Wildlife Club Hears Report From Blue On Proposed State Legislation

Revenue derived from the sale of hunting and fishing licenses supports the State Wildlife Resources Commission, which is dedicated to the conservation and expansion of these great natural resources and enforcement of the protecting laws, Rep. H. Clifton Blue of Aberdeen told members of the Moore County Wildlife club Tuesday night of last week.

In addition, the Commission receives from the U. S. government the federal taxes on sporting goods, in proportion to the number of hunting and fishing licenses sold in the State.

However, in answer to a query, Rep. Blue said that fines paid in connection with court cases involving violation of the game laws go to the county school fund, like any other fines.

The Commission has operated as a separate State agency since 1947, when it was separated from the State Department of Conservation and Development. Working with it, but purely as a volunteer membership organization, without legal powers, is the North Carolina Wildlife Federation, made up of community and county clubs all over the State. As a part of the Federation, the Moore County Wildlife club and others have a channel for expression of their views on pertinent legislation, and other matters affecting the cause they hold dear.

He outlined for them the progress of legislative measures in which they were interested, in the current General Assembly. The controversial "worm bill" has been shelved for the time being, because of opposition from all parts of the State; the bill increasing the costs of hunting and fishing licenses has been passed, and the "doe deer" bill, which has received general endorsement of the local clubs, has not yet come up for discussion.

President T. Clyde Auman of West End presided over the meeting, held at the Jackson Springs Community House. He appointed program chairmen for the next four months, as follows:

DESIGNED FOR SOUTHERN LIVING

"You'll like it even better when you drive it!"

Neighbor: Say, your new Olds sure looks like a lot of car!

Olds Owner: That's nothing, wait'll you take a ride.

(A few minutes later:)

Neighbor: Man-oh-man, where'd all that power come from? I've never felt anything like that before!

Olds Owner: That's Oldsmobile's new J-2 Rocket Engine!

Neighbor: What's that? Tell me how it works.

Olds Owner: When you're driving under ordinary conditions, it uses only one carburetor. That means economy with a capital E. But when you need a sudden burst of power, for safety's sake, you just press the accelerator three-quarters of the way down—and two additional carburetors cut in!

Neighbor: In other words, with J-2, you can have economy when you want it and power when you need it. That's for me!

Olds Owner: Better see your Olds dealer. He's expecting you!
