Home Demonstration Club News

Rainbow Club
Salad magic was the conversation topic at the May meeting of the Rainbow Home Demonstration Club held in the home of Mrs. Lacy McRae.

It was a leader's meeting and conducted by Mrs. Charles Gschwind in the absence of the foods leader. The dining table was lovely with the colorful arrangement of eleven different salads.

They were later served and were delicious. Recipes were exchanged.

Members discussed the best types of salads to enhance a meal with dressings to compliment each one. Weight watchers count calories and ears were alert for the most satisfying ones in low calorie group.

Home improvements continue: new closets, screened porch, refinished floors, house underpinning, painting and asbestos siding have been added to as many various homes since the April meeting.

It is gratifying to see the progress of comfort and beauty going forward in the rural areas.

Publicity Chairman

Rotarians Told
Of New Homeowner
Insurance Policy

Explanation of the new type of comprehensive insurance coverage recently approved by the State Insurance Commission was made at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club Friday.

The new "package" policy is the newest thing in insurance coverage, the speakers pointed out, and has only been recently approved in this state.

The club welcomed Col. George Garde, retired Army officer, as a new member. He was inducted into the club by Dr. Wofford C. Timmons, pastor of the Church of Wide Fellowship.

Will Wiggs of Southern Pines was a guest at the meeting.
