and, at right, holding the radio control with aerial, his son Henry Thaxton. League members came from Sanford, Durham, Greensboro, Winston-Salem, High Point, Thomasville, Charlotte, and other places throughout the state. Many of them brought their families for the afternoon.

Vass Scouts Are Honored At Recognition Night

Wednesday night's meeting of Boy Scout Troop 810, held at the Vass Community House, could well be termed "recognition night."

Scoutmaster Karl Schweinfurth

presided, and Explorer Leader Henry A. Borst of Vass, District Executive Frank Yandell, and Dr. C. Grier of Pinehurst, Moore County district chairman, were present to take part in the meeting, along with nearly all members of the local committee, a fine group of Scouts and a number of parents and friends.

Mr. Yandell presented registration cards to the boys present, and, after complimenting committee members for their fine work, gave registration cards to A. G. Edwards, Jr., chairman, Cortis Thomas, C. G. Crockett, Jr., V. Ray Griffin, C. L. Tyson, and Horace Mullinix, W. J. Morgan was not present to receive his. Dr. Grier expressed appreciation for the good job being done by Leaders Schweinfurth and Borst, and presented cards to them.

The Vass troop is sponsored by the several churches, with Cortis Thomas as the institutional representative. He accepted from Mr. Yandell the Troop charter for the year, to which was attached a special seal in recognition of the troop's achievements in the four-year "Onward for God and My Country" program.

This achievement merited, also, a laminated plaque from the National organization, which Mr. Yandell presented to Mr. Schweinfurth along with a recognition streamer for having registered on time, and a 100% Boys' Life banner, indicating that each of the boys in the troop is receiving the official magazine.

Scoutmaster Schweinfurth praised the boys for their cooperation and acknowledged the fine response given by committee members and E. L. Finch in the scouting program.

He also presented Dr. Grier, who spoke briefly, stressing the rewards to be derived from service to youth, given without thought of monetary gain.

The Rev. T. Fant Steele, Jr., closed the meeting with prayer.

Both farmers and ginners are required to keep accurate records of purchases and sales of cotton.

Beef cattle prices are expected to remain at present favorable levels throughout the remainder of 1957.
