

Spooks And Goblins To Participate In Annual Rotary Halloween Party

Final plans for the annual Rotary Halloween party, which will be held Wednesday at Memorial Field, were completed and announced this morning by Joe Scott, chairman of the party committee.

Spooks, goblins, skeletons, witches and assorted other costumed characters have been invited to take part in the party, which Scott said would be the biggest ever held.

Object of the party is, frankly, to keep children away from the main business area of Southern Pines Halloween night. Local businessmen have subscribed the funds needed to stage the party and have, according to Scott, "been most generous."

Prizes, with everyone taking part guaranteed one, have been obtained.

Scott said the party would officially get under way with a giant costume parade from 7 to 7:15 at the field. The parade will be led by the full Southern Pines high school marching band, complete with the majorettes.

Jane Carter Named Queen Of College Homecoming Event

Jane Carter of Carthage, freshman at East Carolina College, reigned as Queen at the recent celebration of Homecoming Day for alumni at the college.

The attractive co-ed is the third freshman in as many years. Chosen by students at the college in a general campus election, she was crowned Queen at a student-alumni ball by Henry Oglesby, executive secretary to Congressman Herbert Bonner. She appeared in the Homecoming Day parade as Queen and as sponsor of the Delta Sigma Rho fraternity at the college.

As a student at East Carolina, she is specializing in work in the pre-nursing curriculum. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Carter of Carthage.

There will be 10 preliminary winners in each category; in the finals there will be three winners named in each of the categories with the others receiving consolation prizes.

From the top three winners in all the groups, one boy and one girl will be chosen for first prizes.

A jittersburg and rock 'n roll contest will be held at 10 p.m. in which all seniors at the high school have been invited to participate or assist.

Other entertainment has been planned, Scott said, that would take up the slack between the contests. All the activity will be centered around a stage in front of the bleachers.

Added attractions will be food, provided free, which will be served by members of the mess detail at the Air Ground School.

Scott admonished the community's children this morning to remember where the entertainment was coming from.

He said that without the support and contributions of the town's businessmen the party would not be possible, and added that the party would continue on an annual basis if it proved successful.

He also reminded parents that a bus would leave the postoffice, beginning at 7 p.m., for Memorial Field every few minutes to transport parents and children who have no other forms of transportation.

Members of his committee are Frank Yandell, Hollie Sisk, Col. George Garde and James Harts-horne.
