Mrs. William Lee Feted At Shower Given By Aunts

Mrs. William H. Lee of Crestview Road was honored at a stork shower Tuesday night given by her aunts, Mrs. Alma Gay and Mrs. Sue Ivey. After the gifts had been duly admired, the hostesses served refreshments.

Guests were: Mrs. Howard McNeill, Mrs. Cass King, Mrs. James Hall, Mrs. Estelle Jones, Mrs. Clyde Tew, Mrs. Grady Wright, Mrs. Julian Lane, Mrs. Fred Hall, Mrs. Doris Warren, and Mrs. Howard Allred.

Mrs. Hartshorne Is Honored By Does With Miscellaneous Shower

At the conclusion of the regular meeting of Drove 42 BPO Does on Tuesday night of last week, a surprise shower of miscellaneous household articles was given Mrs. James Hartshorne. A large basket filled with attractive gift packages was brought in and placed before Mrs. Hartshorne, who opened and displayed the many lovely linens and useful gadgets given her to replace the things which she lost in the Highland Pines Inn fire. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Best Come From Canada To Reside Here

New residents of Southern Pines who are this week getting settled in their newly purchased home—the Major Price house on Maples Road—are Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Best, who came from Windsor, Ontario, Canada, where they had resided for 20 years. They have been staying at Braeburn Hall since arriving in the Sandhills.

Mr. Best recently retired from his position as Canadian manager for Standard Products Company of Cleveland Ohio. He and Mrs. Best had been down here twice before, spending about a month here last spring. They liked the place so much that they decided to make it their home, so here they are—an enthusiastic addition to the host of Sandhills boosters.

Miss Alice Baxter Takes Advertising Work In Charlotte

Miss Alice Baxter left Sunday for Charlotte to take a position in the advertising department of Belk Brothers store, where she worked in 1950-51. She has had similar experience at Efrid's and the Deadwyler Advertising Agency, both in Charlotte. She received her commercial art education at the Ringling School of Art in Sarasota, Fla.

For the past year Miss Baxter had been doing art work here in the Training Aids Section at the USAF Air-Ground Operations School, which has now moved to Biloxi, Miss. From May 1953 until March 1956 she was executive secretary for the Southern Pines Chamber of Commerce and was in charge of the branch office of the Carolina Motor Club, issuing automobile license plates here.

Active in the work of the Sandhills Business and Professional Women's Club, she edited a monthly bulletin, The Sandpiper, for the club. Her address is: Apt. 207, 712 Louise Avenue, Charlotte 5.

Sweethearts Ball To Be Held Tonight Sponsored By Beta Club

A "Sweethearts Ball" will be held tonight at the Southern Pines Country Club under sponsorship of the Southern Pines Beta Club chapter.

Decorations will be in the Valentine motif and refreshments will be served. The party is for students of the high school and their dates, and stags.

This is an annual project of the Beta Club to raise funds for scholarships which it offers and other needs.

Officers Wives Hold Farewell Luncheon At Carolina Hotel

Members of the USAFAGOS Officers' Wives Club held a farewell luncheon at the Carolina Hotel in Pinehurst a day last week, attended by 34 members, most of whom were leaving within the week. Mrs. John Corley and Mrs. James Purdy served as hostesses.

DR. ELMENDORF DISCUSSES MEDICAL WORK IN LATIN AMERICA AT CIVIC CLUB

Dr. John E. Elmendorf, Jr., of Midland Road was guest speaker at the February meeting of the Southern Pines Civic Club, held Monday afternoon with the president, Mrs. J. B. Boyle, presiding, and with a number of visitors present to hear the speaker.

Dr. Elmendorf had as his subject "Medicine and the Rockefeller Foundation in Latin America." He gave a vivid word picture of what work for the Rockefeller Foundation in the jungles of Brazil means in research and hardship, tracking the germ of yellow fever in people living or dead and in animals, and making serums with which to fight it. From 1920 to 1952 he visited every country in South America, his work taking him among tribes where epidemics were rampant.

His talk aroused in his hearers a feeling of profound gratitude to all pioneers who risk their lives in working to eradicate dread diseases when they could be practicing in the cities and living in comfort; to the Rockefeller Foundation and its courageous volunteers in the cause of science and humanity.

MISS WILEY DIRECTS FINE DAY OF GOLF AND ENTERTAINMENT FOR TAR HEEL WGA

Sixty players from the 10 clubs which make up the Tar Heel Women's Golf Association competed in a tournament played last Friday at the Pine Needles Club in Southern Pines, and enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Kitty Wiley, of Tot's Toggery, sponsor of the entertainment part of the day's program. The affair proved a great success both for golfing and social standpoints.

Brilliant Hunt Ball And Dinner Hold Top Place On Calendar

Holding top interest on the social calendar for February is the formal Hunt Ball to be held this Saturday night at the Southern Pines Country Club, following the annual Hunter Trials sponsored by the Moore County Hounds.

The traditional Hunt Ball and dinner will begin at 8 o'clock and music will be furnished by Dave Brown's Orchestra from Raleigh. The dining room and ball room will be decorated in the brilliant Moore County Hunt Colors—hunting pink and royal blue.

There will be guests from Central New York State, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Ohio, Virginia, and South Carolina, as well as from the Sandhills section.

Hairdressers Guild Is Planned For Moore County

Representatives of several beauty shops in the county held a meeting at the Agnes-Dorothy Beauty Shop in Southern Pines on Wednesday night of last week for the purpose of forming a local unit of the National and State Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Guild.

Philip Shehan of Phillip's Beauty Salon in Raleigh, membership chairman and vice president of the State Council, was principal speaker, discussing the advantages of the organization. Joe Snotherly of the Sir Walter Raleigh Hotel Beauty Salon in Raleigh, who is second vice president of the state organization, also spoke briefly.

A second meeting was scheduled for Monday, February 18, at which time officers will be elected.

Mrs. Johnson of the Agnes-Dorothy shop served refreshments.

Attending the meeting were: Catherine Blue Edwards and Tecia Graham of the Vass Beauty Shop; Edith Gotch, Juanita Kirby and Margaret Nance of The Vogue, Southern Pines; Helen Johnson and Lillian Parshley, Agnes-Dorothy Shop; Frances Flack and Thelma Locklear, Frantel Beauty Shop, Southern Pines; and Jean Tate, Carolina Hotel Shop, Pinehurst.

Mr. Hartsell was graduated from Pinehurst High School in 1953 and served in the United States Army in Korea and Japan.

CIVIC GARDEN CLUB HAS MR. HALL AS SPEAKER; HONORS MEMBER WITH SHOWER

Thomas Hall, assistant Moore County farm agent, spoke to the Civic Garden Club at its meeting last Thursday afternoon, giving much information on pruning shrubbery, the planting and care of bulbs, landscaping home grounds, and the planting of vegetable gardens. A question and answer period followed, in which members received help on their individual gardening problems.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Frank Hale, club president. Mrs. Hale, who recently enjoyed a Florida vacation, told of the pleasure she derived from visiting the Pahoek Garden Club in Florida, which met outdoors in a beautiful setting of trees and blooming plants.

Miss Helen Butler told of plans for landscaping the Alston House grounds.

Plans are being made for a spring flower show, which will be announced later.

Colorful flower arrangements were on display, with blue and red ribbons attached to those judged to be the best, and these formed a pretty setting for a surprise feature of the meeting—a surprise for one member, that is—which came at the conclusion of the program. Mrs. James Balford and Miss Helen Butler left the room to reappear moments later rolling a wheelbarrow beautifully decorated and filled to overflowing with shower gifts for Mrs. James Hartshorne from club members and other friends.

Local People Attend Friend's Debut At The Metropolitan

Mrs. Arch Coleman of "Skyline" and her daughter, Mrs. Wolfgang Langwiesche of Lakeville, Conn., left Tuesday night for New York City to attend the debut at the Metropolitan Opera on Wednesday night of Mary Curtis Derna, their long-time friend and Mrs. Langwiesche's former roommate in New York. For the past eight years she has been singing in Italy.

Mr. and Mrs. Sitterson Give Family Luncheon

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sitterson of North Ashe Street entertained at luncheon Tuesday honoring their daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. D. Sitterson, Jr., of Fort Bragg and her mother, Mrs. Thomas Hopkins, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., who is a guest of the junior Sittersons at Fort Bragg. Others attending the family luncheon were the Sittersons' daughter, Mrs. Jamie Guin, and little Jimmy, of Greensboro, who are visiting here this week.

Mrs. Chandler And Mrs. Dale Are Club Hostesses

The Past Matrons and Past Patrons Club of Magnolia Chapter 26, OES, was entertained at the home of Mrs. R. L. Chandler, Sr., with Mrs. William Dale as co-hostess Monday night. Mrs. E. L. Finch is president of the club. After a business session, there was a social hour topped off with the serving of an array of delectable refreshments.

Mrs. Jean Edson, Mrs. Roy Grinnell and Mrs. James Pleasants spent last weekend with Mrs. Grinnell's sister, Miss Alimae Temple, at Lake View, S. C. Local friends will be interested to know that Mrs. B. J. Kimbrell of Aberdeen, a patient at Moore County Hospital, is recovering nicely.
