PARENTS OF MOORE COUNTY SCHOOL CHILDREN

It's important that you enroll your child for scholastic accident insurance now. Send $1.50 today for this protection.

$2,500 Medical and Dental Expense Benefit Up to $7,500 for Accidental Dismemberment
$1,500 Benefit for Accidental Loss of Life

Experience has proved that this policy provides adequate coverage at the lowest cost.

Thousands of parents of school children have received financial help in the payment of hospital or doctor bills—they had the foresight to insure their child under Pilot's Scholastic Accident Insurance Policy. Other parents could have had their bills paid, but failed to enroll their children for this low-cost protection. Make sure your child is protected—send the small premium stated above to the child's homeroom teacher today.

Accidents do happen, and can happen at any time. Hardly a day passes without newspaper, radio and TV reports referring to accidents among school children. Often it's the talk of the neighborhood as reports of the injuries are received. In spite of all precaution the majority of accidents among children happen during school months. Parents must first protect their children with sound advice about avoiding injuries and accidents whenever possible; then protect them with scholastic accident insurance to help lighten the load when costly accidents do happen. Today, enrolling for this protection has become about as familiar as arranging for many other pre-school necessities. Enroll your child now.
