Alard String Quartet At Flora Macdonald

The Alard String Quartet, which will appear at Flora Macdonald College Friday evening as the third in the artist's series annually presented there, has earned a reputation as one of America's finest chamber ensembles. The quartet, formed in New York City, recently won a National Federation of Music Clubs award. It is the "artists-in-residence" at the University of Texas and has concertized extensively in the Midwest. Their program at Flora Macdonald, which begins at 8:15, will include Mozart's famous and controversial C Major Quartet, which is noted for its daring use of dissonance, the first quartet of Bela Bartok, and Brahms' great C Minor quartet.
