PINEBLUFF NEWS

By MRS. EHRMAN PICKLER Bumgarner-Sheppard

The wedding of Miss Virginia Sheppard and Pfc. Clyde Bumgarner of Iuka, Ill., took place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Ives Memorial Baptist Church. The Rev. W. Ray Gosnell officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sheppard.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. W. K. Carpenter, Jr., organist, and Mrs. Lewis Brown, soloist. Mrs. Brown sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a white lace gown over taffeta with fitted bodice and full waltz-length skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Doris Ann Rogers as maid of honor. Her gown was of pale green taffeta with ruffled net overskirt. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of pink and white carnations and wore a headband of pink flowers.

The best man was Harry Williams and ushers were W. K. Carpenter, Jr., and Robert Tyner. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Sheppard chose a dress of dusty rose lace with black accessories and white carnation corsage.

The young couple will make their home in Pinebluff until December when Pfc. Bumgarner will receive his discharge from the U. S. Army. They will then go to Elgin, Ill., where he was previously employed.

Visitors Are Entertained
Mr. and Mrs. William Strey and children left Tuesday night for their home in Des Plaines, Ill., after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Adams, Sr. En route home they will stop over in Butler, Pa., for a visit with Mrs. Strey's sister, Mrs. John De Rose, and Mr. De Rose.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Adams, Sr. and daughter Linda, Connie Howie and Harry Lee Howie accompanied the Streys to Windy Point for the weekend during their visit. Monday night the Adams family met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Howie where they enjoyed a family picnic. Out of town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Weather- spoon and daughter Nancy of Southern Pines, Mr. and Mrs. Al White, Richard Bell and Mrs. J. D. Adcox all of Maxton.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Morgan spent the weekend at Myrtle Beach.

Miss Billie Venable of Charlotte was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Sessoms. On Sunday Miss Venable, Mr. and Mrs. Sessoms and Marion Sessoms enjoyed a picnic dinner at Morrow Mountain State Park.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Adcox, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. David and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Pickler attended the 60th Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Blackwelder in Albemarle.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Leavitt were weekend guests of their daughter, Mrs. T. W. Goldston, and Mr. Goldston in Raleigh. They also visited their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Leavitt.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Adcox, Mrs. Eloise Bleau and Bill Krenz spent Monday at Morrow Mountain State Park.

Emmanuel Church To Go On Normal Schedule Sunday

Emmanuel Church will return to its normal fall schedule Sunday, it has been announced by the Rev. Martin Caldwell, rector. The Church School will also begin a new year.

According to Mr. Caldwell the schedule is as follows:
Holy Communion, 8 a. m.; Family Service and Church School, 9:30 a. m.; and Morning Prayer, 10 a. m.
During the past two weeks the classrooms have been painted and new equipment is being purchased for them.

Mr. Caldwell said that a nursery class will be held each Sunday morning during the Morning Service hour for all children under six years of age.

The Young People's Service League, idle for the summer, will begin a new year Sunday evening at 6:30.

Grade A milk production through June accounts for 43 per cent of total North Carolina production.

THEATRES CAROLINA

Continuing through Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at the Carolina Theatre is the CinemaScope-De Luxe Color production, "Satellite In The Sky," starring Kieron Moore, Lois Maxwell, and Donald Wolfitt.

On the heels of the government's announcement to launch an earth satellite, comes this exciting picture that doesn't strain or insult the imagination. The screenplay is uniquely constructed to dramatize the fact that we are at a "point of no return."

During the entire week of September 9, with three Sunday shows at 3-7 and 9 p.m., comes the top notch entertainment to date, which is, at this writing, breaking all records at the New York City Music Hall. "High Society," with Bing Crosby, Grace Kelly, Frank Sinatra, Celeste Holm, Louis Calhern, Sidney Blackmer and Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong and his Orchestra, is coming to the Sandhills!

Many will remember the huge comedy success, "The Philadelphia Story," with Katherine Hepburn and James Stewart, which wowed 'em on Broadway and later on the screen.

"High Society" is the same comedy, set to music by Cole Porter, and is the first one that he has written expressly for the screen in years.

In VistaVision and Technicolor, it is a musical version of an outstanding play certain to please wherever entertainment minded patrons abound, and that means practically everywhere, for it is gay, amusing, brightly colored, splendidly acted summer or fall fare, or for any season of the year.

Sinatra, looking amazingly boyish, combines his singing and histrionic talents to give a fine performance. Crosby employs his casual acting style and effortless crooning to fine effect and the usually regal Miss Kelly lets her hair down to join in the warbling, indulge in some clever repartee and even get drunk in the hilarious climactic scene. Celeste Holm again proves adept at tossing off witty lines and the late Louis Calhern and Sidney Blackmer are excellent too.

Its setting and sets in the top-ranking summer playground of what remains of American Society, plus its eye-catching sports wear, party dresses accessories and the like, will cause many a female patron to miss a couple of lines of the dialogue every so often. A pity, too, because most of same in the screenplay is, like Barry's original, pretty fast and smart.

Incidentally, this is the last picture made by Miss Kelly before taking up residence in Monaco. Sol Siegel, whose dream it was to produce this musical version of the story with his self-chosen, perfect cast, in VistaVision and Technicolor, has fulfilled his ambition with a splendid production.

SUNRISE

The story of a fabulous lifetime, a blending of stardust and suffering, passion and pain, music and magic, are glowingly told in Columbia Pictures' "The Eddy Duchin Story," according to advance report. The new film stars Tyrone Power as the handsome young musician who shook the golden towers of Manhattan with his hands on the keys of a piano, and beautiful Kim Novak as Marjorie Oelrichs, the girl of his dreams. In CinemaScope and color by Technicolor, "The Eddy Duchin Story" opens Sunday at the Sunrise Theatre.

Power is said to give a truly impressive performance as the gifted musician who knew more drama and despair, love and triumph than most men ever live to know. Miss Novak, fresh from a personal triumph in the memorable "Picnic," reportedly contributes as vivid a picture of a girl in love in "The Eddy Duchin Story." Here, in sharp contrast with her "Picnic" role, she is a famous, beautiful, sophisticated young woman who possesses the wholehearted warmth that can delight in sharing peanuts with pigeons on a rain-swept, romantic Central Park afternoon.

Their romance is said to be as warming as a sunset; their marriage, an idyllic time during which Duchin steadily rises to supremacy in the world of popular music. He is a radio and recording star, society's favorite band leader, when Marjorie dies shortly after the birth of their son.

Insurance companies estimate 25 per cent of fires of undetermined origin in the U. S. are due to rats. They cause short circuits, ignite matches, upset lamps.
