

IN RECORDER'S COURT

Youth Sentenced To Three Months On Roads For Speeding 100 MPH

Robert Edward Oakley, 18, was given a straight three months road sentence in Recorder's Court Monday on being convicted of speeding 100 miles per hour.

In passing sentence Judge J. Vance Rowe said he was taking into consideration the excellent character references given Oakley by a number of prominent citizens in Cameron, where he lives, and the fact that Oakley was so young.

The youth had been spotted in Carthage by police there December 23 and had been chased a number of miles. A State Highway Patrolman had joined the chase out of town and clocked Oakley at the 100 mile per hour speed. Oakley, it was indicated by testimony, had wrecked his car.

Judge Rowe, who has been sending extremely high speeders to the road recently rather than giving them a fine and suspended sentence, hinted during the proceedings that he was inclined to give Oakley six months. Solicitor W. Lamont Brown, who vigorously prosecuted the case, told the Judge that, considering the excellent character reputation Oakley had been given, a six months fine was, in his opinion, too much.

In another case two young women employed in Lee's Stores in Southern Pines pleaded guilty to having taken several items of merchandise while employed there during the pre-Christmas selling season. When a third woman employee, Mrs. Marnie Furr, of Route 2, Vass, denied guilt, the two rose up and tried to implicate her.

The two young women were Mrs. Georgie M. Curtis, 20, and Mrs. Lois French, 17, both wives of servicemen.

Leroy Lee, owner of the store, said he had decided to inspect cartons December 14 that the women had been unpacking, and putting outside as empty. Lee said the cartons contained merchandise and had been stored in Mrs. French's car.

Mrs. Furr denied taking part in the theft.

Judge Rowe sentenced Mrs. Curtis and Mrs. French to 30 days in jail each, but suspended the sentences for 12 months on payment of a joint fine of $25 and costs, and warned them not to violate the larceny laws during the next 12 months.

Mrs. Furr was adjudged guilty of aiding and abetting and prayer for judgment was continued for her on payment of costs.

Other cases disposed of: Jack Gibson, Jackson Springs, escaping from prison, three months on roads, sentence to begin at expiration of sentence now being served. Defendant appeals to Superior Court, bond fixed at $300.

Herbert Lee Price, Vass, unlawful possession of tax-paid whiskey for sale. Three months on roads, suspended on payment of fine of $50 and costs and not violate prohibition laws during next two years.

Tom Robinson, Southern Pines, driving drunk, $100 and costs, license revoked 12 months.

Mrs. George M. Curtis and Mrs. Lois French, both of Southern Pines, larceny of merchandise from Lee's stores, 30 days in Moore County jail, suspended for 12 months on payment of joint fine of $25 and costs, and on further condition defendants not violate the larceny laws during the next 12 months.

Mrs. Marnie Furr, Route 2, Vass, larceny of merchandise from Lee's store. Guilty of aiding and abetting in committing larceny, prayer for judgment continued for 12 months on payment of costs and not violate larceny laws.

Lester Doby, Route 2, Carthage, selling mortgaged property or otherwise disposing of it. Sixty days on roads, suspended on following conditions: pay the costs, pay a fine of $50, of which the Clerk of Court is to pay $43.69 to prosecuting witness to cover cost of property (tires).
