Mrs. Mark J. King, Jr., Is Feted At Luncheon By County Welfare Staff

Mrs. Mark J. King, Jr., of Southern Pines, case work assistant with the Moore County Welfare Department, was given a luncheon at Hamel's last Thursday by members of the Welfare staff as a farewell courtesy before she leaves next Monday to take graduate work in social services at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. She was presented a shower of gifts, also.

Those honoring Mrs. King were Mrs. Walter B. Cole, welfare superintendent for Moore County; Mrs. C. A. McCallum, Mrs. J. H. McCaskill, Mrs. George Fischer, Mrs. Ann Russell, Mrs. John Kelly, and Mrs. Idonna Russell, field representative for this area from the State Welfare office in Raleigh.

Mrs. King entertained this group at luncheon at her home on Boiling Springs Circle on Wednesday of last week.

The course which Mrs. King plans to take requires nine months. She will study at the University for three months, then take three months of field training, and return to the University for the final three months.

Leavitt Family Visits In Sandhills On Way South From Vermont

A family in which older residents of the town will feel especial interest spent last weekend in the Sandhills. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Leavitt and their seven daughters and Mr. Leavitt's brother Bernard Leavitt, all of Bridgewater, Vt. They were en route to Florida to make their home.

The Leavitt brothers are sons of former Southern Pines residents, Mrs. Bernard (Nellie) Leavitt of Bradford, Vt., and the late Mr. Leavitt. Their grandparents, also, were long-ago residents of Southern Pines and the family owned and operated the telephone system then in use here.

The Eugene Leavitts' daughters, said to be very attractive, are Ann, Jean, Linda, Dorothy, Edna Jane, and twins Julia and Joan.

Ann, Jean and Linda were weekend guests of Betsy Scheipers, and Edna Jane visited Sally Scheipers.

Mrs. Bernard Leavitt, Sr., is teaching.

Future Homemakers Welcome New Members And Elect Officers

The Southern Pines High School Chapter of Future Homemakers of America held its first meeting of the new school year Monday afternoon at the home economics cottage. The main purpose of the meeting was to elect officers for the year. New high school students desiring to join the club were invited to do so at this time, and new and renewal memberships totaled approximately 30.

Miss Vira Rodgers, club adviser, presided at the meeting, at which the club's colors, flower, creed and motto were explained. Arden Fobes read the purposes of the club.

The following new officers were elected: Sondra Bailey, president; Linda Thompson, vice-president; Patsy Garner, secretary; Diana Tolar, reporter; Frances Harper, parliamentarian; Alice Gamble, historian; and Betty Jo Lowdermilk, social chairman.

The club voted to hold its meetings on the first Monday of each month.

Announcement of the district "HA Rally" to be held in Hamel, October 13 was made.

Refreshments were enjoyed by the group.

Mrs. Ligon Presents Program At Meeting Of Jr. Woman's Club

"Who, What and Where?" This was the topic of the Junior Woman's Club's program Tuesday night at the first fall meeting, held at the Civic Club building with the new president, Mrs. Norris L. Hodgkins, Jr., presiding.

Mrs. Cheves K. Ligon, who was in charge of the program, answered the three-fold question, giving information about the functions and aims of both Junior and Senior Woman's Clubs.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Ted Klingenschmidt, Mrs. Lynn H. Ledden and Mrs. Irie Leonard.

Johnny McConnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. McConnell of Country Club Drive, flew to Chattanooga, Tenn., where he has enrolled at McCallie School.

MISS CARLOTTA MAPLES BECOMES BRIDE OF GILBERT MAPLES IN CHURCH RITES

Miss Carlotta Frances Maples, daughter of Mrs. J. E. Cockman of Carthage and the late Gilbert Maples, became the bride of Airman 1/c David Maples, also of Carthage but now stationed in Savannah, Ga., in a candlelight ceremony at the Baptist Church in Carthage at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening, September 8. The Rev. C. A. Kirby, Jr., was the officiating minister.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Patterson of Carthage, with whom she has made her home since early childhood.

Church decorations consisted of baskets of white gladioli and standards of white candles against a background of palms. White satin ribbon marked special pews.

Prior to the ceremony Mrs. Bert Moore, organist, and Miss Mary Jane Martin, vocalist, both of Carthage, presented a program of nuptial music. Miss Martin sang "Walk Hand In Hand," "Where Thou Goest," and, as a benediction, "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Moore played "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly," and the traditional wedding marches.

The bride was given in marriage by her step-father. Her princess style dress was of Chantilly lace and duchess satin, fashioned with v-shaped neckline and long pointed sleeves. Her fingertip veil was attached to a tiara of lace ornamented with seed pearls. She wore a pearl necklace and carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid and showered with stephanotis caught to satin ribbon.

The bride's wedding dress and the dresses of all of her attendants were made by her grandmother,

CARTER-KELLEY WEDDING CEREMONY IS SOLEMNIZED SATURDAY IN CHARLOTTE

In a ceremony at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, September 8, in Myers Park Presbyterian Church, Charlotte, Miss Margaret Patterson Kelley became the bride of Hugh William Carter, Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Kelley of 1659 Hertford Road, Charlotte. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carter of Pinehurst.

Dr. Thaddeus A. Cheatham of Pinehurst, maternal grandfather of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony, assisted by Dr. James E. Fogarty. A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight silk taffeta and Alencon lace, fashioned along princess lines with round neck and short sleeves. Gathered fullness in the back of the skirt extended into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of candlelight illusion was attached to a Juliet cap of Alencon lace. She carried a bouquet of gardenias, stephanotis and valley lilies.

Mrs. John Codrington of Baltimore, Md., sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor, and Miss Mary Ann Shannonhouse was maid of honor. Other attendants were Miss Mary Ann Carter of Pinehurst, another sister of

NEW MEMBERS OF JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB HONORED AT ANNUAL PRESIDENTS' TEA

One of the outstanding events on the year's calendar for the Junior Woman's Club—the Presidents' tea honoring new members—was held from 4 to 6 p. m. Saturday at the Knollwood home of Mrs. Joe Marley. Hostesses were past presidents, Mrs. Cheves K. Ligon and Mrs. Marley, and the new president, Mrs. Norris L. Hodgkins, Jr.

The honorees included: Mrs. Frank Blue, Mrs. Robert Burns, Mrs. Royden Council, Mrs. Thomas Craven, Mrs. Roger Gibbs, Mrs. William Howell, Mrs. Ted Klingenschmidt, Mrs. W. A. Raymond, Mrs. Hugh Rhodes, Jr., Mrs. Herman Shaw, Mrs. Thomas Surratt, Mrs. Kirk Thayer, Jr., and Mrs. David Whitehead.

The Marley home was decorated with arrangements of mixed garden flowers. The club colors of white and green were featured on the dining table, which was covered with a white cloth and centered with a bowl of white flowers flanked by green candles.

Mrs. Hodgkins and Mrs. Marley greeted the guests, numbering around 35, and Mrs. Ligon presided at the punch bowl.
