THE PILOT

HELD FOR SUPERIOR COURT

Assault Charges Lodged Against Two After Hearing Last Friday

Two Negro men, Fletcher Freeman, 45, and William Wright, 35, have been bound over to the April term of Superior Court for what one officer described as "the most brutal and senseless assault I've ever seen."

The two are charged with beating up Hubert Michael, who lives between Aberdeen and Pinehurst, last December 16. Freeman, for whom officers had been searching for the past several weeks, was found just last week in Bladen County.

Testimony before Justice of the Peace Charles McLeod, before whom a preliminary hearing was held Friday afternoon, indicated that Michael was in Jackson Hamlet, in company with his 11-year old son, looking for a woman who had been staying with his sick wife. He had driven up to a home there and wanted to know if she had returned from Wagram.

Freeman, he said, cursed him at that point. Later, he testified, he went to the home of Cleveland Patterson to inquire the woman's whereabouts and it was there that the two Negroes jumped him and beat him senseless. Patterson said he saw Freeman kick Michael and also saw Wright hit him in the head with a bottle. Patterson and Michael's son took him to Moore County Hospital where he was confined two weeks.

Freeman was taken into Moore Recorder's Court in February by mistake and, when no warrant could be found, he was turned loose.

Deputy Sheriff A. F. Dees found him in Bladen County and he was returned here February 25.

Both made $500 bond for their appearances in Superior Court.

According to 1955 data, cows producing less than 250 pounds of butterfat per cow per year are not making their owners any money. If you have any producing at this low level, now is a good time to start culling them out.
