Vernon Blue, assistants.

Girls present were: Sandra Smith, Sandra Von Metzger, Marjorie Leslie Bullock, Virginia Cox, Debbie Blue Beverly Matthews, Sylvia Callahan, Grace and Linda Wilson, Barbara Parker, Jane Garner, Betty Key, and Mrs. Ed Johnson's young daughter.

The next meeting will be at the school at 3 p. m. Monday.

Birthday Party
Celebrating her daughter Karen's eighth birthday, Mrs. Thomas Wolfe served ice cream and cookies and presented favors to Karen and her classmates, the pupils of Mrs. W. A. Muse's third grade, Friday afternoon. The party was a day early, Karen's birthday occurring Saturday.

Beta Club
The Beta Club met Monday afternoon with the president, Johnsy Cameron, presiding. Danny Cameron, program leader, was assisted in presenting an interesting program on Albert Schweitzer by Polly Key, Bruce Jackson, Joan Baldwin and Fay Cameron. Plans for future activities were discussed. Mrs. W. E. Gladstone, club sponsor, served refreshments.

Enters School
The Rev. Thomas Wolfe went to Wake Forest Monday to enroll for his final semester in the Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Former Residents Here
Mrs. M. A. Bethune of Fayetteville and Mrs. E. A. Parnell of St. Paul, the former Ellen and Lena Melvin, who lived here in the early days of the village, called on Mrs. W. C. Leslie Sunday afternoon, and tried to see Mrs. G. W. Griffin, who was out of town at the time. They came to visit the graves of some of their relatives who are buried at Lakeview.

One of the long-time residents of Vass who was a child at the time recalls that when Mrs. Melvin, mother of the visitors, died, a group walked to Lakeview on the railroad to attend the funeral and when they were on the trestle over Little River, they heard a train coming, which caused much scurrying to get to safety.

One of the sisters is now past 80 and the other is in her seventies, but both are quite spry and, according to reports, lovely ladies. They were accompanied by some members of the family.

Select Mascots
Members of the Senior Class of Vass-Lakeview High School last Thursday chose their mascots from a group of attractive candidates brought to school a day or two earlier by seniors. They are Robbie McGill, son of Airman 1c and Mrs. W. R. McGill, and Barbara Sawyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Sawyer. The four parents are former VLHS students.

Presbyterian Picnic
The Vass Presbyterian Sunday School held its annual picnic Wednesday evening at the church.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. James Key went to Memorial Hospital, Chapel Hill, Saturday to see their nephew, Max Wicker, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Wicker (Maxine Thomas) of Sanford who was badly burned from his neck to his waist when he stuck a match to some lighter fluid which he had in a bottle cap. He ran when it blazed. The child was in very bad condition Sunday, a week after the accident. The Keys spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Waylon Thomas in Sanford.

The Rev. and Mrs. T. W. Estes of Pittsboro spent a day last week with the Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Wolfe. The families formerly were neighbors at Wake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Cameron spent the weekend with relatives at Buies Creek.

Mrs. George M. Blue, Mrs. Bob Edwards, and Ella Mae Blue visited Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wilkes in Laurinburg Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. W. H. Frye has been in Graham for the past two weeks because of the critical illness of her aunt, Mrs. Cora Loy, who is in Alamance County Hospital, with three special nurses in attendance. Mrs. Frye came home last Saturday and she and Mr. Frye visited their son Lewis at the Veterans Hospital in Durham as she was returning to Graham Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Moore of Charleston, S. C., brought Mrs. G. W. Griffin home last week, after a visit to them and other relatives.

John Caddell came home from St. Joseph's Hospital early last week, after receiving treatment several days for injuries sustained in a fall. Later in the week, Mrs. Caddell was admitted for treatment.

Recent out-of-town callers at the home of Mrs. Bertie L. Matthews were Misses Mamie, Minnie and Jackie Muse, of Cameron, who visited Miss Bessie Cameron, also, and Mrs. W. P. Parker of Laurinburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Laubscher, Miss Brenda Laubscher, Mrs. Paul Laubscher and Philip and Kenneth Laubscher, all of Sanford, were Sunday supper guests of Mrs. B. C. McRae.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Ferguson brought their baby son, Roland, Jr., home from Moore County Hospital last week. He is getting along well.

Misses Laura, Ruth and Mary White of Rockingham visited their aunt, Mrs. J. J. Parker, Sunday afternoon.

Thurlow Evans and Lacy McRae went to the tobacco market at Louisburg Monday and their wives went along to visit the C. C. Loftins, former Vass residents now living at Louisburg.

Mrs. W. D. McCraney attended the funeral of Bob McLawhorn in Greensboro Tuesday. Mr. McLawhorn, who died suddenly of a heart attack, was the husband of her niece, Helen Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Cortis Thomas, Miss Dana Thomas, Jim Ed and Ann went to Greensboro Sunday to take another daughter, Brenda Campbell, to catch a plane for Iowa City, Iowa, to attend school. Brenda is staying with her aunt, Mrs. Hael Whitright. She had a nice trip and arrived safely. The Thomases called on Mr. and Mrs. John Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lewis while in Greensboro.

Bryce Griffin returned home from the Pinebluff Sanitarium Monday, after a week's treatment, and is feeling much better.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cope of Lexington came down Sunday and they and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Callahan visited their uncle, Empe Callahan, at Bladenboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McLean visited Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Jackson at Godwin Sunday.

Mrs. Thomas Wolfe, secretary of the South Sandy Creek Baptist Association WMU, attended an executive board meeting at the home of the chairman, Mrs. F. L. Taylor, in Pinehurst Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Callahan, Henry and Amy Callahan visited Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hardy of Cameron Sunday afternoon.

The Rev. James Eskridge was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Williams.

Stanton Club
The Stanton Hill Club met in September with Mrs. Alfred Graham, with Mrs. Joe Pilson as co-hostess. Mrs. Ruth Muse was special guest.

Miss Flora McDonald, Moore Home Demonstration Agent gave the lesson on yeast breads. She demonstrated each step in making hot rolls as well as giving the recipe. As they came from the oven their delicious aroma floating into the living room, it made all the members more determined than ever to treat their families to these most tasty rolls.

Miss McDonald also showed decorative wall arrangements made from materials that can be collected in the woods. These arrangements had been shown at the Asheville Crafts and Arts Fair. Some of the members intend to try their hands at the art.

N. W. Phillips To Be Liaison Man For Auto Dealers

N. W. Phillips of Southern Pines, of Phillips Motor Sales, Inc. at 795 S. W. Broad Street, has been named area chairman of Moore County for the North Carolina Automobile Dealers Association for 1956-57, it has been announced by John M. Tiller of Durham, association president.

Mr. Phillips will serve as liaison man between the State and National Dealers Associations and local dealers. He will direct the two association's membership campaign in Moore County during October.
