

County Welfare Workers Plan To Attend Meeting

The case work staff of the Moore County Welfare Department will attend the Southeastern Regional Conference of American Public Welfare Association in Asheville next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, it was announced today by Mrs. Walter B. Cole, superintendent.

More than a thousand people from the 10 states and Puerto Rico are expected at the meeting, which will feature Gov. Hodges as speaker for the opening session.

On tap for special sessions of the convention are discussions on "adequate medical care in relation to expanding welfare services," "gaining perspective of the needs of older people," and demonstrations of psychiatric consultation.

Mrs. Cole has invited anyone interested in the work of public welfare to accompany the group.

Tobacco Buyer Is Reported Missing

Leon Garrison, a buyer for American Tobacco Company, has been reported missing since Sunday from both his home in Pamlico, S.C., and his job in Aberdeen. He had not been found Wednesday night.

Garrison was last seen at a relative's filling station in Pamlico Sunday morning, where he cashed a $15 check and asked if "anyone wanted to go to Aberdeen."

His brother, a patrolman in South Carolina, called the place he was staying in Aberdeen and found that none of his belongings were missing.
