Gay Holiday Season Ahead For Southern Pines

College students who are flocking in, visitors arriving for Christmas family reunions, and the entertaining which will center around them will make the holiday season a gay one in Southern Pines.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Winkelman, who were away the greater part of the fall, are holding open house this Saturday night in order to see their friends. Sunday night, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Younts will entertain.

"Carols at Weymouth," an annual event usually held on Saturday night before Christmas at the Boys', is being postponed to Sunday night this year as Mrs. James Boyd's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Noel Sokoloff, will not arrive from New York until Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pethick are entertaining on Wednesday after Christmas, and the Voit Gilmores have planned a small party for Thursday, honoring the Sokoloffs.

Miss Patti Gordon-Mann is giving a Christmas dance for around 16 couples from the eighth grade of the local school this Friday night.

Jordan Frassinetti is at home from UNC law school at Chapel Hill and will have as his house guests at New Year's Mr. and Mrs. J. Brooke Gardiner of Chapel Hill. He plans to entertain a group at the Pinehurst Country Club New Year's Eve.

Holiday Tea Dance To Be Held 29th At Pine Needles

One of the most interesting social activities of the holiday season will be a tea dance from 5 p. m. to 8 p. m., on Saturday, December 29, at the Pine Needles Country Club.

There will be music by Dave Brown's orchestra from Raleigh and refreshments will be served. Arrangements are in the hands of Mrs. W. P. Davis, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Dwight W. Winkelman and Mrs. Jules C. Bertrand.

A junior committee is headed by Miss Dorothy Ann Swisher, chairman. The members of this committee are Misses Joan Bertrand, Joanne Goodwin, Alice Pohl and Joan Walsh; also Edmund Buckminster, Harold Collins, Robert Darst, Alec McLeod and William Warner.

Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. D. W. Whitehead at Southern Pines 2-2412 or 2-9731, or members of the committee.

Mrs. Walter Edwards Entertains Her First Grade And Mothers

Mrs. Walter Edwards entertained her first grade with a Christmas party Thursday morning, with mothers of the children as special guests. Red and green were featured in decorations.

Carols were sung and Christmas games played. Gifts were distributed from a lighted tree. Fruit juice, ice cream, cookies and candy were served.

Mrs. Edwards' school will reopen January 4.

Looking Ahead

EASTERN STAR

Magnolia Chapter 26, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold its regular Christmas meeting at 8 o'clock tomorrow (Friday) night. Members are asked to remember to bring their articles for needy families.

INS AND OUTS

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ives, who had been at Paint Hill Farm for a week or 10 days, left this week for Bloomington, Ill., to spend the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hartshorne are spending the holidays with his mother in Connecticut.

Capt. and Mrs. W. J. Ryan and children left Wednesday for Norwalk, Conn., to visit her parents. Capt. Ryan will leave for a tour of duty in Germany on January 13 and his family will remain with Mrs. Ryan's parents.

The David Drexels will have as their holiday guests her parents, Madame de Gripenberg and Ambassador Gripenberg, of Finland. Ambassador Gripenberg is with the United Nations.

In and Out of Town

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Stevick and daughters, Linda and Susan, of Memphis, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ray and son, Andy, of Fayetteville will be Christmas guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. Wade Stevick, arriving Sunday.

Mrs. George Heinisch has been a patient at Moore County Hospital since last Thursday. She is getting along well and expects to come home before Christmas.

Mrs. George C. Graves, Jr., is leaving Sunday for Hickory to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. George C. Graves III and her grandchildren, George IV, Walter and Lee Graves.

Miss Billie Williams of the local high school faculty, who was a patient for about a month at Moore County Hospital where she underwent surgery, has spent the past week convalescing at the home of Mrs. H. W. Allen. She left this morning by plane for Asheville on her way to Bat Cave, where she will spend the holidays with homefolk.

Miss Dorothy Newton came home from Peace College in Raleigh Tuesday to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Newton. Airman 3c Roy Newton, Jr., arrived last Sunday from Kelly Field, San Antonio, Tex., to stay until Christmas Day.

Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Mann will visit relatives in Pennsylvania during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Grey and daughter, Cynthia, are here for the holidays from Greenville where Mr. Grey is studying at East Carolina College, and where, incidentally, he made the honor roll for the fall quarter.

They are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Grey, who will have as additional holiday guests their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Smith, with their children, from Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Brockwell, Jr., and daughter, Sarah Anne, will leave Sunday for Petersburg, Va., to spend the holidays with Mrs. Brockwell's mother, Mrs. Robert Rainey.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Mangum Webb are leaving Saturday to spend Christmas with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Shaw and their two sons, in Chappaqua, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Ruggles enjoyed a short stay at Myrtle Beach during last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Marshall of Yanceyville and Boston and Mr. and Mrs. William Hobby of Washington, D. C., will be weekend guests of Mrs. James Boyd.

B. G. Patterson of UNC, Chapel Hill, and Andy Patterson, a student at Edwards Military Institute, Salem, are spending the holidays with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Moore.

Miss Jacque Davenport came home from Mars Hill College Saturday to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Davenport, Midland Road. Jacque is one of five freshmen elected as attendants to the Queen in the May Court. She is a member of the Chorolettes, girls' touring choir, and last week was elected vice-president of the Baptist Training Union at the college. She has been tapped for the Spanish honor club.

Red Cross Still Accepting Funds For Hungarians

Moore County has met its minimum quota in the recent appeal for funds to aid in Hungarian relief, it has been announced by Mrs. Audrey Kennedy, executive secretary of the Moore County Chapter.

"This does not mean, however, that we have stopped accepting funds," she said. "The quota of $829 was a minimum one and we would hope, particularly in view of the extreme need at this time, to oversubscribe the quota by a substantial sum."

General Alfred M. Gruenther, retired Supreme Allied Commander in Europe and president-elect of the American Red Cross, appeared before television and newsreel cameras Monday with an appeal to American people in support of the Red Cross drive for $5,000,000 for Hungarian relief.

"The tragedy that has befallen the heroic Hungarian nation is a matter of great sadness to liberty-loving people everywhere," he said. "When I left Europe November 21, a widespread campaign was in progress there to help the Hungarians overcome starvation and disease."

"As you know, the American Red Cross is conducting a special disaster appeal to raise 5 million dollars for Hungarian Relief. I am informed that this is the largest international relief project since the end of World War 2. It will provide food and other assistance to more than 200,000 persons in Hungary, as well as tens of thousands of refugees in Austria and the United States."

"I have full confidence that Americans will support this effort to save these courageous people who are paying so dearly because they dared take action to regain their freedom."

Mrs. Kennedy also reminded interested individuals today that the Red Cross here is functioning as a referral and information center for anyone interested in "adopting" a Hungarian refugee.

The chapter office will provide information as to the steps necessary in the adoption and will forward requests to the proper agencies, of which there are nine officially recognized by the American Red Cross.

Individuals interested should provide their name and address, a description of the housing they can offer, together with the number such housing can adequately

Shaw House Tea Room Opens For Season January 1

The Shaw House tea room, quaint restored landmark on South Broad Street, will reopen for the season New Year's Day, with the new manager, Mrs. Joe Miles, in charge.

Several hostesses from the sponsoring Moore County Historical Association will be on hand, and there will be flower arrangements by the Southern Pines Garden Club.

After New Year's the tea room—operated for the benefit of Association projects—will be open for lunch and tea every day, with suppers served by appointment. In addition to the old southern dishes traditionally served there, Mrs. Miles will make a specialty of pizza.

Two Members Of Local Football Team On All-State

Tony Parker and Lynn van Benschoten were named to the official All-State six man football team by the Greensboro Daily News in last Sunday's edition of the paper.

For Parker, who is classed by Coach Irie Leonard as one of the most outstanding players he has ever coached, it was the second year being named to the mythical team. He was named to the center position.

The honor for van Benschoten was particularly pleasing to Leonard since this was the first time the husky back had played in the backfield.

Honorable mention went to Roger Verhoeff, end, Kenneth Creech, back, and Bobby Parker, back.

They join a long list of ex-Blue Knights who have been named to the team since 1948, when Bill Baker and Gary Mattocks received the recognition.

In 1953, David Page and Joe Smith were named, and were followed in 1954 by James Humphrey and Billy Cox.

Humphrey, now at Elon College, is also a two-time winner of the award, repeating in 1955, when the team was dominated by Southern Pines. Others named were Johnny Watkins, Bill Marley and Tony Parker.

accommodate, and the type employment available.

In addition, she said, anyone wishing to send messages to people still in Hungary may secure the proper blanks from the office on South West Broad Street.

Brothers Facing Larceny Charges After Arrest Here

Two brothers from Cabarrus County are in Moore County jail this morning unable to furnish bond after being charged with robbing several unoccupied homes in Moore County last week.

The two are George Washington Isenhour, 36, and Martin Isenhour, 32. They were arrested by Moore officers, together with their wives, and charged with breaking and entering, larceny and receiving. The men are also charged with possession of burglary tools.

Officers said the three had apparently robbed unoccupied homes and made off with anything they could manage to get into their truck. When arrested they were in possession of articles ranging from old letters to bathroom fixtures. Most of the loot has been identified as coming from three old homes in the southwestern section of the county.

The homes, left partially furnished by the present owners, are the old Campbell place near Eagle Springs, owned by Clinton Campbell of Carthage; the Lonnie Blue place near Jackson Springs, owned by Robert Chappell of Candor; and the Daniel P. McKenzie place between Carthage and West End.

ABC Officer John K. Sharpe received the first tip that the brothers were making raids on the old houses. He was told Friday afternoon and immediately started an investigation, joined by other officers. Later in the day he located the truck, piled high with clothing, furnishings, bed-clothes, plumbing fixtures, tools, wire and a wide assortment of other things, near Eagle Springs.

The sheriff's department has made a partial identification of most of the items.

They were given a hearing and placed in jail under $1,000 at first, which was later raised to $1,500. Their wives were released under $200 bonds each.

Sheriff C. J. McDonald has also been informed that the brothers have a record for petty larceny in Cabarrus County and are presently under bond for those charges; Martin, $500 in Davidson County; and George, $500 in Davidson County and $200 in Cabarrus County.

Sanford Youth Is Jailed On Larceny Charges Monday

Everette Ray Needham of Sanford, charged with a variety of offenses of forgery, is in Moore County jail today in default of $2,000 bond.

Needham, 22, was given a hearing in Moore Recorder's Court Monday and bound over to Superior Court after Judge J. Vance Rowe found probable cause on several of the counts.

O. W. Loving of Cameron signed warrants charging four separate acts of forgery by which the youth had obtained a total of $427 from the Vass and Carthage branches of Carolina Bank. He is also under bond to answer charges in Chatham County for obtaining a car under suspicious circumstances and under $500 bond in Lee County after appealing a traffic conviction earlier this week.

Needham was charged with forgery in the following counts: on July 27, as security on a 90-day note for $200 at the Vass bank; on August 28, as co-signer on a 30-day note for $52 at the Vass bank; and on September 28, as security on a 30-day note for $75 at the Carthage bank.

He had been indicted by Loving, well-known farmer in Cameron, for signing the name of his father, J. R. Loving, to the notes.

O. W. Loving and his brother, Carl, said their father, who owns the farm which they manage for him, is 91 years old in ill health and can no longer sign his name.

They said nothing was known to them of any of the notes until word came from the branch banks that payment was not being made. They said they had withheld indication for a while in cooperation with the banks, who were trying to see if they could get their money from Needham, but "when we saw Needham's parents were about to get all tangled in this mess, we felt we should act."

The youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Needham, are tenants on the Loving farm.

Needham was also threatened with another warrant Monday when a Sanford salesman came to Carthage and said the youth had bought a television set a few weeks ago and had made no payments on it.

Don't waste time and money grinding hay for dairy cows, says Marvin E. Senger, Extension dairy specialist at North Carolina State College. Grinding hay does not improve the feeding value of hay. It may have a tendency to lower its value. You definitely cannot improve a grain ration by adding ground hay or other ground roughages to it, he adds.

COLONIAL AD

In the Colonial Stores Advertisement that appears on page 11 the copy should read: "We will be closed all day Tuesday and Wednesday, December 25 and 26," and the price of oranges should be "8 lb. bag, 43 cents." The store will remain open until 8:30 p. m. Friday and Saturday of this week. The changes were made after the page was printed.

Combined HS Glee Clubs Present Annual Concert

The combined junior high and high school glee clubs of Southern Pines and Carthage schools gave a concert at Weaver Auditorium Monday night.

This was the second appearance of this combined group, under the direction of A. Roger Gibbs, choral teacher for the two schools. The combined clubs sang in Carthage Sunday afternoon.

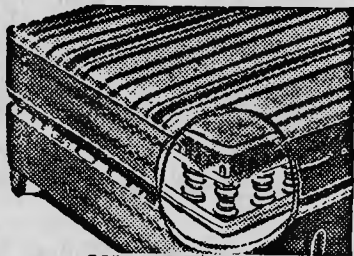

With Mrs. Ina L. Bullock as accompanist, the clubs gave a program of Christmas music, which included several familiar carols. Solos were sung by the Southern Pines trio of Jean Franklin, Katherine Harris and Suzanne Steed. Also, by a sextet from the junior high school including Rosie Chandler, Donna Dawson, Joan Grover, Adrienne Montesanti, Faye Reid and Becky Traylor. In "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem" Marcella Cook, Suzanne Ewing, and Patsy McCree of the junior high sang individual verses. In the carol: "Jesu Bambino" by Petro Yon, the solo part was sung by David Riddle of Carthage.

As a closing number, Mr. Gibbs sang a carol composed by Mrs. Theodore R. Webb of Pinebluff who played his accompaniment. Dr. Wofford C. Timmons, rector of the Church of Wide Fellowship, presided and opened the evening's program with a special Christmas prayer.

In a few introductory words to the audience, the director spoke of his pleasure in conducting the joint clubs. He praised the cooperation of the members of both schools and their faculties, and said he hoped such joining up of singing groups would continue to be part of the programs.
