These, and other interesting facts, were told members of the Southern Pines Rotary Club by Lynn Warren, district manager of field services for 18 counties, including Moore.

Warren, who was actively engaged in disaster relief services during the California floods last year, said that disaster relief was only one of many services provided by the Red Cross, but that it was one of the most important.

Rev. McNeil Gets High Church Posts

The Rev. G. D. McNeil, Jr., pastor of Harrington Chapel Church in Southern Pines, has been elected General Auditor of the United Free Will Baptist Church. The election came at a recent meeting of the General Conference of the denomination held at Waycross, Ga.

Also appointed to the general committee on finance and the committee on revision—which will revise the General Laws and Book of Disciples of the denomination—Rev. McNeil now becomes a member of the General Official Staff and the General Executive Board of the Free Will Baptist Church.

Rev. McNeil, son of the Rev. and Mrs. C. D. McNeil of Dunn, is a graduate of Shaw University,

Raleigh. In addition to his work on the national level with the church, he is serving as secretary of the Cape Fear Conference in North Carolina, vice-president of the Sunday School and Young Peoples' Christian League Convention, vice-president of the Moore County Interracial Minister's Association, and president of the West Southern Pines Civic Club, Inc.

The Rev. and Mrs. McNeil, with their three-year-old son, Ralph Dennis, presently are living at 760 W. Indiana Ave.
