Cameron Club

The year 1956 was a good and a busy year for the Cameron Home Demonstration Club members. Some re-covered their houses, painted outside and inside, knocked out walls and made new rooms. Several had hot water heaters and showers installed. Three members bought new electric sewing machines. Mrs. P. T. Hopkins says it's a pleasure to make cakes with her new electric mixer. Mrs. Walter Holt did a good job of reupholstering a couple of chairs.

On December 12, the club members were saddened by the death of a beloved club member, Ruth Smith. She was one of the eight members when our club was organized. She had been a faithful and loyal member, always ready to do her part well, during the 20 years of our club. She will be missed by all. —By Mrs. W. B. Sellars, publicity chairman.

Cranes Creek Club

The Cranes Creek Home Demonstration Club held its regular monthly meeting in January with Mrs. Redga Thomas as hostess. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Paul L. Thomas. There were 15 members present. The club was very glad to enroll Mrs. Billie Rogers as a new member and to welcome Mrs. Walker as a visitor.

The January meeting is a business meeting with new club books to be filled in, dues to be paid, and the hostesses for the year to be decided. When this was completed, Miss McDonald, the home agent, held an interesting discussion on "Insect Control" for the gardens. She also explained that in preparing for the Spring gardens a correct soil analysis may be very important to the gardener. It will tell which of the fertilizing elements are needed and how much for best yields. In this way, one can tell what needs to be added for a properly balanced fertilizer. Without knowing these facts, one may often do more harm than good by using too much of one or more kinds of fertilizer and not enough of others. Many of the club members were interested in having their soil tested and Miss McDonald distributed cartons in which to send soil samples to be tested. —By Mrs. R. R. Thomas, publicity chairman.

Stanton Hill Club

The Stanton Hill Club had as hostesses for January Mrs. Jesse Maples and Mrs. Emory Brown. The meeting place was in Mrs. Brown's most attractive new home. Several visitors were present. Mrs. Maples, the president, called the meeting to order and conducted the business after which Miss McDonald, our home agent, distributed new year books and taught the lesson.

Strange as it may seem for frozen January, she started us fighting insects in the garden. We were given leaflets picturing and describing the pests as well as directions for controlling them. All of us welcomed this information for our turnips and collards had been practically ruined by insects this winter.

Also the importance of treating our gardens for nematodes was stressed as well as having our garden soils tested. If we follow along with these suggestions we should have more home grown food another year. And, after all, that should be the ultimate goal of all farm families—to live at home. By taking advantage of all the suggestions and help offered to us by our agents, we can let's strive to do this in 1957. —By Mrs. Walter McDonald, publicity chairman.

Bethlehem Club

The Bethlehem Club met this month with Mrs. Archie Seawell with almost 100 per cent attendance. We were happy to welcome a new member, Mrs. Claude Connell. Miss McDonald led the discussion on the plans for the year. Some of the interesting things in store for club members in 1957 are: a music leaders' meeting February 21, an early meeting on gardens and garden pests, lessons on home furnishings, better diets with milk, jelly and preserves and many other things.

During the social hour an interesting game was played and the hostess served delicious refreshments. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Earl Dowd. —By Mrs. Earl Dowd, publicity chairman.

Rainbow Club

The January meeting of the Rainbow Home Demonstration club was with its new president, Mrs. A. C. Bailey, with a good attendance. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Thomas Wolfe and routine business was trans-

Stoneybrook Races

Scheduled Mar. 23

The Stoneybrook Steeplechase, held annually at Mickey Walsh's Stoneybrook Stables, will be held Saturday, March 23, it has been announced by the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association.

The event, which launches the spring hunt racing season in the country, will consist as usual of timber, hurdle and flat races.

The Carolina Cup Meet at Camden, S. C., will follow by one week the Stoneybrook event, and the Deep Run meet in Richmond, Va., will be held April 6 as the third event on the season schedule.

Information on the Stoneybrook Race may be secured from James Hartshorne, resident manager of Highland Pines Inn.

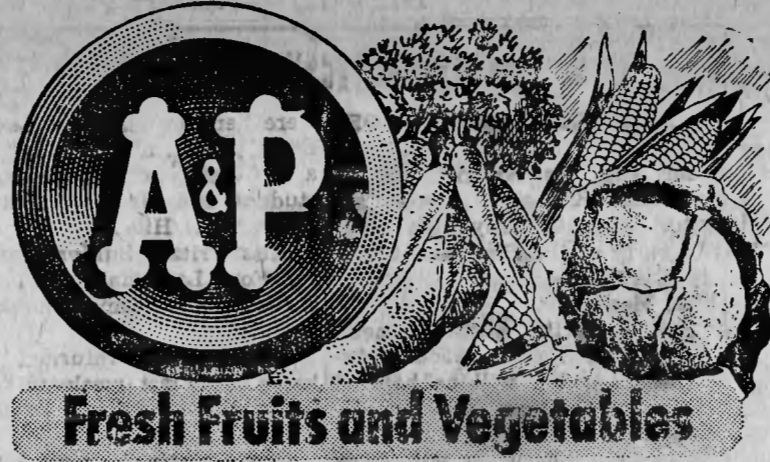

The annual plan of work for the year with its aims and goals was presented by Miss Flora McDonald, home agent. A new member was enrolled.

"Insect Control" was the lesson for the month. Neglect to practice measures for pest control can rob us of time, money and food. A pesticide bulletin is available at both home and farm agent's offices. A word of precaution is stressed in the remarks column of the danger of different compounds on humans and plants. Do not overlook! They are wonderful aids but can prove harmful and even fatal through misuse.

The ladies evidenced enthusiasm in our plan of work. We make mistakes but it is gratifying to see them have belief that we are endowed with possibilities for growth, struggle, triumph and development. Striving to make each day and year better than the one before. Belief that we have opportunities to exercise our talents and skills, that honest work has its reward.

Congratulations were extended Mrs. Thomas Wolfe, whose husband received his BD degree from the Seminary at Wake Forest January 25. The club as a whole is happy that the Rev. Mr. Wolfe has achieved this honor and pray that as he continues in his chosen field, he will reap a bountiful harvest. —By Mrs. A. C. Bailey, publicity chairman.
