Robbins Political Pot Warms; 6 File For Town Board

Speculation continued to mount in Robbins this week as the deadline for candidates to file for municipal office neared. To date only one candidate, G. B. Williams, has filed for mayor. Six have filed for commissioner's seats. According to observers in Robbins, several more plan to file before the deadline, promising a spirited race for the five seats. Wayland Kennedy, incumbent mayor, announced several weeks ago he would not seek re-election. Those filing to date are: John L. Frye, local merchant and railroad cross tie dealer. The only incumbent to file so far, Frye is a native of Robbins and a member of the board for four terms. Johnny Myers, president of the Merchant's Association, who operates a clothing store in Robbins, is a native of Asheboro. Joe Cranford, native of Denton, is an automobile dealer. H. B. Clark, native of Wilmington, is an oil dealer. Charles Barringer, native of Carthage is an employee of Amerotron Corporation. Williams, native of Robbins, is a lumberman and hosiery mill owner. He has been a member of the board for several terms. Highway construction and maintenance costs per mile have more than doubled since 1941.
