motto of the school—'Honest, Enthusiastic, Objective.' It has been noted that in your daily duties you are always doing 'just a little bit more' than is required of you. Your attitude toward duty, loyalty to the service and daily appearance is an example to be followed by your fellow airmen. Such efforts indicate a high sense of duty."

Airman Greene was transferred here from Shaw Air Force

Base, S. C. in October, 1954. He lives with his wife, the former Ella Plemmons, and their two children at the Trailer Park in Southern Pines.

Music Association Names Four Groups To Help Promotion

Four committees—from Carthage, Aberdeen, Robbins and Pinehurst—have been appointed to help support the membership and ticket sales drive of the Sandhills Music Association, it was announced at the conclusion of the Young Musicians Concert Saturday night at the Pinehurst Country Club.

The concert, which was well attended, was the final one in a series sponsored throughout the year by the music association. Eighteen young people of the county, students of 15 different music teachers, presented a well-rounded program of piano selections. In addition, there were two voice student. Dr. Charles Phillips, master of ceremonies this year in place of Dr. William F. Hollister, who has long performed the task, made the committee announcements.

Members of the association, mostly from Southern Pines, have long felt the need for more participation in other parts of the county. For the present the executive board of the Southern Pines committee will promote the concert series here.

The other committees are as follows:

Carthage — Mrs. Myrton T. Stewart, chairman, Mrs. W. G. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Allen, Mrs. Colin Spencer, Mrs. Colin Spencer, Jr., Mrs. H. G. Poole, Mrs. M. J. McPhail, and Kelly Baker.

Robbins — J. A. Culbertson, chairman, Mrs. W. P. Schomaker, Mrs. John L. Frye, and Mrs. E. T. Parham.

Pinehurst—Mrs. Mulford Horr, chairman, and Mrs. Hugh Carter.

Aberdeen—Mrs. Ralph Caldwell, chairman, Mrs. Jack Taylor, Mrs. Jere McKeithen, Mrs. J. C. Robbins, Mrs. Cecil Farrell, Mrs. Norfleet Pleasants, and E. H. Poole.
